

Payment at Marshfield Finished.

The last brick on the Marshfield pavement was laid on Tuesday of last week, and the entire pavement was finished during the week. Arrangements are being made to hold a celebration in that city in the near future to properly observe the completion of the work, and it is expected that there will be a big time if everything passes off as expected. The main street at Marshfield is one of the nicest to be found in any city of its size anywhere, as the entire business section is along that thoroughfare, most of the buildings are comparatively new and present a good appearance, but like many another small city they have been handicapped because of the lack of pavement in the city, and the result was that it was impossible to keep the streets looking as neat as they should be to be in keeping with the remainder of the city.

Night School Opens.

The first session of the evening school was held at the high school on Monday and while there was not as large a crowd as was expected, those present were enthusiastic and more will no doubt enroll later. The fact that there were also several counter attractions in the city on that evening also accounts for the small attendance.

The classes this year will be of two hours in length instead of one hour as was the case last year and the school will meet on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, which is one night less a week than has been the custom. The work is in charge of Mr. E. L. Hayward and anyone desiring information can secure it by calling him at his residence or his office in the Witter building.

Reception for Teachers.

A reception for the teachers of Grand Rapids was held at the Witter School on Friday evening under the auspices of the School Committee of the Federation. There was a good attendance and the evening was spent in a most pleasant manner.

A gang of workmen are employed in replanking the wagon bridge. The bridge is closed at night at 11 o'clock and the work done between that time and morning.

"FURS"

Mr. A. F. Davis of Berlin, representing the Truesdell Fur Coat Co., will begin Tuesday, October 5th, making the regular weekly trips to Grand Rapids, stopping at the Hotel Witter.

Mr. Davis takes orders for new fur sets of all kinds, ladies coats, etc., and on the better grade of furs guarantees to sell for less money than you can buy elsewhere.

He will have some very nifty samples to show you this season in Fox, Lynx, Beaver, Mink, Hudson Seal, etc. Be sure and see our Hudson Seal coats before you buy elsewhere. Also remember our repair department. We remodel old coats and furs at a reasonable price so they look practically as good as new.

One of the little secrets in our business is that every year some one has to wait, so see Mr. Davis at Hotel Witter at your earliest convenience. If it is not convenient to call on him there drop him a card or telephone him and he will be glad to call at your home. Remember the day, every Tuesday.

Continuation School Starts.

The first session of the continuation school was held at the Lincoln building on Monday evening, and there were about fifty in attendance. It is not expected that this is any criterion of what will attend later in the season, as everybody understood that there would be no practical work this first night, and many that attend last year, and intend to go again this season, were not out. Last year the attendance was something over 400, and it is expected that there will be nearly as many this year.

Sherman Kelly Big Hit.

The Sherman Kelly Stock Co. opened Monday night to a packed house and over two hundred were in and every one in the big house was more than pleased. The continuation school play was the only party will remain all week and to-night will offer that big, classy, production of "Girls," with all special scenery and new novel vaudeville between acts. The Blue Mouse will be featured this week.

PITTSVILLE CATTLE DIE

FROM NEW DISEASE

George Brown, local veterinarian, has been called out twice of late to treat a disease in cattle that previously had escaped his attention. The first symptoms were telephoned in from the Dan Kilday farm, west of here. George went out to see about it. He found several of the sufferers dead and others fast gone. Monday he was called out into Clark county on the same errand. Here he also found dead stock and more suffering. This was on the big Dixon farm, in Dewhurst. The symptoms are a swelling at the throat, much the same as diphtheria in humans, with much the same rapid effect. So far, young stock is all that has been found affected—yearlings and down. So quickly does the disease take hold that a critter dies before morning in many instances. Mr. Brown has been able to check the swelling where it has not already gotten a death grip on the animal, and on both farms has been able to save the sick animals and prevent others from too severe an attack.—Pittsville Record.

And Why Not?

Appleton Post.—"It won't be long before automobiles will be let out for hire at lively barns the same as horses and buggies now," declared Oscar Kaulz, Iveyman. "In fact, there is a certain of my customers now who take my Ford instead of horse and buggy. They have learned to drive the machine and prefer it to a horse. I predict that before the next five years elapse liverymen will be letting out automobiles instead of horses and buggies, being careful, of course, to see that the drivers know how to handle the machines and that they are responsible persons."

Goddard-Jackson

Miss Nellie Goddard of Black River Falls and Mr. Geo. F. Jackson, who is employed on a bridge west of the city, were married on Sunday at the Methodist Parsonage, the ceremony being performed by Rev. H. C. Logan. They were accompanied by C. S. Gilbert of Black River Falls. Mr. and Mrs. Jackson will make their home in Grand Rapids.

GRAND RAPIDS ENDS IN THIRD POSITION

The baseball season ended last Sunday when Grand Rapids played the final game with Stevens Point and lost to the neighboring city by a score of 3 to 2, it taking ten innings to settle the argument.

The score was 2 to 2 at the end of the ninth inning, but Stevens Point off the game. Kammer did the twirling for the Pointers and the locals got only four hits off from him. Foster pitched for the locals and while he put up a good game from start to finish, the up-river boys got seven hits from him. Stevens Point was credited with two earned runs and struck out four men while Foster whiffed five of them.

The teams ended the season with the following per centages and it will be seen that had Grand Rapids won Sunday's game we would have been tied with Wausau for second place:

Team	W	L	Pct
Marshfield	13	5	.723
Wausau	9	9	.500
Grand Rapids	8	10	.445
Stevens Point	6	12	.333

One thing that was demonstrated by the past season was that a baseball team can be maintained in Grand Rapids and take in money enough to pay its way provided an entire team of salaried players is not engaged. The people of Wausau did not patronize the game to enough extent to make it pay, but the other cities did fairly well.

Will Admit Women.

After October 1st of this year women will be admitted to membership in the Catholic Knights of Wisconsin, according to instructions received by the local branch. At this year's convention the question was discussed by the delegates in attendance and was finally left to the state officers for settlement. Their decision was favorable to the change, which becomes effective on the date noted above.

VENISON CANNOT BE SERVED

AT HOTELS OR CLUBS.

One change that has been made in the new law has been the prohibition of the legislature to prohibit the serving of venison at hotels and clubs. In fact it is unlawful to serve game birds or venison or trout at a hotel, restaurant, club or camp.

It has been unlawful to sell game for a number of years past, but it is the law rather than the exception this fall and winter in Grand Rapids. A "dress up" campaign will be waged by the leading clothiers of the city, and increasing prosperity and pride will contribute to the success of the affair.

The "dress up" campaign is the outgrowth of the belief that we could "dress the part." Dressing has become the financial leader of the world. In addition to the great crops that promise wealth to the farmer, he is financing the world in its active fighting or defensive plans. Backers of the present "dress up" campaign assert that the men of Grand Rapids should uphold the appearance of the city by looking the part, by donning the costume of prosperity.

CITIES TO JOIN TO EQUALIZE FREIGHTS

G. D. Fritzsche of this city and J. E. Bryan of Port Edwards were at Wausau on Thursday to attend a meeting of the delegates from the various cities in the Wisconsin River Valley, which was for the purpose of the rate question as it concerns interior Wisconsin points.

A motion was introduced by G. D. Jones as follows: "It is the sense of this meeting that it is advisable to unite with other organizations in this state that are seeking to obtain a readjustment of freight rates for interior points in Wisconsin."

The resolution was passed unanimously. Arrangements were made for mass meetings in the various cities interested, and at these mass meetings delegates will be appointed to attend a central meeting.

Relieving the present situation of the rate question as it concerns interior Wisconsin points, A. E. Solie, traffic manager of the Central Wisconsin traffic bureau said, "The interior cities of Wisconsin have been given no advantage of the lake ports, and as far as we are concerned, Lakes Michigan might never have existed. Our cities shipping outside of lumber, coal and similar commodities, average 86 more than those of Minneapolis from the Atlantic seaboard. Owing to the greater distance of the twin cities from the east and the gateway of the great lakes, Wausau and other Wisconsin valley points are paying $27 more per car than they should pay."

"The cost of shipping from New York to Mississippi river points, although twice the distance, is approximately that of shipping from Detroit to interior Wisconsin points."

Mr. Solie called attention to the efforts of Rockford and Freeport to secure rates in harmony with those of the Mississippi river towns. The rates from the Atlantic seaboard to Lake Michigan points, the latter being known as the gateway, are what are known as 100 per cent tariffs. The tariffs to the Mississippi river valley towns on the Illinois boundary line, are 117 per cent. Rockford was successful in securing a rate of 112 per cent and Freeport one of 114. At the hearing for these per centage rates for Illinois cities, the railroads objected, stating that it was their intention to keep the rates of the Illinois cities in harmony with those in southern Wisconsin.

LOCAL LADY APPOINTED ON NATIONAL COMMITTEE

Mrs. F. MacKinnon of this city has been appointed a member of the National Committee of the Women's Section of the Navy League of the United States to organize the local work of that body in arousing the women of the United States to the necessity in the present days of stress and peril to work for the ends of Patriotism and National Defense. She will lack in conjunction with a body of over a thousand of the most prominent women in every section of the United States, numbering among them Mrs. William Cumming Story, President General of the D. A. R., Mrs. Daisy McLaurin Stevens, President General of the Daughters of the Confederacy, Mrs. George Dewey, Miss Anna Thomas, Mrs. John A. Edson, Mrs. Phoebe A. Herst, Mrs. Alexander Van Rensselaer, Mrs. Geo. Lauder Carnegie, Miss Grace M. Pierce, Registrar, D. A. R., Mrs. August P. Gardner, Mrs. Medill McCormick, Mrs. Ralph Beaver Strassburger, Mrs. George Harvey, Miss Julia Marlow and a host of others.

The Women's Section of the Navy League is the first and only woman's organization in this country working for the cause of patriotism and National Defense. It was organized by a number of patriotic women in Washington, whose husbands were members of the Navy League and they thought that were ought to have some part in the National Defense movement exclusively their own. The Section's call to the women of America to rally to the cause of patriotism instantly struck a responsive keynote in the hearts and imaginations of the patriotic women all over the country, and the Section has spread like wild-fire. Letters have been received from prominent women all over the country, enthusiastically endorsing the League, and memberships have been pouring in at the rate of several thousand a day. At present, although the work has been in progress only a little more than two weeks, the Section has over ten thousand members already and enthusiasm runs high. "It is time that the woman of this country freed themselves from the stigma of standing for peace at any price, lack of preparedness and national cowardice, and rallied to the standard of patriotism and Americanism, as did their mothers' and grandmothers in 1776 and 1812," says a typical letter from Miss Grace M. Pierce, Registrar of the D. A. R. "American women of today are like the women of every other country, the fountain-head of patriotism, true courage and true Nationalism. The spirit of Dolly Madison, Martha Washington and Nancy Hanks still lives in the land. When the test comes American women will tell their husbands and sons to go to serve their country and come back with their shields or on their backs as bravely and cheerfully as did the Spartan women ages ago. I am with the new woman's movement for patriotism and National Defense heart and soul, and think that such a movement should have been started long ago."

GRAND RAPIDS MEN

WILL DRESS WELL

A WEEK TO BE DEVOTED TO AN EXPOSITION OF ALL THAT A MAN WEAR

Well dressed men are likely to be the rule rather than the exception this fall and winter in Grand Rapids. A "dress up" campaign will be waged by the leading clothiers of the city, and increasing prosperity and pride will contribute to the success of the affair.

The "dress up" campaign is the outgrowth of the belief that we could "dress the part." Dressing has become the financial leader of the world. In addition to the great crops that promise wealth to the farmer, he is financing the world in its active fighting or defensive plans. Backers of the present "dress up" campaign assert that the men of Grand Rapids should uphold the appearance of the city by looking the part, by donning the costume of prosperity.

Fall and winter styles are reflecting this idea. Men's apparel is colorful, graceful and mannish. Generally speaking hard straight lines are being avoided. There is not the slightest hint of effeminacy in the graceful curves of neckties, coats or hats to be worn this season. Both show the breadth of shoulder that properly belongs to a man's garment.

Neckwear, influenced somewhat by the European conflict, runs to neat designs of subdued tones. Small flowered designs seem to find the greatest favor. There are great ranges of color, but all combinations are made with the idea of neatness in mind rather than the more startling novelties.

Many novelties, however, will appear in men's wear this fall as every manufacturer is keeping busy to put something new on the market each season.

It is safe to say that all the merchandise will be found with stocks of all the latest and best in men's wearing apparel from hats to shoes, and it is a well known fact that Grand Rapids merchants always place a most reasonable price on the articles they have to sell.

Local clothier who are participating in this "Dress Up Week" are Abel & Podawiltz Co., Kruger & Turbin Co., and Brauer Bros. Clothes Shop.

The "Dress up Week" has been featured all over the United States and the local merchants have insisted that the people of Grand Rapids be given the same opportunity as those of other large cities.

Catches Hugo Brook Trout.

Emil Weiss of State Line, brother of former Congressman Charles Weiss, last week caught what is believed to be the largest speckled brook trout caught in the United States this year, and one of the largest ever taken with a hook and line.

The fish, which was caught in the Ontonagon river, near Watersmeet, weighed 4 1/2 pounds, and measured 21 inches in length and 19 inches in girth. Mr. Weiss has several trophies and their affidavits, together with his own, which are being sent to Chicago, where the fish is being stuffed and mounted by a taxidermist. Rainbow trout have been caught heavier and longer, but so far, it is reported, this is the largest speckled trout caught this year. Trout of from two to three pounds in weight are frequently caught in the Ontonagon river, where it is considered the best trout stream in this section of the country.

Pay, Well I Guess

Let no one think that a good band in a town has no commercial value. Last week the windup concert of the season was given in Waupaca, and there were in town that night on the streets 168 automobiles. That also means that in some of the people means that there were dollars left in the city that night. Last spring the citizens of Waupaca raised a fund of four hundred dollars to pay for a band for the summer, and long before the season was over they considered that they had received their money back with interest. They say nothing of the pleasure the band concerts have given the people of that city and surrounding community. It is said that the people went as far as twenty-five miles to hear these concerts.—Shawano County Journal.

Former Band Leader Here.

Prof. F. L. Bliss of Merrill arrived in the city on Monday to spend a few days visiting with friends and also to help the boys during the job on Grand Rapids day. It was evident to all that the professor had lost none of his former ability in handling an instrument, and this music that the boys produced under Mr. Bliss was first class in every respect. There were plenty of men in line and they were on duty the entire day, and never failed to attract a good audience wherever they stopped.

It was hoped at one time that Mr. Bliss could be induced to return to this city and take charge of the band and help the citizens of Merrill become aware of the fact that there was somebody else after him. They got busy up there and made it an object to him to remain in that city.

Magazines.

The following magazines are on file in the reading room of the Public Library.

All but the current numbers are for circulation.

American, American City, American Cookery, Atlantic Monthly, Bookman, Century, Collier, Craftsman, Dial, Forum, Good Housekeeping, Harpers Monthly, Independent, Ladies Home Journal, McClures, Modern Priscilla, North American Review, Outlook, Popular Mechanics, Popular Science Monthly, Review of Reviews, Saturday Evening Post, Scribner, Scientific American, Scientific American Supplement, and World's Work.

In the children's room will be found American Boy, Popular Mechanics, St. Nicholas, Youths Companion.

New School Accepted.

The new Edison school was accepted by the Commissioners last week, and the contractors will receive what has been retained by the board. There was some trouble over the matter earlier in the season, but this was subsequently settled. The building is considered to be as modern and up-to-date as any to be found.

CIRCUIT COURT OPENS UP

ON MONDAY, OCTOBER 4.

Circuit court will convene in this city on Monday, October 4th, and it looks as if the usual time might be consumed in disposing of the calendar, which is quite lengthy. There are only four criminal cases on the list, they being as follows:

State of Wisconsin vs. J. W. Cundy, Ambulance.

State of Wisconsin vs. Elwood Pinnegan, bastardy.

State of Wisconsin vs. Charles McLaughlin, burglary.

There is a long list of cases under issues of the jury as well as issues of fact for the court, and unless a good many cases are settled out of court or put over to a future time, it will mean a long term of court.

GRAND RAPIDS DAY A GREAT SUCCESS

Notwithstanding the fact that this section of the country has been visited with an unusual amount of cold and cloudy weather during the past summer and fall, and the fact that the weather man put as much of a damper on the affair as was possible by predicting rain on Tuesday, Old Sol overcame all handicaps and came out in all his glory before noon, and the result was that Tuesday was all that could be reasonably expected of a day at this time of the year.

There is no question but what the attendance of farmers was smaller than it should have been considering all the facts in the case; but this was to a certain extent due to the fact that there are many in this vicinity who have never had a whole lot of work to do on the farm and the getting of this work means a living to them, and many of them hardly felt justified in leaving the work for another day while they came to town and made merry.

Of course they could not be blamed for this, as nice days have been at a premium for several weeks past, and the potato in the cellar at this time of the year is better than two in the field, if the weather is not so that they can be harvested.

However, notwithstanding all of the adverse circumstances, there was a goodly band in toward noon, and those who had agreed to be on hand to give the visitors a ride were there with their cars, and the result was that there was quite a procession of automobiles filled with smiling faces that made a trip about the city and out in the country for short distances.

The city band, under the leadership of Prof. Bliss, turned out at 11 o'clock in the morning and lived thing up by marching about the city and playing lively selections in various places. Most of the people who heard the band play remarked that this feature alone was worth the money expended, even if there was nothing more doing during the day. Probably the most popular place in the city during the afternoon was Daly's Theatre, the Ideal Theatre and the Palace. At Daly's the Sherman Kelly Co. had a continuous vaudeville performance during the afternoon, while at the Ideal there was moving pictures and vaudeville acts, and at the Palace there was a moving picture program run all afternoon. These play houses were filled during the entire afternoon, and a part of the time there were crowds standing outside waiting to get in.

One feature of the day that attracted more than passing attention was the exhibit at the Amusement Hall made by the manufacturers of Grand Rapids. Among these were the following:

Consolidated Water Power & Paper Co., showing a roll of their print paper containing more than five miles of paper, and samples of the various ingredients entering into its manufacture.

The Prentiss-Waters Company, an exhibit of their kitchenettes and appliances for campers.

The Grand Rapids Milling Co., samples of their flour, feed and various things that are turned out by their plant.

Joe Sawyer had a fine exhibit of cigars made at his factory.

McKercher & Roseler, an exhibit of various brands of feed manufactured at their plant.

The Grand Rapids Brewing Co. did themselves proud in their exhibit, having taken considerable pains to put it up in an attractive manner, showing the various brands of beer and soft drinks turned out at this plant.

Geo. F. Kreiger had a display of the various tools made by him, also one of his ice machines. This exhibit probably showed the greatest expenditure of labor of any in the building and appeared strongly to the person of a mechanical turn of mind.

The Carey Concrete Co. had a number of their concrete blocks, bricks and other work in concrete as well as a re-inforced concrete gutter that company recently commenced to manufacture.

The Grand Rapids Foundry showed the various styles of Coal and Wood Chutes which are manufactured at their plant.

The Hart Heating Company had on display one of their heating plants as well as various water coolers and drinking fountains they make.

The Ellis Lumber company, an assortment of sash and doors as well as other wood products turned out by that plant.

The MacKinnon Manufacturing Company, had one of their wagons on display as well as the various materials that enter into the manufacture of their wagons.

The Adawagum Furniture Co. had a number of pieces of fine furniture finished in Circassian walnut, making a handsome display that would be calculated to set any housewife crazy.

The G. J. Kaudy plant had a number of the new Wipermann patent tables on display, which are handled exclusively by J. R. Ragan in the city. These tables were appreciated by the ladies who have wrestled with one of the old fashioned dining room tables during the past 25 years.

The Badger Box & Lumber company had a good display of sash and doors, as well as other wood products made at their plant.

The Reland Packing Company had a showing of various kinds of meats, sausages, etc., and judging from the manner in which their samples were snapped up they were generally appreciated.

Taken together, the display was a most creditable one and well worth the time necessary to inspect it.

The band played a concert in the Amusement Hall during the afternoon, a feature that was appreciated by all, and a large number of the city people attended this part of the affair.

A number of guessing contests and similar amusements were pulled off during the day, and after supper the fire run was given, which was quite an attractive feature. There was also a free dance at the Amusement hall in the evening, at which there was a large attendance of the young people, as well as some of the older ones.

Some of the farmers thought that there must be a string tied to the affair somewhere, and that the citizens of Grand Rapids had something up their sleeve, and that the farmer might be able to get in for nothing, but that it would cost him something to get out. Some of them did not come on this account, and others who did come in a bad mood, or they were looking for the nigger in the forest.

However, those who were here were universal in expressing themselves as being well pleased with the manner in which they were entertained, and hadn't a word to say against the plan. They also pretty generally expressed the idea that it is one of the kind you pulled off again that there would be a much larger crowd in, and that there was no question but what those that had been here on this occasion would do all they could to advertise the next event.

There is little question but what the same thing will be tried again in the future, and it is a fact that the event felt that they had been well paid for their efforts and for the money expended.

Death of Charles Smith.

Charles Smith, one of the old settlers of this section, died at his home on the east side on Tuesday morning after an illness extending over two years, death being due to dropsy and heart trouble. Mr. Smith had been quite sick, but it was not supposed that the end was near, and he passed away quietly while his family supposed that he was asleep that morning.

Deceased was a native of Germany where he was born 58 years ago. He came to this country with his family when a lad of 7 years, making his home in Milwaukee until he reached manhood, when he came to Wood county, and since resided in this vicinity. For a number of years he conducted a saloon in the town of Grand Rapids, but for a number of years before he was taken sick was in the employ of the Grand Rapids Brewing company.

Mr. Smith was of a genial disposition and was well liked by all who knew him. He had a host of friends in this community who will sympathize with the family in their hour of sorrow.

He is survived by his wife and eight children, they being Mrs. Wm. Witte of Kenosha, Mrs. H. F. Gatlke, Miss Ida Smith, Frank, Charles, Arthur and William of this city, and George of Port Arthur, Ontario.

The funeral will be held on Friday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from the home and at 2 o'clock from the First Methodist church. Rev. C. A. Mellicke to conduct the services.

New Barbershop Rules.

The state board of health in their effort to promote sanitation and prevent as much as possible against the spread of disease, have added to the rules governing barbershops the following:

Every barber shall see that no person expectorates on the floors or walls of his shop.

The use of stores, saloons or other places of business as a barbershop is prohibited, unless the barbershop is located in a room or rooms provided especially for that purpose. The provisions of this rule shall not apply in cases where the barber has no established barbershop in the town.

No barber or other person in charge of any barbershop shall undertake to treat any disease of the skin.

No barber shall permit any person to use the head rest of any barber's chair without his control unless the head rest is covered with a towel being used, or by a clean newspaper.

Recall Mayor Defeated.

At the last mayoral election in Antigo, I. D. Steffen was elected mayor by a majority of 37. A few weeks ago the necessary legal machinery was put into motion and Mayor Steffen was re-called. Mr. Steffen at once announced that he would be a candidate for a second term in the special election, following a hot campaign, took place last Tuesday and Fred C. Calhoun was elected over Steffen by a majority of 305.

Death of a Tomah Resident.

Jesse Boorman, one of the old residents of the city of Tomah, died on Sunday after an illness of some length. Deceased was the father of Mr. C. A. Boorman of this city and was known to a number of our people, having visited his son here on various occasions. He was 85 years old, and was one of the first settlers in Monroe county, having gone there about 60 years ago. He had been married for 54 years. He is survived by his wife and one child.

Some Fine Apples.

P. H. Likke of Pleasant Hill was in the city on Tuesday to attend the Grand Rapids day picnic, and he improved the opportunity to bring us in a few of the fine apples that he raised on his place this year. They were of the Wolf River and Wealthy varieties, and certainly look fine. Mr. Likke exhibited some of his apples at the Marshfield fair where he took a prize, and also had an exhibit at the Milwaukee state fair.

Will Winter at Sanitarium.

Kirk Muir left last week for Green Bay and will winter the sanitarium near that city to spend the winter. Mr. Muir has been spending the past summer at the club house, where he has been getting along fairly well, although he has had a few bad spells. Kirk's many friends will be glad to hear of an improvement during the coming winter.

Lighting Plant Nearly Finished.

The new electric lighting plant at Neokosa has been about completed and will soon be in operation. When the new lighting plant is in operation the entire village will be supplied with light and power, there having been only a partial service heretofore. Joe Staub of this city has installed the plant and it is said to be first class in every respect.

Man Was Not Guilty.

Frank Shannock was arrested on Saturday charged with having attempted to commit an assault on the person of a six year old girl. After an examination the man was allowed to go his way, charged with a capital offense nothing to the story at all.

Mrs. Fred Dahl is visiting with her son, Rev. John McGilley.

Dress Up Week

Commencing Saturday, October 2nd, and Ending Saturday Night, October 9th.

Seven days of the greatest showing of Men's and Young Men's Wearing Apparel for Fall and Winter ever held in this part of the state. Our stocks are now complete, styles are prettier than ever—we ask you to choose from our wonderful stock of fine clothes—you can pick from the worlds leading manufacturers at Abel & Podawiltz Co's. store—you can find any style or pattern you crave for. Select your suit or overcoat early, be "Dressed Up" from our first showing.

Dress Up Men and Young Men

in one of our New Fall Suits or Overcoats. From our large stock you are sure to find just what you want.

Men's Suits
at $10.00, $15.00, $18, $20, $25, and $30.

Men's Overcoats
$8.50, $10, $12.50, $15, $18, $20, $22, $25.

Ask to see our $15 Blue Serge Special

Dress Up Men and Young Men

in one of our New Fall Suits or Overcoats. From our large stock you are sure to find just what you want.

Men's Suits
at $10.00, $15.00, $18, $20, $25, and $30.

Men's Overcoats
$8.50, $10, $12.50, $15, $18, $20, $22, $25.

Ask to see our $15 Blue Serge Special

Dress Up Men and Young Men

in one of our New Fall Suits or Overcoats. From our large stock you are sure to find just what you want.

Men's Suits
at $10.00, $15.00, $18, $20, $25, and $30.

Men's Overcoats
$8.50, $10, $12.50, $15, $18,

FARMER'S WIFE TOO ILL TO WORK

A Weak, Nervous Sufferer Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Kasota, Minn.—"I am glad to say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done more for me than anything else, and I had the best physician here. I was so weak and nervous that I could not do my work and suffered with pains low down in my right side for a year or more. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and now I feel like a different person. I believe there is nothing like Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for weak women and young girls, and I would be glad if I could influence anyone to try the medicine, for I know it will do all and much more than it is claimed to do."—Mrs. CLARA FRANKS, R. F. D. No. 1, Maplecrest Farm, Kasota, Minn.

Women who suffer from these distressing ills peculiar to their sex should be convinced of the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health by the many genuine and truthful testimonials we are constantly publishing in the newspapers.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham, Medicine Co., (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

BLACK LEG
Loses Sufferer Prevented
Cure's Bleeding Pills. Lower, fresh, healthy, preferred to other remedies. Where other remedies failed, this one succeeded. It is a true cure for all cases of Black Leg, and is the only one that will cure it.
The superiority of this remedy is proven by the fact that it has cured thousands of cases of Black Leg, and is the only
one that will cure it.

VIOLINS IN BANK VAULTS

Maker Says 20 Instruments Will Be Worth $5,000 Each in Future.

In the vaults of the Mercantile Trust and Deposit company, where thousands of dollars' worth of securities and other valuables have been packed for safe keeping, twenty more violins of all descriptions have been packed carefully away by their owner in the hope that some day they will make him independently rich, a Baltimore dispatch to the Philadelphia Record states.

The owner is Frank Della Torre of 1629 North Calvert street, prominent in society. The instruments do not represent much value now, but 20 years hence the owner says, there isn't an instrument among them that will bring less than $4,000 or $5,000.

Della Torre now is in England. About eight months ago he was called to Europe on business, and has been there ever since. But for months before he sailed he occupied his time in collecting all kinds of violins and making them. In this sort of work he is remarkably skillful. But it is the old violin that produces the tone which appeals to the trained ear of the musician and commands high prices. Twenty years hence, it is believed, violins of Della Torre will be classed with the best instruments to be found in America.

Bird Protection in East Indies.
Dr. W. T. Hornaday, well known for his activity in behalf of wild-life protection in America, communicates to Science the gratifying news that measures have been taken by the Dutch authorities to prevent the extermination of birds of paradise in the Dutch East Indies. Shooting is now limited to three species, except in certain areas where the shooting of any bird of paradise is prohibited.

Result of Operation.
Author—My characters were all taken from life.
Critics—That explains why they're dead ones.

When two men fight over a woman neither wins.

Sympathy seldom heals the wounds of the under dog.

Makes Rapid Headway

Kidney disease often advances so rapidly that many a person is finally stricken before aware of its progress. Prompt attention should be given the slightest symptoms of kidney disorder. It is a dull pain in the back, headache, dizzy spells or a tired, worn-out feeling, or if the kidney secretions are offensive, irregular and attended by pain. Use Doan's Kidney Pills at once. No other kidney medicine is so well-recommended.

A Michigan Case

Alex. Pepler, blacksmith, Welch St., Grand Rapids, Mich., says: "I was a wreck from kidney trouble and rheumatic pains. I couldn't move without help and I could hardly endure the pain in my back. I had little control over the kidney secretions, and I had awful dizzy spells. I tried Doan's Kidney Pills and I have never felt better."

The Wretchedness of Constipation

Can quickly be overcome by CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS. Purely vegetable—act surely and gently on the liver. Cure Bilelessness, Headache, Dizziness, Indigestion. They do their duty. SMALL PILL. SMALL DOSE. SMALL PRICE. Genuine must bear Signature.

W. N. U., MILWAUKEE, NO. 39-1915.

A Chance Investment

By
Walter Joseph Delaney

(Copyright, 1915, by W. G. Chapman.)

"I do not wish you to become alarmed or change your plans," wrote the father of Eleanor Gwynne to his only daughter, two thousand miles away from home. "I tell you of the possible trouble in my business only because you might hear of it through other sources. I may be able to weather through. If not, it means our living on a more moderate scale, that is all. You still have the income from your mother's estate, so we cannot exactly starve."

"Poor, dear papa! and always thinking of my comfort and happiness!" mused Eleanor with some agitation. "Of course I shall not remain here—with him alone with his trouble. No, there is a stage Monday and it will see me homeward bound."

How different this, her second visit from the first she had made to the pine-laden breezes and exquisite solitude of an Arizona health resort! The year previous at exactly this same season of the year she and her father had spent three weeks together at this romantic spot. Only then everything was prospering, there were no cares of business to annoy Eleanor folded the letter, when she noticed some additional lines, comprising a postscript, on the reverse side of the sheet.

"By the way," it ran, "it is a forlorn hope, but I mention it—that scamp, Warren Brill! I don't know if you remember him, but he is that likely looking young fellow who acted as our guide for a time. I never told you, but I was so taken with his manliness and energy that I was induced by him to trust him with five thousand dollars to buy a mine. He asked a year in which to develop it and make us both rich. I have never heard from him since, but a few months ago I wrote to some people at Croft Pass about him. They could tell me nothing about Brill, but said that the mine he purchased, or pretended to purchase, was abandoned because it was flooded and absolutely worthless. It is a vain quest, I imagine, but you might make some inquiries and let me know the result."

She recalled having her picture taken the year before in this very district by a traveling photographer. Was this one pranked from the same negative? Lost in anger, half-guessing the truth, she started up as a stalwart form crossed the threshold. It was "that scamp," Warren Brill!

He greeted her with manifest repression and respect. She wondered if Fate was in all this, as he told of witnessing the robbery, of recovering the booty from the squaw.

"I found this on the ground," he explained, and he handed Eleanor with the handbag the letter she had received from her father the day previous. There was a queer twinkle in his eye. She flushed deeply.

"It is just a year lacking three days since your father loaned me the money to purchase the old mine, Miss Wynne," he said. "It turned out a heartless swindle, but my defeat urged me up to new efforts to make amends to my generous backer. I struck a new rich prospect. See," and he exhibited receipts from the branch mint for over fifty thousand dollars.

He saw her, too, every day after that during her stay. Then, the last evening but one, he told his love.

"Dear papa," spoke Eleanor, home-returned a week later, after their greetings were over, "you asked me to find 'that scamp,' Warren Brill, for you."

"Yes, Eleanor."

"Well, I have brought him with me to explain all about his terrible duplicity!"

And Eleanor went into the hallway and beckoned to Warren Brill, and led into the presence of her amazed sire her future husband.

All the Day's Work.

In a town of Maryland one Bill Morton appeared before the postmaster one morning and the following colloquy occurred:

"Morning, Mr. Postmaster."

"Morning, Bill."

"Has Tom Moore been in for his mail yet?"

"No."

"Will you be here when he comes?"

"Guess so."

"Well, when he comes in will you tell him that on his way from the cheese factory I wish he'd stop and get that pig of Herman Stutz's and take it down to Henry Parker's, and tell Henry I said he could have it if he'll fix that bridge and throw in them russet lines instead of the old black ones; and if he won't trade, tell Tom to bring the pig down to my place and put it in the extra pen, and be sure and shut that door to the hen house, or all the chickens will go out. Sure there ain't no mail? Morning, Mr. Postmaster."

"Morning, Bill."

He Didn't Know.

"Well, how are you today?" asked the doctor.

"I don't feel a bit better, doctor," said the patient.

"Did you take the medicine as I directed?"

"What medicine?"

"Why, that prescription I gave you yesterday. Didn't you get it filled?"

"Yes. I thought it was a receipt for the two dollars."

In the Trenches.

At the beginning of the war two spinners enlisted, and last March saw them both in the trenches.

The first day one seemed to settle down wonderfully, considering it was his first taste of warfare.

The officer commanding noticed this, and remarked to a corporal who happened to know him:

"I like the way that chap settles down to it!"

"Oh," replied the corporal, "if you knew that chap's messus you would perhaps realize how he appreciates a quiet day amongst the shells!"—London Tri-Bits.

skinned woman darted directly in front of her.

The stranger, a half-breed squaw was slowly, half-intoxicated and vicious looking. Her eyes glowed as she made out the small netted handbag suspended from the belt that Eleanor wore. She thrust out her hand, seized it and tore it loose. Eleanor put out a detaining hand, for the bag contained some money and valuable jewelry.

The squaw produced a keen blade and showed her teeth. Then she quickly uncoiled a stout lariat from her waist. Eleanor read her purpose, to bind her hand and foot and leave her helpless while she fled safely with her spoils.

Eleanor sought to defend herself. She stooped suddenly, seized a heavy stick lying in the path, swung it around and swept her opponent off her feet. With an angry snarl the squaw regained her feet, but Eleanor fled precipitately. She fancied she heard a masculine voice shouting out after her, but she feared an accomplice of the squaw and terror lent keenness to her actions.

Eleanor deviated from the gully, seeking shelter in rushing up a side path. At the top she paused breathless. A view of the spot where she had been robbed was now shut out from her view. Eleanor made out a cabin, its door open. She rushed through the aperture and sank to a chair in a rudely furnished room, nearly at the point of fainting.

Her eyes opened wide as, wandering about the room, they fell upon a picture on a stand. It was her own. Near to it was a tiny vase and in this, as if replaced fresh every morning was a mountain daisy, her favorite flower.

She recalled having her picture taken the year before in this very district by a traveling photographer. Was this one pranked from the same negative? Lost in anger, half-guessing the truth, she started up as a stalwart form crossed the threshold. It was "that scamp," Warren Brill!

He greeted her with manifest repression and respect. She wondered if Fate was in all this, as he told of witnessing the robbery, of recovering the booty from the squaw.

"I found this on the ground," he explained, and he handed Eleanor with the handbag the letter she had received from her father the day previous. There was a queer twinkle in his eye. She flushed deeply.

"It is just a year lacking three days since your father loaned me the money to purchase the old mine, Miss Wynne," he said. "It turned out a heartless swindle, but my defeat urged me up to new efforts to make amends to my generous backer. I struck a new rich prospect. See," and he exhibited receipts from the branch mint for over fifty thousand dollars.

He saw her, too, every day after that during her stay. Then, the last evening but one, he told his love.

"Dear papa," spoke Eleanor, home-returned a week later, after their greetings were over, "you asked me to find 'that scamp,' Warren Brill, for you."

"Yes, Eleanor."

"Well, I have brought him with me to explain all about his terrible duplicity!"

And Eleanor went into the hallway and beckoned to Warren Brill, and led into the presence of her amazed sire her future husband.

All the Day's Work.

In a town of Maryland one Bill Morton appeared before the postmaster one morning and the following colloquy occurred:

"Morning, Mr. Postmaster."

"Morning, Bill."

"Has Tom Moore been in for his mail yet?"

"No."

"Will you be here when he comes?"

"Guess so."

"Well, when he comes in will you tell him that on his way from the cheese factory I wish he'd stop and get that pig of Herman Stutz's and take it down to Henry Parker's, and tell Henry I said he could have it if he'll fix that bridge and throw in them russet lines instead of the old black ones; and if he won't trade, tell Tom to bring the pig down to my place and put it in the extra pen, and be sure and shut that door to the hen house, or all the chickens will go out. Sure there ain't no mail? Morning, Mr. Postmaster."

"Morning, Bill."

He Didn't Know.

"Well, how are you today?" asked the doctor.

"I don't feel a bit better, doctor," said the patient.

"Did you take the medicine as I directed?"

"What medicine?"

"Why, that prescription I gave you yesterday. Didn't you get it filled?"

"Yes. I thought it was a receipt for the two dollars."

In the Trenches.

At the beginning of the war two spinners enlisted, and last March saw them both in the trenches.

The first day one seemed to settle down wonderfully, considering it was his first taste of warfare.

The officer commanding noticed this, and remarked to a corporal who happened to know him:

"I like the way that chap settles down to it!"

"Oh," replied the corporal, "if you knew that chap's messus you would perhaps realize how he appreciates a quiet day amongst the shells!"—London Tri-Bits.

Volume of Inch of Rain.

An inch of rain coming down on a single acre of ground would fill more than 600 barrels of 45 gallons capacity each. This amount of water would weigh more than 110 tons, or nearly a quarter of a million pounds.

LACY EVENING FROCKS

ARE ESPECIALLY SUITABLE FOR THE YOUNG GIRL.

Dainty and Graceful Design Shown Here That Would Make Up Well in Material of Ivory White Chantilly.

The sketch shows a graceful design made up in ivory white Chantilly with pearly purple velvet for the high collar and very tiny circular tunic which is in reality no more than a peplum. In black it runs longer, being about seven inches deep, but the front is not more than four. The skirt, carried up to a point in front, meets the point of the V-shaped decolletage and there is a flatterly applied bowknot at this point, in narrow silver ribbon, its fluttering ends tickled in place up over the bust. The blouse is lined with flesh-colored meline, and a frill of this is arranged to extend over the neck of the dress. The tiny sleeves are cut in one with the blouse and gathered closely about the arm, then trimmed with applied silver ribbon bows.

The full flounce of the underskirt is mounted to a net top which is veiled by the graceful tunic. This tunic itself must have a yoke of net running down the center of the bodice, and a frill of this is arranged to extend over the neck of the dress. The tiny sleeves are cut in one with the blouse and gathered closely about the arm, then trimmed with applied silver ribbon bows.

The sketch shows a graceful design made up in ivory white Chantilly with pearly purple velvet for the high collar and very tiny circular tunic which is in reality no more than a peplum. In black it runs longer, being about seven inches deep, but the front is not more than four. The skirt, carried up to a point in front, meets the point of the V-shaped decolletage and there is a flatterly applied bowknot at this point, in narrow silver ribbon, its fluttering ends tickled in place up over the bust. The blouse is lined with flesh-colored meline, and a frill of this is arranged to extend over the neck of the dress. The tiny sleeves are cut in one with the blouse and gathered closely about the arm, then trimmed with applied silver ribbon bows.

The sketch shows a graceful design made up in ivory white Chantilly with pearly purple velvet for the high collar and very tiny circular tunic which is in reality no more than a peplum. In black it runs longer, being about seven inches deep, but the front is not more than four. The skirt, carried up to a point in front, meets the point of the V-shaped decolletage and there is a flatterly applied bowknot at this point, in narrow silver ribbon, its fluttering ends tickled in place up over the bust. The blouse is lined with flesh-colored meline, and a frill of this is arranged to extend over the neck of the dress. The tiny sleeves are cut in one with the blouse and gathered closely about the arm, then trimmed with applied silver ribbon bows.

The sketch shows a graceful design made up in ivory white Chantilly with pearly purple velvet for the high collar and very tiny circular tunic which is in reality no more than a peplum. In black it runs longer, being about seven inches deep, but the front is not more than four. The skirt, carried up to a point in front, meets the point of the V-shaped decolletage and there is a flatterly applied bowknot at this point, in narrow silver ribbon, its fluttering ends tickled in place up over the bust. The blouse is lined with flesh-colored meline, and a frill of this is arranged to extend over the neck of the dress. The tiny sleeves are cut in one with the blouse and gathered closely about the arm, then trimmed with applied silver ribbon bows.

The sketch shows a graceful design made up in ivory white Chantilly with pearly purple velvet for the high collar and very tiny circular tunic which is in reality no more than a peplum. In black it runs longer, being about seven inches deep, but the front is not more than four. The skirt, carried up to a point in front, meets the point of the V-shaped decolletage and there is a flatterly applied bowknot at this point, in narrow silver ribbon, its fluttering ends tickled in place up over the bust. The blouse is lined with flesh-colored meline, and a frill of this is arranged to extend over the neck of the dress. The tiny sleeves are cut in one with the blouse and gathered closely about the arm, then trimmed with applied silver ribbon bows.

The sketch shows a graceful design made up in ivory white Chantilly with pearly purple velvet for the high collar and very tiny circular tunic which is in reality no more than a peplum. In black it runs longer, being about seven inches deep, but the front is not more than four. The skirt, carried up to a point in front, meets the point of the V-shaped decolletage and there is a flatterly applied bowknot at this point, in narrow silver ribbon, its fluttering ends tickled in place up over the bust. The blouse is lined with flesh-colored meline, and a frill of this is arranged to extend over the neck of the dress. The tiny sleeves are cut in one with the blouse and gathered closely about the arm, then trimmed with applied silver ribbon bows.

The sketch shows a graceful design made up in ivory white Chantilly with pearly purple velvet for the high collar and very tiny circular tunic which is in reality no more than a peplum. In black it runs longer, being about seven inches deep, but the front is not more than four. The skirt, carried up to a point in front, meets the point of the V-shaped decolletage and there is a flatterly applied bowknot at this point, in narrow silver ribbon, its fluttering ends tickled in place up over the bust. The blouse is lined with flesh-colored meline, and a frill of this is arranged to extend over the neck of the dress. The tiny sleeves are cut in one with the blouse and gathered closely about the arm, then trimmed with applied silver ribbon bows.

The sketch shows a graceful design made up in ivory white Chantilly with pearly purple velvet for the high collar and very tiny circular tunic which is in reality no more than a peplum. In black it runs longer, being about seven inches deep, but the front is not more than four. The skirt, carried up to a point in front, meets the point of the V-shaped decolletage and there is a flatterly applied bowknot at this point, in narrow silver ribbon, its fluttering ends tickled in place up over the bust. The blouse is lined with flesh-colored meline, and a frill of this is arranged to extend over the neck of the dress. The tiny sleeves are cut in one with the blouse and gathered closely about the arm, then trimmed with applied silver ribbon bows.

The sketch shows a graceful design made up in ivory white Chantilly with pearly purple velvet for the high collar and very tiny circular tunic which is in reality no more than a peplum. In black it runs longer, being about seven inches deep, but the front is not more than four. The skirt, carried up to a point in front, meets the point of the V-shaped decolletage and there is a flatterly applied bowknot at this point, in narrow silver ribbon, its fluttering ends tickled in place up over the bust. The blouse is lined with flesh-colored meline, and a frill of this is arranged to extend over the neck of the dress. The tiny sleeves are cut in one with the blouse and gathered closely about the arm, then trimmed with applied silver ribbon bows.

The sketch shows a graceful design made up in ivory white Chantilly with pearly purple velvet for the high collar and very tiny circular tunic which is in reality no more than a peplum. In black it runs longer, being about seven inches deep, but the front is not more than four. The skirt, carried up to a point in front, meets the point of the V-shaped decolletage and there is a flatterly applied bowknot at this point, in narrow silver ribbon, its fluttering ends tickled in place up over the bust. The blouse is lined with flesh-colored meline, and a frill of this is arranged to extend over the neck of the dress. The tiny sleeves are cut in one with the blouse and gathered closely about the arm, then trimmed with applied silver ribbon bows.

The sketch shows a graceful design made up in ivory white Chantilly with pearly purple velvet for the high collar and very tiny circular tunic which is in reality no more than a peplum. In black it runs longer, being about seven inches deep, but the front is not more than four. The skirt, carried up to a point in front, meets the point of the V-shaped decolletage and there is a flatterly applied bowknot at this point, in narrow silver ribbon, its fluttering ends tickled in place up over the bust. The blouse is lined with flesh-colored meline, and a frill of this is arranged to extend over the neck of the dress. The tiny sleeves are cut in one with the blouse and gathered closely about the arm, then trimmed with applied silver ribbon bows.

The sketch shows a graceful design made up in ivory white Chantilly with pearly purple velvet for the high collar and very tiny circular tunic which is in reality no more than a peplum. In black it runs longer, being about seven inches deep, but the front is not more than four. The skirt, carried up to a point in front, meets the point of the V-shaped decolletage and there is a flatterly applied bowknot at this point, in narrow silver ribbon, its fluttering ends tickled in place up over the bust. The blouse is lined with flesh-colored meline, and a frill of this is arranged to extend over the neck of the dress. The tiny sleeves are cut in one with the blouse and gathered closely about the arm, then trimmed with applied silver ribbon bows.

The sketch shows a graceful design made up in ivory white Chantilly with pearly purple velvet for the high collar and very tiny circular tunic which is in reality no more than a peplum. In black it runs longer, being about seven inches deep, but the front is not more than four. The skirt, carried up to a point in front, meets the point of the V-shaped decolletage and there is a flatterly applied bowknot at this point, in narrow silver ribbon, its fluttering ends tickled in place up over the bust. The blouse is lined with flesh-colored meline, and a frill of this is arranged to extend over the neck of the dress. The tiny sleeves are cut in one with the blouse and gathered closely about the arm, then trimmed with applied silver ribbon bows.

The sketch shows a graceful design made up in ivory white Chantilly with pearly purple velvet for the high collar and very tiny circular tunic which is in reality no more than a peplum. In black it runs longer, being about seven inches deep, but the front is not more than four. The skirt, carried up to a point in front, meets the point of the V-shaped decolletage and there is a flatterly applied bowknot at this point, in narrow silver ribbon, its fluttering ends tickled in place up over the bust. The blouse is lined with flesh-colored meline, and a frill of this is arranged to extend over the neck of the dress. The tiny sleeves are cut in one with the blouse and gathered closely about the arm, then trimmed with applied silver ribbon bows.

The sketch shows a graceful design made up in ivory white Chantilly with pearly purple velvet for the high collar and very tiny circular tunic which is in reality no more than a peplum. In black it runs longer, being about seven inches deep, but the front is not more than four. The skirt, carried up to a point in front, meets the point of the V-shaped decolletage and there is a flatterly applied bowknot at this point, in narrow silver ribbon, its fluttering ends tickled in place up over the bust. The blouse is lined with flesh-colored meline, and a frill of this is arranged to extend over the neck of the dress. The tiny sleeves are cut in one with the blouse and gathered closely about the arm, then trimmed with applied silver ribbon bows.

The sketch shows a graceful design made up in ivory white Chantilly with pearly purple velvet for the high collar and very tiny circular tunic which is in reality no more than a peplum. In black it runs longer, being about seven inches deep, but the front is not more than four. The skirt, carried up to a point in front, meets the point of the V-shaped decolletage and there is a flatterly applied bowknot at this point, in narrow silver ribbon, its fluttering ends tickled in place up over the bust. The blouse is lined with flesh-colored meline, and a frill of this is arranged to extend over the neck of the dress. The tiny sleeves are cut in one with the blouse and gathered closely about the arm, then trimmed with applied silver ribbon bows.

The sketch shows a graceful design made up in ivory white Chantilly with pearly purple velvet for the high collar and very tiny circular tunic which is in reality no more than a peplum. In black it runs longer, being about seven inches deep, but the front is not more than four. The skirt, carried up to a point in front, meets the point of the V-shaped decolletage and there is a flatterly applied bowknot at this point, in narrow silver ribbon, its fluttering ends tickled in place up over the bust. The blouse is lined with flesh-colored meline, and a frill of this is arranged to extend over the neck of the dress. The tiny sleeves are cut in one with the blouse and gathered closely about the arm, then trimmed with applied silver ribbon bows.

The sketch shows a graceful design made up in ivory white Chantilly with pearly purple velvet for the high collar and very tiny circular tunic which is in reality no more than a peplum. In black it runs longer, being about seven inches deep, but the front is not more than four. The skirt, carried up to a point in front, meets the point of the V-shaped decolletage and there is a flatterly applied bowknot at this point, in narrow silver ribbon, its fluttering ends tickled in place up over the bust. The blouse is lined with flesh-colored meline, and a frill of this is arranged to extend over the neck of the dress. The tiny sleeves are cut in one with the blouse and gathered closely about the arm, then trimmed with applied silver ribbon bows.

The sketch shows a graceful design made up in ivory white Chantilly with pearly purple velvet for the high collar and very tiny circular tunic which is in reality no more than a peplum. In black it runs longer, being about seven inches deep, but the front is not more than four. The skirt, carried up to a point in front, meets the point of the V-shaped decolletage and there is a flatterly applied bowknot at this point, in narrow silver ribbon, its fluttering ends tickled in place up over the bust. The blouse is lined with flesh-colored meline, and a frill of this is arranged to extend over the neck of the dress. The tiny sleeves are cut in one with the blouse and gathered closely about the arm, then trimmed with applied silver ribbon bows.

The sketch shows a graceful design made up in ivory white Chantilly with pearly purple velvet for the high collar and very tiny circular tunic which is in reality no more than a peplum. In black it runs longer, being about seven inches deep, but the front is not more than four. The skirt, carried up to a point in front, meets the point of the V-shaped decolletage and there is a flatterly applied bowknot at this point, in narrow silver ribbon, its fluttering ends tickled in place up over the bust. The blouse is lined with flesh-colored meline, and a frill of this is arranged to extend over the neck of the dress. The tiny sleeves are cut in one with the blouse and gathered closely about the arm, then trimmed with applied silver ribbon bows.

The sketch shows a graceful design made up in ivory white Chantilly with pearly purple velvet for the high collar and very tiny circular tunic which is in reality no more than a peplum. In black it runs longer, being about seven inches deep, but the front is not more than four. The skirt, carried up to a point in front, meets the point of the V-shaped decolletage and there is a flatterly applied bowknot at this point, in narrow silver ribbon, its fluttering ends tickled in place up over the bust. The blouse is lined with flesh-colored meline, and a frill of this is arranged to extend over the neck of the dress. The tiny sleeves are cut in one with the blouse and gathered closely about the arm, then trimmed with applied silver ribbon bows.

The sketch shows a graceful design made up in ivory white Chantilly with pearly purple velvet for the high collar and very tiny circular tunic which is in reality no more than a peplum. In black it runs longer, being about seven inches deep, but the front is not more than four. The skirt, carried up to a point in front, meets the point of the V-shaped decolletage and there is a flatterly applied bowknot at this point, in narrow silver ribbon, its fluttering ends tickled in place up over the bust. The blouse is lined with flesh-colored meline, and a frill of this is arranged to extend over the neck of the dress. The tiny sleeves are cut in one with the blouse and gathered closely about the arm, then trimmed with applied silver ribbon bows.

The sketch shows a graceful design made up in ivory white Chantilly with pearly purple velvet for the high collar and very tiny circular tunic which is in reality no more than a peplum. In black it runs longer, being about seven inches deep, but the front is not more than four. The skirt, carried up to a point in front, meets the point of the V-shaped decolletage and there is a flatterly applied bowknot at this point, in narrow silver ribbon, its fluttering ends tickled in place up over the bust. The blouse is lined with flesh-colored meline, and a frill of this is arranged to extend over the neck of the dress. The tiny sleeves are cut in one with the blouse and gathered closely about the arm, then trimmed with applied silver ribbon bows.

The sketch shows a graceful design made up in ivory white Chantilly with pearly purple velvet for the high collar and very tiny circular tunic which is in reality no more than a peplum. In black it runs longer, being about seven inches deep, but the front is not more than four. The skirt, carried up to a point in front, meets the point of the V-shaped decolletage and there is a flatterly applied bowknot at this point, in narrow silver ribbon, its fluttering ends tickled in place up over the bust. The blouse is lined with flesh-colored meline, and a frill of this is arranged to extend over the neck of the dress. The tiny sleeves are cut in one with the blouse and gathered closely about the arm, then trimmed with applied silver ribbon bows.

The sketch shows a graceful design made up in ivory white Chantilly with pearly purple velvet for the high collar and very tiny circular tunic which is in reality no more than a peplum. In black it runs longer, being about seven inches deep, but the front is not more than four. The skirt, carried up to a point in front, meets the point of the V-shaped decolletage and there is a flatterly applied bowknot at this point, in narrow silver ribbon, its fluttering ends tickled in place up

THE CHRISTIAN

A Superb Love Story in 8 Parts

DALY'S THEATRE, MONDAY & TUESDAY, OCT. 4 & 5

Prices 15 and 25c

Follow the Crowds to Wittenberg's Novelty Store

Save one-half on all Millinery and Merchandise, why pay big prices, when you can get the latest styles and fashions in Fall Millinery for about one-half what others ask. We have just received a large assortment of up-to-date styles. We trim hats to suit you. You can get a good hat here from $1.50 down—why pay more?

Large variety Japanese Baskets, all sizes.....	10c	O. N. T. Crochet Cotton, white at.....	10c
All You can Carry Tablets.....	5c	Thin Blown Tumblers.....	5c
I Am It Tablet.....	5c	Large assortment Ladies Handkerchiefs.....	5c to 25c
Ladies Hosiery.....	10c	Enamel Coffee Pots, special.....	7c
Mens Hosiery.....	10c	Chair Seats, 2 for.....	5c
Ladies 50c Corset Covers.....	33c	Small White Aprons.....	7c
Ladies 50c Drawers.....	33c	Unbreakable Character Dolls.....	25c
Ladies White Petticoats 50c values for.....	23c	Large Variety of Notions.....	5c & 10
Darning Cotton, black and white 2 for.....	5c	Large assortment of Hardware at.....	5c and 10c
R. M. C. Crochet Cotton, white at.....	10c	All Canned Goods.....	6c

Wittenberg's Novelty Store

Near Witter Hotel

Grand Rapids, Wis.

Made to Order Suits and Overcoats

IN GRAND RAPIDS, WIS. for $16.50 and $18.00 at the Peoples Tailoring Co., west end of bridge. Ask to see our blue serges. It will be worth your while.

MATTHEWS TAILOR

ENJOY INDIAN SUMMER IN CALIFORNIA

Visit the fairs at the choicest season of the year. These are the "Hollywood Days" of the Pacific Coast—the mildest and most charming of all seasons. The summer guests have just gone and the vanguard of winter visitors will soon be arriving. The trip there and back, including both fares, can be made for small cost. Every day until November 30th low fare excursion tickets will be on sale.

Two superb, steel-equipped trains of perfect service—"THE PACIFIC LIMITED" and "THE SAN FRANCISCO LIMITED" of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul's direct route to California are at your command. They make the trip in record time and there is no extra fare charge.

Return via the Pacific North Coast and over the "Milwaukee" on either "THE OLYMPIAN" or "THE COLUMBIAN" through a land of rare mountain wonders.

The local agent of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway will gladly supply you with literature and full information, or you can write for same to Geo. B. Haynes, General Passenger Agent, Chicago.

WANT COLUMN

WANTED:—To borrow $1,500 on Grand Rapids, close in, improved residence property. First mortgage. Address 654 Tribune, no commission. 6 per cent interest. 21*

FOR RENT:—Suite of modern offices over Daly's Drug Store.

DAIRYMEN, ATTENTION!—15 good switch cows for sale. I haven't enough stable room for them over winter so must sell. They are grade Guernsey and some grade Holstein cows. Also a 3 year old registered Guernsey bull. You can have them for cash or 6 months time. A. E. Fallon, 4 miles north of Grand Rapids, R. D. 2. On James Case farm. 2*

FOR SALE:—A bunch of 27 A1 grade, Chester White, 5 weeks old pigs. Idylwild Farm R. 7.

SALESMEN:—How much do you earn? We offer you an opportunity to earn $100 to $500 monthly. We teach you how; no capital required. Sell Groceries, Paints, Oils, and Stock. Foods at wholesale prices. Get your share of the profits of the big crops. Write us for particulars. John Sexton & Co., Wholesale Grocers, Lake & Franklin Streets, Chicago.

FOR SALE:—Base Viol. Fine imported instrument, going at a very low price. See Charles Matthews at the Peoples Tailoring Co. 1f.

HOUSE FOR SALE:—With two lots wood shed, barn. Property laid out in first class shape and will be sold at a rare bargain, inquire of Chas. F. Keip, 10th Ave. North or at Griesbach & Keip blacksmith shop.

LOST:—Beagle Hound, black and tan with white feet, tan ears, name Gay-boy. Call Sld Brooks, Nekosoa.

FOR SALE:—Several good, young farm horses. Also one driver, B. G. Egert.

FOR SALE:—Large home on Washington Ave. at a bargain. Owner leaving city. See F. G. Gilkey, Agt.

FOR SALE:—Ohio Silo filler with 40 foot carrier. Good condition. See cheap. Chas. Klevens, R. 5. 31*

FOR RENT:—Desirable office room for rent. Inquire at the Wood County National Bank.

FOR SALE:—Six high grade Holstein cows and four heifers, coming 2 years with calf, 3 high grade Holstein bulls from four to six months old. Henry Weber, Vesper Wis. R. 1. Two miles southeast of Seneca Corners. 45*

MARKET REPORT.

Hens.....	10
Beef.....	4 1/2 @ 5 1/2
Spring Chickens.....	10-12
Hay, Timothy.....	10
Potatoes white.....	25
Triumphs.....	35
Pork, dressed.....	8 1/2 @ 9
Eye.....	88
Oats.....	32
Butter.....	22-23
Egg Flour.....	5.50
Patent Flour.....	6.10
Eggs, fresh.....	12
Feed.....	10-11
Rides.....	12 @ 13

Alumni Fails to Score.

Every year when the football season opens it is customary for the high school team to play a game with a team made up of the alumni. This serves two purposes. It gives the new team a chance to bump up against some veterans who are supposed to be familiar with all the fine points of the game, and also gives them a practice game, and they generally need practice. Then it also serves to show the youngsters that they are not such a bunch of prize winners as they had been thinking all along. The alumni generally romps home with several touch downs, and generally leave the mangled remains of the rising generation strewn all over the landscape up in the neighborhood of the school grounds, and have a good time in general. Well, they played that first game last Friday afternoon, and instead of it being a footrace, with the alumni first to the goal, the high school team held their own with the past masters, and the alumni did not score at all. This would indicate the here is some pretty good material in the new team.

Chickens Should be Protected.

The prairie chicken season is practically ended, and everyone of the old hunters in this city will agree that there is a great scarcity of birds this year, and they will also agree that unless something is done to protect them that it will be only a few years before the prairie hen is practically extinct in this section of the state. Every year the number of hunters increases, while the territory of the wild game decreases, and the result is that the time must come when there will be no more game left. Some people blame the decrease in the game to the outside hunters who come in in considerable number and camp for several days or a week right on the hunting grounds and spend all their time scouring the country in that section, the result being that the party that took the cigars, but denied the other thefts.

Woman Serving Ten Days.

Mrs. Victoria Malinski was arrested on Friday on a charge of larceny and upon her pleading guilty to the charge she was sentenced to serve ten days in the county jail. The complaining witness was D. J. Hayes, proprietor of the Hotel Julien. Mrs. Malinski having acted in the capacity of chambermaid in that hostelry for some time past. It seems that numerous things have been missed at the hotel of late, the last being of some cigars and cigarettes, which were found in the possession of Mrs. Malinski. She admitted being the party that took the cigars, but denied the other thefts.

Fined for Assault.

Henry Smith was fined the sum of $9.73 in Judge Pominville's court on Monday for having struck Adolph Marfaska. The two men had been in a saloon together, and while there some blows had been exchanged.

A Business Opportunity.

If you haven't a business of your own we would suggest that you read the advertisement of the First National Bank.

CITY POINT

A party of chicken hunters from Wausau and Marshfield were in town on Sunday and took home 24 birds. D. E. Meddaugh was a business caller at Grand Rapids Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Riesinger and babe of Hixton, and Mr. and Mrs. Chris Riesinger of Pray were callers here Sunday.

Joe Hanniko left for Grand Rapids on Monday.

Miss Theo Danielson visited at New London over Sunday.

Ben Franson and Joe Jacobson left for Montana last Thursday.

Mrs. F. N. Nelson went to Royalton Saturday to meet her husband.

Ray and Mrs. Chas. Jansen held services at Pray Sunday.

Miss Grace Hancock and Gertrude Nelson drove to Pray Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Cleveland and Miss Alma Paulson of Pray were in town Sunday.

Miss Elma Austin visited in Pray over Sunday.

Mrs. George Schroeder left for Elk River, Minn., Saturday to join her husband who is employed there.

Largest Barn in Central Wisconsin.

Supervisor D. J. Harney, of Marshfield will start this week in erecting one of the largest barns in this section of the state on his farm in the town of Cameron. The building will be 28x128, with 18 ft. post and full basement, modernly equipped throughout. Joining the barn will be a 20x68 shed addition.

RUDOLPH

A delightful community social was held in the Moravian church basement Tuesday evening. An impromptu program was held in which many of those present took part. Stories were told by Mr. John Granger and Mr. A. J. Kujawa. Verna and George Denniston sang a duet, "Sleepy Popples." Mrs. J. A. Jackson sang a delightful solo and Emil Jacobson recited, "A Yankee's neighbors." Farmers' Creek. A male quartet consisting of Messrs. C. H. Imig, M. D. Johnston, J. Hanson and Rev. H. B. Johnson sang several selections and songs and hymns were sung by everybody. Coffee, sandwiches, pickles and cake were served by the Ladies Aid Society. Messrs. Emil and Will Piltz were the Geo. Scott farm which Mr. Trickle has been caring for. It is too hard to take cars of the farms alone so Mr. Bates will take charge of the stock.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Rayome were tendered a farewell party in Krobach Hall on Saturday night and all present report a fine time.

Mr. and Mrs. George Morgan are the proud parents of a new baby girl born Sunday morning, Sept. 26th.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Rayome have moved to your city and will make their home with the latter's mother, Mrs. Hilz.

Nick Ratelle spent Saturday with old friends in Mosinee.

Mrs. McCormick departed on Saturday for her home in Chicago after a visit with her sister Mrs. O. Akey.

John Wegers has moved his family into the rooms vacated by J. J. Rayome.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Baughman are rejoicing over the arrival of a baby girl.

The Catholic school is closed on account of one of the sisters having the small-pox.

Edna Haunschild visited from Tuesday until Sunday at the Emil Haunschild home.

John Bates has rented his farm to his son Ase, of Rothschild, who has taken possession. John will move to your city.

Mr. Fred Piltz has returned from a couple of weeks visit with his sister, Mrs. Karnatz, in Milwaukee.

Mrs. N. G. Ratelle entertained the West side ladies aid on Thursday and $3.00 was taken in.

The ladies of the East side Aid will give a chicken chowder at Krobach hall Thursday, October 14th, beginning at 5:30 o'clock. It will cost 25c per plate for adults and after the supper card playing will be indulged in at 10c cents a player.

Married people make-up a quarrel because they have to.

(Too late for last week.)

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Clark visited from Thursday until Monday with the John Akey family at Merrill. Mr. Clark was a Grand Rapids visitor Tuesday.

Mrs. O. Akey visited from Saturday evening until Monday evening with her sister, Mrs. Grashorn in Junction City.

Mrs. Eva Dellush and Miss Minnie Maroon spent Wednesday in Grand Rapids visiting their cousin.

Paul Clark was a Grand Rapids visitor Tuesday.

W. J. Clark took his daughters, Miss Pearl and Mrs. Arthur Rockwood up to Junction City in his auto on Tuesday evening where they took the train to Ladysmith. They expect to visit there two weeks.

Mrs. Geo. W. Baker, Sr. and Grandson, Donald Baker of your city, spent Sunday and Monday at the N. G. Ratelle home.

Eleanor Neerman, who's home is near Marshfield, but is attending the Training school in your city and staying with Mrs. Baker, visited at the N. G. Ratelle home on Sunday and Monday.

MORE TROUBLE ON BRIDGE

The village officials of Nekosoa have been notified by Atty. Geo. L. Williams of this city that he represents certain parties at Nekosoa who are not satisfied with matters pertaining to the construction of the new bridge, and that an injunction would be served upon the State Treasurer, to prevent the state from paying its share toward the construction of the bridge.

It appears that the only way to avoid trouble is to start at the beginning again and hold another election and go thru all the usual preliminaries such as done in the first place. Some of the people at Nekosoa are disgruntled because the bridge is not located exactly where they want it, and these are causing the trouble in the matter.

$250.00 in Cash Prizes

Enter your produce in the competition for the $250.00 in cash prizes to be given away given away during Farmers' Week at Johnson & Hill Co.'s store, October 12-13-14-15 and 16th.

WEATHER FORECAST

Generally fair and moderately cool weather will prevail through the greater part of the week.

IN OUR GROCERY DEPARTMENT

Is where you save

TIME, TROUBLE AND MONEY

—A few good ones for Thursday, Friday, Saturday, Monday and Tuesday, September 30th, to October 5th.

Look at these Fruit Jar Prices.

Mason Jar Pints, per doz.....	30c
Mason Jar Quarts, per doz.....	44c
Mason Jar 2 quarts, per doz.....	50c
Mason Jar covers, per doz.....	14c
Mason Jar Rubbers, 10c grade.....	7c
4 pks. Right Kind Corn Flakes.....	10c
Knocker ofice, a dandy, per lb.....	11c
Grand Ma's Washing Powder, large size.....	9c
Ginger Snaps, per pound.....	5c
Egg-Noodle, the 10c pkg.....	5c
2 Boxes of 5c Matches for.....	5c
Picnic Flans, per pound.....	10c
Salt Pork, its very fine, per lb.....	9 1/2c
Big Store Baking Powder, 1 pound can.....	14c

This Baking powder is guaranteed. Horse Shuts in Several Packages. One half and one pound packages, per lb..... 25c

You can not get better coffee than Soroaso, at per lb..... 25c

If you want the best coffee you ever had, try a 5 pound pail of Cream Coffee, at per lb..... 10c

Victoria Flour is always good. It is a home product and we are proud of it, for it never makes us trouble. The Store that Does Things for You.

JOHNSON & HILL CO.

ALTDORF School will begin next Monday with A. O. Anderson as teacher.

Otto Gash, John Shifter, and John and Carl Hauser have gone to Wild Rose to dig potatoes.

Evilyn Shifter gave a birthday party last Sunday in honor of her ninth birthday.

O. J. Leu was at Sherry on Sunday looking after some business for the Seneca, Sigel and Randolph Insurance company.

Between going to Grand Rapids and Vesper yesterday, this place was quite deserted.

Mrs. Albert Vitzel will leave for Iowa on Saturday to visit her son, Edward, who will be married October 4th.

A traveling man may be a tourist or a tramp. The distinction is a matter of money.

SARATOGA Mr. Blake and two children, of Illinois spent a few days at the Minter home. Mr. Blake is a brother of Mrs. Minter.

Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Johnson spent Sunday at the Walker Tesser home near Nekosoa, and also visited the Wm. Tesser home at South Saratoga.

Miss Ida Smith, of Plainfield, is visiting at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Jim Knutson.

A number of young people from here enjoyed a picnic at Ross Lake in South Saratoga last Sunday.

At a picnic, Mrs. George Knutson spent Sunday at the Gme Meyers home near Nekosoa.

Mrs. John Long entertained a number of ladies last Wednesday afternoon.

LOCAL ITEMS.

Ed. Rossler of Plover spent several days this week in the city visiting his brother, E. C. Rossler.

Donald Lybs, son of W. T. Lybs of this city, was married at Janesville last week to Miss Elizabeth Grant of that city.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Roenius and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. LaBour visited at Kilmour over Sunday, the trip being made by auto.

Edward Arpin, who has been employed by his uncle down in Louisiana for several months, is in the city visiting with relatives.

W. H. Brandt of Rudolph expects to open up a meat market in the Ginsburg building formerly occupied by the Chop Suey restaurant.

Ben Glue entertained a party of friends on Monday in honor of his tenth birthday. It is needless to say that the youngsters had a good time.

Miss Selma Peterson, a former Grand Rapids girl, whose parents live in the town of Port Edwards, was recently married at Ironwood, Mich., to James Chinn of that city. The wedding took place in Bessemer, Michigan, in August.

Theo. and Phillip Wilson were arrested on Monday for stealing a handcar from the Green Bay & Western railway company. The boys were subsequently discharged without prosecution, although guilty of a misdemeanor or under the law.

Mr. and Mrs. Nic Welland, Mrs. Charles Baldwin and Miss Cecile Welland, of Appleton, spent the past week in this city visiting at the J. B. Arpin. Henry Welland and Mrs. Nic Welland homes. They left for Appleton on the early train this morning.

Ed Krautkramer, who was riding a bicycle while city on Tuesday, collided with an auto being driven by Jacob Lutz, and being thrown from his wheel suffered several cuts and bruises. He was taken to Port Edwards where he was given medical attention. The accident occurred near the ball park.

J. R. Ragan and Mrs. Kathryn Hinderhus visited with relatives in Seymour on Sunday. They were accompanied home by Mrs. Herman Huseman, who has been their guest for several days. Mrs. Huseman is a sister of Mrs. Hinderhus and has passed her 90th birthday, but is still very active for her age.

Miss Clara Matthews and niece, Violet Kroll, returned from Milwaukee Saturday evening after a month's visit with relatives and friends. Miss Matthews was accompanied down by her friend Mr. A. Luedtke.

Mrs. B. Yager and daughter Edith have returned from a two weeks visit at Watertown, and Randolph.

Mr. Paul Kroll is putting the roof on his new house.

Of the 20,000 active breeders of Jersey cattle living in this country but 550 are members of the national organization of Jersey breeders. A Minnesota, who admires the farmers' type of dairy cow so popular among Badger Jerseymen, has been elected president of the American Jersey Cattle Club and is leading a campaign for more and larger Jerseys.

WITTENBERG'S

Style-Craft

The model illustrated above is 1078 some shown in the October issue of The Delinquent.

The new modes brought out so exclusively in STYLE-CRAFT Men-Tailored garments have a sense of dash and spirit that holds universal appeal for all who have that justifiable desire to appear in perfect vogue.

No. 1078 and other STYLE-CRAFT models on sale at

W. C. WEISEL

Grand Rapids, Wis.

Through this, life undermining your digestion eating heavy, soggy baked goods when by purchasing VICTORIA flour of your grocer you will always bake light, wholesome, nutritious, delicious bread, cakes and pastry? And, when the cost is no greater!

Say VICTORIA! to the grocer next time and get the best flour.

Grand Rapids Milling Co.

WITTENBERG'S

Style-Craft

The model illustrated above is 1078 some shown in the October issue of The Delinquent.

The new modes brought out so exclusively in STYLE-CRAFT Men-Tailored garments have a sense of dash and spirit that holds universal appeal for all who have that justifiable desire to appear in perfect vogue.

No. 1078 and other STYLE-CRAFT models on sale at

W. C. WEISEL

Grand Rapids, Wis.

Through this, life undermining your digestion eating heavy, soggy baked goods when by purchasing VICTORIA flour of your grocer you will always bake light, wholesome, nutritious, delicious bread, cakes and pastry? And, when the cost is no greater!

Say VICTORIA! to the grocer next time and get the best flour.

Grand Rapids Milling Co.

WITTENBERG'S

Style-Craft

The model illustrated above is 1078 some shown in the October issue of The Delinquent.

The new modes brought out so exclusively in STYLE-CRAFT Men-Tailored garments have a sense of dash and spirit that holds universal appeal for all who have that justifiable desire to appear in perfect vogue.

No. 1078 and other STYLE-CRAFT models on sale at

W. C. WEISEL

Grand Rapids, Wis.

Through this, life undermining your digestion eating heavy, soggy baked goods when by purchasing VICTORIA flour of your grocer you will always bake light, wholesome, nutritious, delicious bread, cakes and pastry? And, when the cost is no greater!

Say VICTORIA! to the grocer next time and get the best flour.

PIANOS! PIANOS!

Are you beginning to think about installing a piano in your home this winter? Maybe you think it would be a nice Holiday present for a member of the family. They are certainly all right, and you could not do better than to think the matter over, for no home is complete these days without a musical instrument of some kind. We have and it will be here about the 15th of October. They come direct from the Cable Company, and there will be several different grades to select from. Every one of the instruments is a work of art, and they are all cheap considering the workmanship and the tonal qualities of the instrument.

A CARLOAD COMING

If you have nobody in the house to play the piano it may be that we can interest you in one of our new

Diamond Disc Edison Phonographs

With one of these in the house you can have the best of music at any time. They can be found in the best homes in the land and are furnished in such an artistic manner that they are an ornament in any room. Look them over, hear them play, and decide for yourself.

We also carry several different kinds of Piano Players, and Pianos with inside Players. A fine instrument for the home.

MRS. F. P. DALY Grand Rapids Wisconsin

THE CHRISTIAN
A Superb Love Story in 8 Parts
DALY'S THEATRE, MONDAY & TUESDAY, OCT. 4 & 5
Prices 15 and 25c

Follow the Crowds to Wittenberg's Novelty Store

Save one-half on all Millinery and Merchandise, why pay big prices, when you can get the latest styles and fashions in Fall Millinery for about one-half what others ask. We have just received a large assortment of up-to-date styles. We trim hats to suit you. You can get a good hat here from $1.50 down—why pay more?

- | | |
|--|------------|
| Large variety Japanese Baskets, all sizes..... | 10c |
| All You can Carry Tablets..... | 5c |
| I Am It Tablets..... | 5c |
| Ladies Hosiery..... | 10c |
| Mens Hosiery..... | 10c |
| Ladies 50c Corset Covers..... | 33c |
| Ladies 50c Drawers..... | 33c |
| Ladies White Petticoats 50c values for..... | 23c |
| Darning Cotton, black and white 2 for..... | 5c |
| R. M. C. Crochet Cotton, white at..... | 10c |
| O. N. T. Crochet Cotton, white at..... | 10c |
| Thin Blown Tumblers..... | 5c |
| Large assortment Ladies Handkerchiefs..... | 5c to 25c |
| Emanuel Coffee Pots, special..... | 7c |
| Chair Seats, 2 for..... | 5c |
| Small White Aprons..... | 7c |
| Unbreakable Character Dolls..... | 25c |
| Large Variety of Notions..... | 5c & 10 |
| Large assortment of Hardware at..... | 5c and 10c |
| All Canned Goods..... | 6c |

Wittenberg's Novelty Store

Near Witter Hotel - Grand Rapids, Wis.

Made to Order Suits and Overcoats

IN GRAND RAPIDS, WIS. for $16.50 and $18.00 at the Peoples Tailoring Co., west end of bridge. Ask to see our blue serges. It will be worth your while. :

MATTHEWS TAILOR

ENJOY INDIAN SUMMER IN CALIFORNIA

Visit the falls at the choicest season of the year. These are the "Hollywood Days" of the Pacific Coast—the mildest and most charming of all seasons. The many pleasant recreations of this summerland may now be enjoyed to the fullest extent. The summer guests have just gone and the vanguard of winter visitors will soon be arriving. The trip there and back, including both fares, can be made for small cost. Every day excursion tickets will be on sale.

Two superb, steel-equipped trains of perfect service—"THE PACIFIC LIMITED" and "THE SAN FRANCISCO LIMITED"—of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul's direct route to California are at your command. They make the trip in record time and there is no extra fare charge. Return via the Pacific North Coast and over the "Milwaukee" or either "THE OLYMPIAN" or "THE COLUMBIAN" through a land of rare mountain wonders.

The local agent of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway will gladly supply you with literature and full information, or you can write for same to Geo. B. Haynes, General Passenger Agent, Chicago.

WANT COLUMN

WANTED:—To borrow $1,500 on Grand Rapids, close in, improved residence property. First mortgage. Address 694 Tribune. No commission. 6 per cent interest. 21

FOR RENT:—Suite of modern offices over Daly's Drug Store.

DAIRYMEN, ATTENTION:—15 good milk cows for sale. I haven't enough to sell for them over winter so must sell. They are grade Guernsey and some grade Holstein cows. Also a 3 year old registered Guernsey bull. You can have them for cash or 6 months time. A. E. Vallin, 8 miles north of Grand Rapids, B. D. 2. On James Case farm. 2

FOR SALE:—A bunch of 27 A1 grade. Chester White, 5 weeks' old pigs. Idylwild Farm R. 7.

SALESMEN:—How much do you earn? We offer you an opportunity to earn $100 to $500 monthly. We teach you how; no capital required. Sell Groceries, Paints, Oils, and Stock. Foods at wholesale prices. Get your share of the profits of the big crops. Write us for particulars. John S. Franklin & Co., Wholesale Grocers, Lake & Franklin Streets, Chicago.

FOR SALE:—Bass Viol. Fine imported instrument, going at a very low price. See Charles Matthews at the Peoples Tailoring Co. 11

HOUSE FOR SALE:—With two lots wood shed, barn. Property laid out in first class shape and will be sold at a rare bargain. Inquire of Chas. F. Koep, 10th Ave. North or at Griesbach & Kelp blacksmith shop.

LOST:—Beagle Hound, black and tan with white feet, tan ears, name Gay-boy. Call 514 Brooks, Nekoosa.

FOR SALE:—Several good, young farm horses. Also one driver. B. G. Eggert.

FOR SALE:—Large home on Washington Ave. at a bargain. Owner leaving city. See F. G. Gilkey, Agt.

FOR SALE:—Ohio 510 filler with 40 foot carrier. Good condition. See cheap. Chas. Klevens, R. 5. 31

FOR RENT:—Desirable office room for rent. Inquire at the Wood County National Bank.

FOR SALE:—Six high grade Holstein cows and four heifers, coming 2 years with calf, 2 high grade Holstein bulls from four to six months old. Henry Weber, Vesper Wis. R. 1. Two miles southeast of Seneca Corners. 41

MARKET REPORT.

- | | |
|---------------------|---------|
| Hens..... | 10 |
| Beef..... | 10 1/2 |
| Spring..... | 10 1/2 |
| Hay, Timothy..... | 10 1/2 |
| Potatoes white..... | 25 |
| Potatoes, Ohio..... | 25 |
| Triumphs..... | 25 |
| Pork, dressed..... | 25 |
| Rye..... | 25 |
| Oats..... | 25 |
| Butter..... | 22 1/2 |
| Rye Flour..... | 5 50 |
| Patent Flour..... | 6 10 |
| Eggs, fresh..... | 22 |
| Veal..... | 10 11 |
| Hides..... | 12 @ 13 |

Alumni Fails to Score.

Every year when the football season opens it is customary for the high school team to play a game with a team made up of the alumni. This serves two purposes. It gives the new team a chance to bump up against some veterans who are supposed to be familiar with all the fine points of the game, and also gives them a practice game, and they generally serve to show the youngsters that they are not such a bunch of prize winners as they had been thinking all along. The alumni generally romps home with several touchdowns, and generally leave the mangled remains of the rising generation strewn all over the landscape up in the neighborhood of the school grounds, and have a good time in general. Well, they played that first game last Friday afternoon, and instead of it being a footrace, with the alumni first to the goal, the high school team held their own with the best masters, and the result was a draw. This would indicate that there is some pretty good material in the new team.

Chickens Should be Protected.

The prairie chicken season is practically ended, and everyone of the old hunters in this city will agree that there is a great scarcity of birds this year, and they will also agree that unless something is done to protect them that it will be only a few years before the prairie hen is practically extinct in this section of the state. Every year the number of hunters increases, while the territory of the wild game decreases, and the result is that the time must come when there will be no more game left. Some people blame the decrease in the game to the outside hunters who come in in considerable number and camp for several days or a week right on the hunting grounds and spend all their time there, and the result being that when they move out there is practically nothing left in that section for a coming year's crop. However, the outside hunter only contributes his share toward the general destruction of the birds, and the birds would be scarce even if he stayed at home. It looks very much as if the only remedy was a closed season for several years.

Woman Serving Ten Days.

Mrs. Victoria Malinski was arrested on Friday on a charge of larceny in the charge she was sentenced to serve ten days in the county jail. The complaining witness was D. J. Hayes, proprietor of the Hotel Jolly, who charged her with having stolen a pair of chambermaid in that hostelry for some time past. It seems that numerous things have been missed at the hotel of late, the last of which were found in the possession of Mrs. Malinski. She admitted being the party that took the cigars, but denied the other thefts.

Fined for Assault.

Henry Smith was fined the sum of $9.75 in Judge Pennington's court on Monday for having struck Adolph Warka. The two men had been in a saloon together, and while there some blows had been exchanged.

A Business Opportunity.

—If you haven't a business of your own we would suggest that you read the advertisement of the First National Bank.

CITY POINT

A party of chicken hunters from Wausau and Marshfield were in town on Sunday and took home 26 birds. D. E. Meddaugh was a business caller at Grand Rapids Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Riestner and babe of Elkhart, and Mr. and Mrs. Chris Riestner of Pray were callers here Sunday.

Use Hantke left for Grand Rapids on Monday.

Miss Thee Danielson visited at New London over Sunday.

Ben Franson and Joe Jacobson left for Montana last Thursday.

Mrs. F. N. Nelson went to Royalton Saturday to meet her husband.

Rev. and Mrs. Chas. Hansen held services at Pray Sunday.

Miss Grace Hancock and Gertrude Nelson drove to Pray Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Cleveland and Miss Alma Paulson of Pray were in town Sunday.

Miss Edna Austin visited in Pray over Sunday.

Mrs. George Schroeder left for Elk River, Minn., Saturday to join her husband who is employed there.

Largest Barn in Central Wisconsin.

Supervisor D. J. Haver of Marshfield will start this week in erecting one of the largest barns in this section of the state on his farm in the town of Cameron. The building will be 38x128, with 18 ft. post and rail basement, modernly equipped throughout. The barn will be a 20x68 shed addition.

RUDOLPH

A delightful community social was held in the Moravian church basement Tuesday evening. An impromptu program was held in which many of the present took part. Stories were told by Mr. John Granger and Mr. A. J. Kujawa. Verna and George Deniston sang a duet, "Sleepy Poplins." Mrs. J. A. Jackson sang a delightful solo and Emil Jacobson recited. A male quartet consisting of Messrs. C. H. Imig, J. Dammiston, J. Hanson and Rev. H. B. Johnson sang several selections and songs and hymns were sung by every body. Coffee, sandwiches, pickles and cake were served by the Ladies Aid Society. Messrs. Emil and Will Piltz were there. That a good time was had by everybody goes without saying. Move of these gatherings will be held during the winter.

Farmers are beginning to cut their corn on account of the continued cold weather.

N. G. Ratelle and A. J. Kujawa drove to Marshfield Tuesday to see the report that there were no many sales.

A number from here attended the Grand Rapids Day for the farm, your city and all reports a good time.

Mr. and Mrs. Almerian Bates will move onto the Geo. Scott farm which Mr. Trickle has been caring for. It is too hard to take care of the farms alone so Mr. Bates will take charge of the stock.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Rayome were tendered a farewell party in Krebsbach Hall on Saturday night and all present report a fine time.

Mr. and Mrs. George Morgan are the proud parents of a new baby girl born Sunday morning, Sept. 26th.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Rayome have moved to your city and will make their home with the latter's mother.

Mrs. Hinz, of Rastville spent Saturday with old friends in Mosinee.

Mrs. McCormick departed on Saturday for her home in Chicago after a visit with her sister, Mrs. O. Akey.

John Wagers has moved his family into the rooms vacated by J. J. Rayome.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Baughman are rejoicing over the arrival of a baby girl.

The Catholic school is closed on account of one of the sisters having the small-pox.

Edna Haunsehild visited from Tuesday until Sunday at the Emil Hausman home.

John Bates has rented his farm to his son Asa, of Rothschild, who has taken possession. John will move to your city.

Mrs. Fred Piltz has returned from a couple of weeks visit with her sister, Mrs. Karnatz, in Milwaukee.

Mrs. N. G. Ratelle entertained the West side ladies aid on Thursday and $3.00 was taken in.

The ladies aid of the East side aid will give a chicken chowder at Krebsbach hall Thursday, October 14th, beginning at 5:30 o'clock. It will cost 25c per plate for adults and after the supper card playing will be indulged in at ten cents a player.

Married people make-up a quarrel because they have to.

(Too late for last week.)

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Clark visited from Thursday until Monday with the John Akey family at Merrill, Ark.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark returned on Monday and Mrs. Clark came home Wednesday.

Mrs. O. Akey visited from Saturday evening until Monday evening with her sister, Mrs. Grashorn in Junction City.

Mrs. Eva DeRush and Miss Minnie Marcoe spent Wednesday in Grand Rapids visiting their cousin.

Paul Clark was a Grand Rapids visitor Tuesday.

W. J. Clark took his daughters, Miss Pearl and Mrs. Arthur Rockwood up to Junction City in his auto on Tuesday evening where they took the train to Ladysmith. They expect to visit there two weeks.

Mrs. Geo. W. Baker, Sr. and Grandson, Donald Baker of your city, spent Sunday and Monday at the N. G. Ratelle home.

Eleanor Noorman, who's home is near Marshfield, but is attending the Training school in your city and staying with Mrs. Baker, visited at the N. G. Ratelle home on Sunday and Monday.

MORE TROUBLE ON BRIDGE

MATTER AT NEKOOSA

The village officers of Nekoosa have been notified by Atty. Geo. L. Williams of this city that he expects certain parties at Nekoosa who are not satisfied with matters pertaining to the construction of the new bridge, and that an injunction would be served upon the State Treasurer to prevent the state from paying its share toward the construction of the bridge.

It appears that the only way to avoid trouble is to start at the beginning again and hold another election and go thru all the usual preliminaries such as done in the first place. Some of the people at Nekoosa are disgruntled because the bridge is not located exactly where they want it, and these are causing the trouble in the matter.

$250.00 in Cash Prizes

—Enter your produce in the competition for the $250.00 in cash prizes to be given away to given away at the Farmers Week at Johnson & Hill Co.'s store, October 12-13-14-15 and 16th.

WEATHER FORECAST

Generally fair and moderately cool weather will prevail through the greater part of the week.

IN OUR GROCERY DEPARTMENT

Is where you save

TIME, TROUBLE AND MONEY

—A few good ones for Thursday, Friday, Saturday, Monday and Tuesday, September 30th, to October 5th.

Look at these Fruit Jar Prices.

- | | |
|--|--------|
| Mason Jar Pints, per doz..... | 30c |
| Mason Jar Quarts, per doz..... | 40c |
| Mason Jar 2 quarts, per doz..... | 50c |
| Mason Jar 4 quarts, per doz..... | 60c |
| Mason Jar 50c covers, per doz..... | 7c |
| 2 boxes of 50c matches, per doz..... | 10c |
| Knocker off, a dandy, per lb..... | 11c |
| Grand Ma's Washing Powder, large size..... | 9c |
| Ginger Snaps, per pound..... | 5c |
| Egg Snaps, the 10c pkgs..... | 6c |
| Boxes of 5c matches for..... | 5c |
| Picnic Hams, per pound..... | 10c |
| Salt Pork, its very fine, per lb..... | 9 1/2c |
| Big Stone Baking Powder, 1 pound can..... | 14c |

This baking powder is guaranteed. Horse Shoe Tea in Sealed Packages. One half and one pound packages.

per lb..... 30c
You can not get better coffee than Seneca at per lb..... 25c
If you want the best coffee you ever had, try a 5 pound pail of Cream Coffee, at per lb..... 30c

Victoria Flour is always good. It is a home product and you are proud of it, for it never makes us trouble. The Store that Does Things for You.

JOHNSON & HILL CO.

ALTDORF

School will begin next Monday with A. O. Anderson as teacher.

Oto Gash, John Shifter, and John and Carl Huser have gone to Wild Rose to dig potatoes.

Evelyn Shifter gave a birthday party last Sunday in honor of her ninth birthday.

O. J. Leu was at Sherry on Sunday looking after some business for the Seneca, Sigel and Rudolph Insurance company.

Between going to Grand Rapids and Vesper yesterday, this place was quite deserted.

Mrs. Albert Virtil will leave for Iowa on Saturday to visit her son, Edward, who will be married October 4th.

A traveling man may be a tourist or a tramp. The distinction is a matter of money.

SARATOGA

Mr. Blake and two children, of Illinois spent a few days at the Minter home. Mr. Blake is a brother of Mrs. Minter.

Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Johnson spent Sunday at the Walter Tesser home near Nekoosa and also visited the Wm. Tesser home at South Saratoga.

Miss Ida Smith, of Plainfield, is visiting at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Jim Kauteson.

A number of young people from here enjoyed a picnic at Ross Lake in South Saratoga last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Knuteson spent Sunday at the G. H. Meyers home near Nekoosa.

Mrs. John Long entertained a number of ladies last Wednesday afternoon.

LOCAL ITEMS.

Ed. Rossler of Plover spent several days this week in the city visiting his brother, E. C. Rossler.

Donald Lyys, son of W. T. Lyys of this city, was married at Janesville last week to Miss Elizabeth Grant of that city.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Roenius and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Labour visited at Killbuck over Sunday, the trip being made by auto.

Edward Arpin, who has been employed by his uncle down in Louisiana for several months, is in the city visiting with relatives.

W. H. Brandt of Rudolph expects to open up a meat market in the Ginsburg building formerly occupied by the Chop Suey restaurant.

Ben Glue entertained a party of friends on Monday in honor of his tenth birthday. It is needless to say that the youngsters had a good time.

Miss Selma Peterson, a former Grand Rapids girl, whose parents live in the town of Port Edwards, was recently married at Ironwood, Mich., to James Chinn of that city. The wedding took place in Bessemer, Michigan, in August.

Theo. and Phillip Wilson were arrested on Monday for stealing a handcar from the Green Bay & Western railway company. The boys were subsequently discharged without prosecution although guilty of a misdemeanor or under the law.

Mr. and Mrs. Nic Welland, Mrs. Charles Baldwin and Miss Cecile Welland, of Appleton, spent the past week in this city visiting at the J. B. Arpin, Henry Welland and Mrs. Nic Welland homes. They left for Appleton on the early train this morning.

Ed Krautkramer, who was riding a bicycle to this city on Tuesday, collided with an auto being driven by Jacob Lutz, and being thrown from his wheel suffered several cuts and bruises. He was taken to Port Edwards where he was given medical attention. The accident occurred near this ball park.

J. R. Rugan and Mrs. Kathryn Hutterthorn visited with relatives in Seymour on Sunday. They were accompanied home by Mrs. Herman Egg, who has been their guest for several days. Mrs. Hutterthorn is a sister of Mrs. Hutterthorn and has passed her 90th birthday, but is still very active for her age.

Miss Clara Matthews and niece, Violet Kroll, returned from Milwaukee Saturday evening after a month's visit with relatives and friends. Mrs. Matthews was accompanied down by her friend Mr. A. Luedtke.

Mrs. B. Yager and daughter Edith have returned from a two weeks visit at Watertown, and Randolph. Mr. Paul Kroll is putting the roof on his new house.

Of the 20,000 active breeders of Jersey cattle living in this country but 550 are members of the national organization of Jersey breeders. A Minnesota, who admires the farm's type of dairy cow so popular among Badger Jerseymen, has been elected president of the American Jersey Cattle Club and is leading a campaign for more and larger Jerseys.

The model illustrated above is 1078 same as shown in the October issue of The Delicater.

The new models brought out so exclusively in STYLE-CRAFT Man-Tailored garments have a sense of dash and spirit that holds universal appeal for all who have that justifiable desire to appear in perfect vogue.

No. 1078 and other STYLE-CRAFT models on sale at

W. C. WEISEL

Grand Rapids, Wis.

Through this life undermining your digestion eating heavy, soggy baked goods when by purchasing VICTORIA flour of your grocer you will always bake light, wholesome, nutritious, delicious bread, cakes and pastry? And, when the cost is no greater?

Say VICTORIA to the grocer next time and get the best flour.

Grand Rapids Milling Co.

W. C. WEISEL

Grand Rapids, Wis.

W. C. WEISEL

Grand Rapids, Wis.

W. C. WEISEL

Grand Rapids, Wis.

W. C. WEISEL

Grand Rapids, Wis.

W. C. WEISEL

Grand Rapids, Wis.

W. C. WEISEL

Grand Rapids, Wis.

W. C. WEISEL

Grand Rapids, Wis.

W. C. WEISEL

Grand Rapids, Wis.

W. C. WEISEL

Grand Rapids, Wis.

W. C. WEISEL

Grand Rapids, Wis.

W. C. WEISEL

Grand Rapids, Wis.

W. C. WEISEL

Grand Rapids, Wis.

W. C. WEISEL

Grand Rapids, Wis.

W. C. WEISEL

Grand Rapids, Wis.

W. C. WEISEL

Style-Craft

The model illustrated above is 1078 same as shown in the October issue of The Delicater.

The new models brought out so exclusively in STYLE-CRAFT Man-Tailored garments have a sense of dash and spirit that holds universal appeal for all who have that justifiable desire to appear in perfect vogue.

No. 1078 and other STYLE-CRAFT models on sale at

W. C. WEISEL

Grand Rapids, Wis.

W. C. WEISEL

Grand Rapids, Wis.

W. C. WEISEL

Grand Rapids, Wis.

W. C. WEISEL

Grand Rapids, Wis.

W. C. WEISEL

Grand Rapids, Wis.

W. C. WEISEL

Grand Rapids, Wis.

W. C. WEISEL

Grand Rapids, Wis.

W. C. WEISEL

Grand Rapids, Wis.

W. C. WEISEL

Grand Rapids, Wis.

W. C. WEISEL

Grand Rapids, Wis.

W. C. WEISEL

Scene from "The Cub"—at Daly's Theatre, Sunday, October 2nd.

Building a House with the best of Lumber

the kind we sell is the Cheapest in the Long Run.

Kellogg Bros. Lumber Co. Grand Rapids, Wisconsin

Which is the Best Way?

To indulge yourself in everything you want NOW, and then when old age comes creeping on begin to lop off one by one the comforts of life?

OR

To go a little slow on the luxuries while young, that you may have ALL THE COMFORTS in your declining years when you need them most?

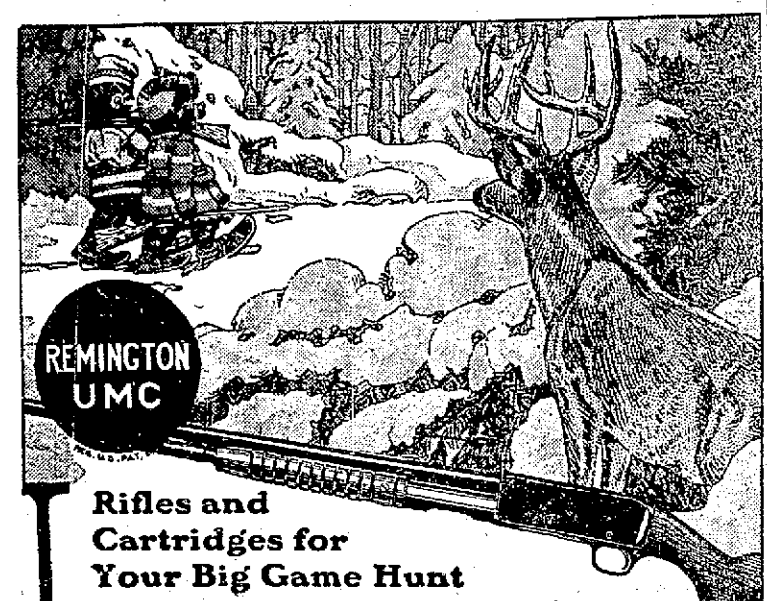

THINK IT OVER

Wood County National Bank Grand Rapids, Wis. "The Home of Savings"

ASK your dealer for W-B Cut Chewing Tobacco. It is the new "Real Tobacco Chew"—cut long shred—or send 10c in stamps to us.

WEYMAN-BRUTON COMPANY, 50 Union Square, New York City

Rifles and Cartridges for Your Big Game Hunt

JUST as soon as game became scarce enough to make men critical about their rifles, sportsmen in every community got to demanding Remington-UMC. The demand for Remington-UMC Big Game Rifles and Remington Metallic Cartridges has been growing ever since. The Remington-UMC Dealer here in this community is the man to go to. He knows what's happening in the sport today. You'll know him by the Red Ball Mark of Remington-UMC—and his store is Sportsmen's Headquarters.

Sold by your home dealer and 775 other leading merchants in Wisconsin. Remington-Union Metallic Cartridge Co., Woolworth Bldg. (233 B'way) N. Y. City

RAILWAY OPENS UP VAST FARMING TERRITORY

Washington, D. C. Sept.—Persons who are pessimistic about the future of this little old republic of ours and think we are headed for the demerol bow-bow, or words to that effect, should read some facts that came to light here today and cheer up. We have so many untouched resources that we only have been touching the high spots. In a United States government report dug up by a newspaper correspondent today it was shown that in four of the great states of the mighty northwest only 10 percent of the tillable land is being cultivated. These states are Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota and Montana. In other words, there is a vast empire up there in the northwest larger than most of the countries of Europe that never has felt the touch of the plow or harrow. So, we should worry about poverty.

To become more specific, there are some 75,000,000 acres of available land in that country that is only waiting for the settler to come and get busy. Think of the millions of people there are, yet so much of the land is idle and the people who shall come and live and thrive and build cities on those boundless plains.

Of course, you'll say, "Well, the land can't be worth much or some body would be cultivating it." Well, what's the answer then? Inaccessibility—that is the answer. But now there is ample transportation through this empire primeval and it is going to come to the front rapidly from now on, experts declare. Not until the Chicago, Milwaukee & Puget Sound Railway was constructed thru those parts did this untillable province have a chance to be isolated far from the pathways of man.

Government reports show that these lands have no superior anywhere for the raising of such crops as corn, oats, wheat, barley, rye, flax and hay. That is why Montana has just won the Grand Prize at the Panama-Pacific Exposition. With only 10 per cent of their tillable acreage under cultivation these great commonwealths line up in the cavalcade of states about as follows: fourteenth in the production of wheat, fifteenth in barley, twentieth in potatoes and third in flax. All of which will doubtless make it easy for you to understand why there on the great plains new towns are springing up, new industries are being established, new avenues of trade are being laid out—a new nation, strong and mighty as the hills, is coming into existence.

TREAT RYE SEED NOW TO PREVENT SMUT LOSS

Smut disease caused much injury to Wisconsin rye this year. Rye planting time is at hand and this is when we can reduce the chances of loss next year from smut damage.

Smut can be largely controlled by treating the seed grain with formaldehyde. This simple and effective way to use formaldehyde is suggested by A. G. Johnson of the University of Wisconsin.

"After cleaning and grading carefully, pile the seed on a clean floor or canvas and sprinkle with a solution of formaldehyde, one pint of the commercial 40 per cent formaldehyde to 40 gallons of water, using a gallon to a bushel of seed.

"While sprinkling, shovel over the seed to insure thorough wetting of all the grain. Then cover with canvas or several thicknesses of bags and leave covered for at least two hours. Up to four hours is all right.

"When treatment is completed, the seed should be spread out to dry and raked occasionally to hasten the process. It will then be ready to sow at any convenient time.

"It is important (1) that treated seed should be handled in sacks which have not previously been used for rye, or have been soaked two hours in the above formaldehyde solution before using in order to prevent any chance of the smut getting onto the seed."

WET FALL WEATHER FAVORABLE TO WEEDS

War on second growth weeds is more necessary in Wisconsin this fall than in any recent season.

The excess of rainfall in Wisconsin this month means a rank second growth of many troublesome weeds, such as shepherd's purse, fox tail, witch grass and wild mustard.

Fall plowing, already under way, tends to bring the weed seeds to the surface where they will sprout and mature quickly because of highly favorable conditions.

"The land should be disked or harrowed thoroughly after the fall plowing is done in order to make a sure job of killing the second growth weeds," says Henry Lunz, College of Agriculture.

If left to grow these weeds will quite likely go to seed before winter sets in, or in any case will interfere with harrowing in the spring. Mr. Lunz advises that there are numerous hardy winter annuals that will live throughout the winter if not destroyed at once. The cutting of such weeds now will tend to prevent their extensive spread in years to come.

RUDOLPH

Mr. and Mrs. George Krommenakker have returned from a two weeks visit with relatives in St. Paul and Minneapolis. They also attended the Minnesota State Fair and say it was fine. Mr. Krommenakker says that while there he was taken by a friend to a farm about fifty miles from Minneapolis and watched them thresh wheat. George says it was a great sight and well worth the trip.

A nice new porch has been built on the schoolhouse in District No. 5. A new flag pole will also be erected. Mr. Fisher has sold his farm and purchased the Adam Zimmerman farm.

Paul Zimmerman has opened up a sand pit on his farm and is selling sand to the farmers very reasonable. Miss Leonora Lemay has again been engaged to teach in District No. 5 and is giving excellent satisfaction. The farmers are all pretty well satisfied with their grain, but potatoes are not turning out well.

Advertised Mail

Ladies: Wolters, Miss Agnes. Gentlemen: Albert, Mr. August, Bouber, Mr. Joe. Lyle, Mr. H. F. Foreign: Mitchell, Mr. Dusen, Robert Nosh, Postmaster.

AUTO MACHINE REPAIRING

Cylinder Boring, Piston Rings, Connecting Rods, Bushings, Bearings and Gears.

Welding of All Metals on Short Notice.

GEO. F. KRIEGER GRAND RAPIDS - WISCONSIN

VESEPER

John Gault, of Milwaukee, who has purchased the Alfred Alms farm in the town of Hansen, has placed an order with the Vesper Brick & Tile Co. for 11 1/2 miles of drain tile. This is the first order of the kind in this section and will be watched with interest.

The securing of this contract, which calls for 60,000 pieces of tile ranging in length from 4 inches to 10 inches in diameter, speaks well for the Vesper Company, Mr. Gault having invested in the tile of this nature of 500 miles and when comparing them decided to buy at Vesper. On the same day the company secured an order from the Elkhorn Drainage Co. for two miles of tile. These orders in addition to their regular work will keep the plant running until late in the fall.

Investigators of the Drainage Dept. examined samples of this company's brick and tile and report it as good as any manufactured in this line. This means a big boost for the Vesper company and may mean that they are about to be a brick and tile manufacturing city in the future.

Jack Walter, who has been in the hospital at Marshfield for some time, has been brought home. While we have not learned what his trouble is, we understand that it is not cancer as was at first suspected.

Mrs. L. C. Johnson went to Minneapolis, Minn. where she will undergo an operation. She was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. McNeel.

Chester Dean, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Dean died suddenly on Saturday after but a few hours illness, pneumonia being the cause of death.

The funeral was held on Monday from the home interment being made in the cemetery at Grand Rapids. Mr. and Mrs. Dean have the sympathy of the community.

C. P. Barker of Chippewa Falls, was here Friday looking over J. Schmidt's herd of Holsteins. Upon Schmidt's finding that they were valued at $2100 he decided to investigate some herds at Lake Mills before deciding, and in case he cannot do better down there will return and do his buying here.

At the Holstein sale at Marshfield this spring one of the farmers in that vicinity sold one of his herd for $250. Since then the cow has developed into a prize winner and is now valued at $5,000.

BIRON

Ray Cooper and wife and two children were at Rapids last Sunday visiting relatives and friends.

Louis Lemay and Raymond Pelletier and wife were callers at the Joe Sweeney home last Sunday.

Albert Fieck was in your city the past week on business.

Albert Zager and family autoed to Pittsville and Dexterville on Sunday.

Harry Abraham, Ed Atwood, Chas. Williamson, Archie Shearier and Johnson were visitors in your city the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Nic Witt and son and Mr. and Mrs. Harroun and babe drove to Nekoma Friday evening and visited with friends.

Anna Klappa of your city was visiting with her sister in our burg the past week.

Mrs. Ed Witt and little son visited at their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Christ Olson and family the past week.

Mr. F. H. Lamberton is spending a few days in Berlin with his son, Clay Lamberton.

Matt Herman bought a nice two year old colt from Joe Reimer the past week. Consideration $125.

Willie Kohnen was at the mill one day the past week shaking hands with friends. He reports that he will be back at work soon.

Miss Pearl Akey has returned the past week from Mosinee, where she has been visiting relatives.

Mr. C. C. Cummings went to your city on Wednesday and brought his new Maxwell touring car home. It is a fine looking car.

The dance given at the Park Hall on Friday night by Carroll Lamberton was well attended in spite of the threatening weather. The music was good and everyone enjoyed themselves immensely.

Mrs. Chas. Passineau and children of your city were in our burg one day the past week calling on friends and relatives.

Parl Akey was in your city one day the past week on business.

Joe Perci spent Sunday in Sigel with home folks.

Thomas McGrath, George Meyers and Leland Rochelleau were callers in your city the past week.

Albert Zager spent Sunday in Port Edwards visiting relatives and friends.

Basil Barton, Douglass Grosskopf, Emil Allen, George Richards, Earl and Jeff Akey were all in your city the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Akey and wife were in your city last Saturday doing some shopping.

James Stafford was on the sick list the past week.

Harry Abraham and wife spent a week in Nekoma visiting relatives.

Peter Bauer, Frank and Joe Jankov, Harry Peterson, Emmett McGee and Harry Barton were callers in your city the past week.

The Joe Sweeney family spent Sunday at Rudolph with the William Lemay family.

Ellen Demars visited in your city several days the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Akey and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Clark and children of Rudolph were visitors at the A. L. Akey home on Sunday, driving down in Mr. Akey's car.

Mr. and Mrs. James Klappa and three children of your city were in our burg visiting their daughter, Mrs. Peter Ubrunowski and family over Sunday.

Frank Carlson is still on the sick list.

Walter Jerzak, John Blugert, Fred and Joe Reimer and Oscar Carlson were in your city the past week.

Wm. Hamm was at the mill one day the past week on business.

Lawrence Akey of Rudolph spent a few hours in our burg on Sunday.

TOWN OF GRAND RAPIDS

Mrs. B. O'Day and cousin Otto Shur of Fond du Lac visited at the home of Mr. Edwin Streblov at Rudolph on Wednesday.

Mrs. John Heron and little son visited at the B. O'Day home Sunday.

Misses Abbie, Kluge and Emma Schroeder spent Thursday afternoon and evening with Agnes Eberhardt.

Mr. and Mrs. B. O'Day entertained their niece, Mrs. John Hickey of Minneapolis for several days the past week.

Otto Shur of Fond du Lac spent the past few days with his cousin, Mrs. B. O'Day.

NEW ROME

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Thomas spent Sunday at the Harold Chinn and H. S. Webb home.

Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Patfield and children autoed to Nekoma and Grand Rapids Sunday in their new car.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Leese autoed to Nekoma last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ranch of Nekoma visited at F. C. Patfield's home on Saturday returning home on Sunday.

Miss Nina Christensen of your city former teacher in District No. 2 was seen on our streets Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Burhite went to Nekoma on Friday to visit their sister-in-law, Mrs. Percy George, who is home for a visit from Wales sanatorium.

Miss Freda Host spent Saturday and Sunday at the Elmer Finch home.

Miss Andie Poys, who is attending the Training school in your city spent Sunday at home.

Lowell Finch, who is attending the high school in your city spent Saturday and Sunday at home.

Site filling is the order of the day. In after years the pursuit of a love letter that he wrote his wife before marriage makes a man feel like a lead nickel with a hole in it.

During the past week the road between this city and Biron has been opened to the public, and it means that this is the nicest stretch of road in this part of the country. There are about two and one-half miles of the road altogether, and while there is a part of it that has not been filled in, on the sides, this does not hurt the use of it to any extent, as the sides of the road are solid enough so that a team or automobile can turn out and get back onto the concrete with ease. Now the city of Grand Rapids should continue the concrete road down as far as the Green Bay depot, and from there pave the whole width of the street, and there would be a drive up along the river that the citizens of Grand Rapids could point to with pride.

KELLNER

German school commenced on Monday.

B. L. Ward and family spent Sunday at Stockton.

Mr. Kelly of Chicago came up on Saturday to spend a week on his farm near here.

Nellie Wieg left for Nekoma on Monday.

A number of neighbors and friends gave a surprise party on Mrs. Ward one evening last week the occasion being her birthday.

Emil and Paul Zebell from Milwaukee are visiting at the home of their mother, Mrs. C. Zebell.

Mr. and Mrs. John Dheul and children spent Sunday with relatives at Vesper.

Mrs. H. Haydon returned home from Chicago last week.

Geo. Hammel has sold his farm and is moving to Grand Rapids. Mr. Glass of Chicago bought the place.

Mrs. H. Osterman is visiting relatives in Minnesota.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Helke are the proud parents of a baby boy.

Work on the state road south of here commenced this week.

Patent men seldom accomplish anything of great importance.

Fred Wittenberg fell on Wednesday last and struck his wrist on a stove pipe in the woodshed and later fainted from loss of blood. He was taken to the hospital and given surgical attention and has since been getting along alright. It was at first reported that Mr. Wittenberg had attempted to commit suicide but he stated that that was not true.

Walter Wood spent Sunday in this city with his parents.

EAST NEW ROME

Joe Busch was an over Sunday visitor at J. Wolcott's.

Those from here who attended the dance at New Rome Hall Saturday night were Lawrence, Evert and Eva Irwin, Nina Christensen, Leslie and Mabel Holtz, Cecile and Glenn Wolcott, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Wolcott and Joe Busch. All report a fine time.

The Fred Zaudke and M. R. Hetzel families of Almond were guests at the E. Holtz home Sunday, of last week, making the trip in their auto.

Laure Hoffman was a Plainfield caller on Saturday.

Wm. Burhite filled slots in our neighborhood recently.

Ed. Holtz erected a silo on his farm recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Wolcott spent Sunday at their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mitchell.

Eva, Lela, Evert and Louis Irwin and Miss Nina Christensen were callers at the E. Holtz home Friday evening.

There will be a basket social at the Vandriessen club house Saturday evening October 2nd, given by the Adams County club. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

Ervin Holtz spent Sunday at Wm. Matthews near the Tan Mile creek.

Ben Jewell has moved his goods to a farm near Hancock where he will reside.

A few from here attended the surprise party at John Lamquist's Saturday night which was given in honor of Miss Ruth.

County Clerk Nobles has just made his annual report to the commission of agriculture, relating to the cheese factories and creameries in this county. The report shows that there are 19 creameries and 28 cheese factories in the county valued at $141,400.

The complete report is as follows: No. of Creameries in county, 19. No. cheese factories in county, 28. Valuation of creameries, $57,400. Valuation of cheese factories, $84,000.

No. of patrons to creameries, 760. No. of patrons to cheese factories, 1,166.

No. of cows contributing to creameries, 7,684. No. of cows contributing to cheese factories, 11,241.

No. of pounds of milk received at creameries, 5,697,906. No. pounds of milk received at cheese factories, 34,839.

No. of pounds of butter made in creameries last year, 2,473,208. No. of pounds of cheese made in Wood county last year, 5,054,170.

Amount money creameries received, $662,568.49. Amount money cheese factories received, $511,897.00.

Amount of butter made on farms, 138,464. Amount of butter made on farms, 138,464.

For which was received, $41,539.20. Pounds of cheese made on farms, 2,000.

For which was received, $300.

No Meeting of Bowlers. The bowlers meeting that was to have been held last Friday evening did not materialize on account of the sickness of Wm. F. Gleue, president of the association. A large number were present at the Girls' Alleys last Friday evening.

G. O. Weeks, who sold his property on Washington Avenue about two years ago and moved to Oshkosh, has disposed of his lively business there and intends to move back to this city in the near future.

DRESS UP, BOYS

Let Everybody Dress Up In New Fall Clothes

Commencing October 2nd, and Ending October 9th. NEXT WEEK is "DRESS-UP" WEEK

Who wants to be a laggard in the matter of dress? Surely not you, so "Dress Up" Boys, that's the order of the day--the sign of prosperity--the national slogan of progressiveness. The great National Dress-Up Campaign is spreading from coast to coast, and the liveliest men in every community are the first to boost this great movement. Dress up in new Fall Suits and Overcoats. We feature

HART SCHAFFNER & MARX and STYLE-PLUS MAKES

DRESS UP Boys
Dempster & Place
GLOVES
Tan and gray Suede, cape finish.
AUTOMOBILE GLOVES warranted horsehide, all sizes.

DRESS UP Men in Johnson & Hill SHIRTS
DRESS SHIRTS, with pleated bosom, in white and colors.
SOFT SHIRTS either banded or collar styles, in a large range of materials and colors.

DRESS UP Young Men
Soft Felt HATS
in all the desirable colors for Fall.
STIFF HATS in all the new shapes.
BALMACAN HATS in a good line of mixtures.

JOHNSON & HILL CO.
GRAND RAPIDS, WISCONSIN.

The THOUSANDTH WOMAN

by ERNEST W. HORNING
Author of "The Amateur Cracksmen," "Raffles," Etc.
Illustrations by O. IRWIN MYERS

CHAPTER I.

"Is that so? No. I never heard that," said he.

"You hear it now. He did all that, indirectly, and I didn't realize it at the time. I was too young, and the whole thing told me out too fast, but I know it now, and I've known it long enough. It was worse than a crash. It was a scandal. That was what finished us off, all but Henry Craven! There'd been a gigantic swindle—special investments recommended by the firm, bogus certificates and all the rest of it. We were all to blame, of course. My poor father ought never to have been a poet. Even I—I was only a youngster in the office, but I ought to have known what was going on. But Henry Craven did know. He was in it up to the neck, though a fellow called Scruton did the actual job. Scruton got fourteen years—and Craven got our old house on the river."

"And feathered it pretty well!" said Toye, nodding. "Yes, I did hear that. And I can tell you they don't know any better of him, in the neighborhood, for going to live right there. But how did he stop the other man's mouth, and—how do you know?"

"Never mind how I know," said Cazale. "Scruton was a friend of mine, though an older man, he was good to me, though he was a wrong 'un himself. He paid for it—paid for that—I can say! But he was engaged to Ethel Craven at the time, was going to be taken into partnership on their marriage, and you can put two and two together for yourself."

"Did she wait for him?"

"About as long as you'd expect of the head of a firm," said Cazale. "She was his father's daughter. I wonder you didn't come across her and her husband!"

"I didn't see so much of the Craven crowd," replied Hilton Toye. "I wasn't stuck on them either. Say, Cazale, I wouldn't be that old man when Scruton comes out, would you?"

But Cazale showed that he could hold his tongue when he liked, and his grim look was not so legible as some that had come and gone before. This time he said: "I can say! But he was engaged to Ethel Craven at the time, was going to be taken into partnership on their marriage, and you can put two and two together for yourself."

"About as long as you'd expect of the head of a firm," said Cazale. "She was his father's daughter. I wonder you didn't come across her and her husband!"

"I didn't see so much of the Craven crowd," replied Hilton Toye. "I wasn't stuck on them either. Say, Cazale, I wouldn't be that old man when Scruton comes out, would you?"

But Cazale showed that he could hold his tongue when he liked, and his grim look was not so legible as some that had come and gone before. This time he said: "I can say! But he was engaged to Ethel Craven at the time, was going to be taken into partnership on their marriage, and you can put two and two together for yourself."

"About as long as you'd expect of the head of a firm," said Cazale. "She was his father's daughter. I wonder you didn't come across her and her husband!"

"I didn't see so much of the Craven crowd," replied Hilton Toye. "I wasn't stuck on them either. Say, Cazale, I wouldn't be that old man when Scruton comes out, would you?"

But Cazale showed that he could hold his tongue when he liked, and his grim look was not so legible as some that had come and gone before. This time he said: "I can say! But he was engaged to Ethel Craven at the time, was going to be taken into partnership on their marriage, and you can put two and two together for yourself."

"About as long as you'd expect of the head of a firm," said Cazale. "She was his father's daughter. I wonder you didn't come across her and her husband!"

"I didn't see so much of the Craven crowd," replied Hilton Toye. "I wasn't stuck on them either. Say, Cazale, I wouldn't be that old man when Scruton comes out, would you?"

But Cazale showed that he could hold his tongue when he liked, and his grim look was not so legible as some that had come and gone before. This time he said: "I can say! But he was engaged to Ethel Craven at the time, was going to be taken into partnership on their marriage, and you can put two and two together for yourself."

"About as long as you'd expect of the head of a firm," said Cazale. "She was his father's daughter. I wonder you didn't come across her and her husband!"

"I didn't see so much of the Craven crowd," replied Hilton Toye. "I wasn't stuck on them either. Say, Cazale, I wouldn't be that old man when Scruton comes out, would you?"

But Cazale showed that he could hold his tongue when he liked, and his grim look was not so legible as some that had come and gone before. This time he said: "I can say! But he was engaged to Ethel Craven at the time, was going to be taken into partnership on their marriage, and you can put two and two together for yourself."

"About as long as you'd expect of the head of a firm," said Cazale. "She was his father's daughter. I wonder you didn't come across her and her husband!"

"I didn't see so much of the Craven crowd," replied Hilton Toye. "I wasn't stuck on them either. Say, Cazale, I wouldn't be that old man when Scruton comes out, would you?"

But Cazale showed that he could hold his tongue when he liked, and his grim look was not so legible as some that had come and gone before. This time he said: "I can say! But he was engaged to Ethel Craven at the time, was going to be taken into partnership on their marriage, and you can put two and two together for yourself."

"About as long as you'd expect of the head of a firm," said Cazale. "She was his father's daughter. I wonder you didn't come across her and her husband!"

"I didn't see so much of the Craven crowd," replied Hilton Toye. "I wasn't stuck on them either. Say, Cazale, I wouldn't be that old man when Scruton comes out, would you?"

But Cazale showed that he could hold his tongue when he liked, and his grim look was not so legible as some that had come and gone before. This time he said: "I can say! But he was engaged to Ethel Craven at the time, was going to be taken into partnership on their marriage, and you can put two and two together for yourself."

"About as long as you'd expect of the head of a firm," said Cazale. "She was his father's daughter. I wonder you didn't come across her and her husband!"

"I didn't see so much of the Craven crowd," replied Hilton Toye. "I wasn't stuck on them either. Say, Cazale, I wouldn't be that old man when Scruton comes out, would you?"

But Cazale showed that he could hold his tongue when he liked, and his grim look was not so legible as some that had come and gone before. This time he said: "I can say! But he was engaged to Ethel Craven at the time, was going to be taken into partnership on their marriage, and you can put two and two together for yourself."

but once more Toye was regarding him as shrewdly as when the night was younger, and the littleness of the world had not yet made them confident and boon companion.

Eight bells actually struck before their great talk ended and Cazale swore that he missed the "watchdog" air of the sailing-vessel ten years before.

"Say!" exclaimed Hilton Toye, knitting his brows over some nebulous recollection of his own. "I seem to have heard of you and some of your yarns before. Didn't you spend nights in a log hut miles and miles from any human being?"

It was as they were turning in at last, but the question spoiled a yawn for Cazale.

"Sometimes, at one of our out-stations," said he, looking puzzled.

"I've seen your photograph," said Toye, regarding him with a more critical stare. "But it was with a beard."

"I had it off when I was ashore the other day," said Cazale. "I always meant to, before the end of the voyage."

"I see. It was a Miss Macnair showed me that photograph—Miss Blanche Macnair lives in a little house down there near your old home."

It was as they were turning in at last, but the question spoiled a yawn for Cazale.

"Sometimes, at one of our out-stations," said he, looking puzzled.

"I've seen your photograph," said Toye, regarding him with a more critical stare. "But it was with a beard."

"I had it off when I was ashore the other day," said Cazale. "I always meant to, before the end of the voyage."

"I see. It was a Miss Macnair showed me that photograph—Miss Blanche Macnair lives in a little house down there near your old home."

It was as they were turning in at last, but the question spoiled a yawn for Cazale.

"Sometimes, at one of our out-stations," said he, looking puzzled.

"I've seen your photograph," said Toye, regarding him with a more critical stare. "But it was with a beard."

"I had it off when I was ashore the other day," said Cazale. "I always meant to, before the end of the voyage."

"I see. It was a Miss Macnair showed me that photograph—Miss Blanche Macnair lives in a little house down there near your old home."

It was as they were turning in at last, but the question spoiled a yawn for Cazale.

"Sometimes, at one of our out-stations," said he, looking puzzled.

"I've seen your photograph," said Toye, regarding him with a more critical stare. "But it was with a beard."

"I had it off when I was ashore the other day," said Cazale. "I always meant to, before the end of the voyage."

"I see. It was a Miss Macnair showed me that photograph—Miss Blanche Macnair lives in a little house down there near your old home."

It was as they were turning in at last, but the question spoiled a yawn for Cazale.

"Sometimes, at one of our out-stations," said he, looking puzzled.

"I've seen your photograph," said Toye, regarding him with a more critical stare. "But it was with a beard."

"I had it off when I was ashore the other day," said Cazale. "I always meant to, before the end of the voyage."

"I see. It was a Miss Macnair showed me that photograph—Miss Blanche Macnair lives in a little house down there near your old home."

It was as they were turning in at last, but the question spoiled a yawn for Cazale.

"Sometimes, at one of our out-stations," said he, looking puzzled.

"I've seen your photograph," said Toye, regarding him with a more critical stare. "But it was with a beard."

"I had it off when I was ashore the other day," said Cazale. "I always meant to, before the end of the voyage."

"I see. It was a Miss Macnair showed me that photograph—Miss Blanche Macnair lives in a little house down there near your old home."

DUTCH TOWERS

By MARTIN CONWAY

OLLAND in its quaint way is a land of romance, but of a burgherish solid sort, the very antipodes of the romance of the sunny East. Dutch romance is the child of industry, enterprise, dogged courage, fog and waterways, and its great days fell within the limits of the seventeenth century. Then ships of Holland sailed all the seven seas and brought home wealth and tales of adventure. Then its sailors hammered at the arctic ice-pack and pushed their trade among tropical spice islands. Then it was that De Ruyter sailed up the Thames with a broom at his masthead; then, too, that Rembrandt painted and Vondel rhymed. That also for Holland was a great building age, when prosperity caused cities to grow, canals to be dug, ports to be built, and the multiplex activity of Dutchmen to manifest itself in all kinds of makings and shapings upon the surface of their amphibious land—half earth, half water. Thus it is the Holland of Rembrandt's day and thereabout that remains most interesting to the traveler, and it is the buildings then erected that are most worthy of study and presentation within their towns.

Amsterdam, when Rembrandt went to settle there about 1631, was passing architecturally through a period of transition. The small core of the city, where everything was on a small scale, still retained many remnants of the medieval age. The canals in it were narrow, the accommodation for ships was exiguous. A growing population and expanding trade were finding themselves horribly cramped.

Amsterdam grew like an onion, by layers surrounding layers about a center. From time to time new rings of canals were added, with radial connections, and then more rings outside them. Of course fortified walls were erected round the whole at different dates, but they never lasted for long and had to be replaced by new circuits as the city expanded. The moat of each new circuit became a canal within the next. Those who were responsible for the important changes made at the beginning of the seventeenth century had the good sense not to destroy every memorial of medieval days. In particular they spared some of the old fortification towers, applying them to a new purpose and refitting them accordingly. Thus the tower called Montelbaanstoren, which still stands by the old Schans, one of the largest bastions of the earlier canal system, was a part of the medieval fortifications. They turned it into a picturesque bell tower by the addition of a superstructure set up in the year 1606. Though this was done before Rembrandt's day, he omitted the steeple in an admirable drawing he made of it, thus giving one among countless instances that might be cited, of his attachment rather to the past than to the coming taste of the people of his day. The only other high tower at Amsterdam drawn by him was the Westertoren or tower of the Westerkerk on the Prinsengracht, which unfortunately, we cannot produce in this place. That tower was a favorite with the folk of Amsterdam, and I have more than once found it referred to, in narratives of Dutch exploration as a measure of height, as, for instance, when a glacier cliff is said to have stood out of the sea about as high as the Westertoren. It is a storied tower, composed of four retreating rectangular stages, each with columns at the angles, not unlike some of Wren's towers in the city of London.

The Westertoren, however, carries us down rather too late, when Palladian ideas were affecting Dutch architects. This was a feature of the change of taste, which made the art of Rembrandt old fashioned and terminated his prosperity. The Mint tower of 1640, and the others shown in our illustrations, are examples of Amsterdam steeple architecture of Rembrandt's own generation. If they must be called fantastic they are certainly picturesque, and admirably suited to enliven a canal vista or to poke up out of a foreground of crew-stepped gables.

These are the typically Dutch towers, these buildings of the great days of Dutch romance. Earlier towers we can find in Holland, but they are Gothic, and reach the style elaborated in France. France also got the key of architectural style in the eighteenth century. In the seventeenth century Holland stood on her own feet, and other folk imitated the work of her artists. The Dutch style affected England; it was imitated in the remarkable buildings erected in Denmark for Christian IV. It penetrated to the ends of the earth. It went with Dutch adventurers to New York, to Ceylon, to the Cape of Good Hope, where examples of it may still be hunted out by patient searching.

Our illustrations include a few of the earlier towers of Holland, about which a word or two must be said. Here, for instance, are the Cathedral and one of the medieval gates of Maastricht, neither of them in any sense characteristically Dutch, for the Holland that the world admires was created in the fire of the Reformation wars. The cathedral church of St. Servatius at Maastricht is of early Christian foundation, and it is even claimed that portions of the existing walls date back to the sixth century. The building as we see it, however, is a great romantic church of Rhinisch style, with restored eleventh-century towers at the angles of its apse and a later Gothic bell tower adjacent to a side aisle. Utrecht and Delft have bell towers of a like kind, the upper story being many-sided and many-gabled. Another such tower is in Paradise itself, if we are to believe Hubert Van Eyck's picture of that delectable land, the famous altarpiece still at Ghent, unless the Germans have carried it off.

Medieval Maastricht was not a large place. The Cathedral was in the center of it; not more than five hundred yards away are the remains of the city walls of 1290. The exigencies of war make the military architecture of a given date everywhere much the same. Thus the tower-fanked south gate of Maastricht is not different in design from many another that can be found in the old cities of Europe. But though it had little individuality to start with, the adventures and patchings of time have ended it with a picturesque of its own. The builders gave it practically no decoration, but such solid works receive all they need from the hand of time, which adds detail with merrily taste. The planer an edifice may have been to start with, the better time adorns it, provided it has been built with sound materials, good workmanship and in good proportions. Most of England's noble castles must have looked gaunt and even (to contemporary eyes) ugly. To the Saxon citizens of London the White (doubtless whitewashed) tower can hardly have conveyed aesthetic pleasure. But time has even decorated Norman castles, so that not the baldest modern skyscraper need despair of future admiration if it can hold itself up and last long enough.

Amersfoort tower is anything rather than plain. On the contrary, it is in the Gothic style tending towards flamboyant, while its general design is of the type of the tower at Utrecht, which, indeed, being only fourteen miles away, doubtless suggested it. That was built during the middle half of the fourteenth century; Amersfoort at the very end of the fifteenth. Both have the open octagonal top story already described. Utrecht is 338 feet high, Amersfoort 312 feet. The latter is considered to be the finest Gothic tower in Holland. I suppose it to have been surmounted or intended to be surmounted by a plain spire, but the present bulbous top and open-work crown were put on in 1555. Where did Holland get its taste for these bulbs? She did not have a monopoly of them, for they are numerous enough in Germany and even in Switzerland. An oriental original probably suggested them. The Amersfoort church was built in the fourteenth century, and the tower may well have been projected from the first. An explosion damaged the building, but the damage was made good and the tower fortunately escaped.

Few tourists stop at Amersfoort, but plenty of them can see the tower from the train on their way eastward from Amsterdam. The summit of it looks northward far away over the Zuyder Zee, and in every other direction over a country as flat as water. There was some fun in building high towers in Holland, they could be seen from so far away. Amersfoort can hail Utrecht on clear days, and both of them from Rhine (I imagine), which Rembrandt sketched.

Anyone who has landed at Flushing, and proceeded thence anywhere by train, has been carried for the first few miles over the amphibious region of the island of Walcheren. He has passed Middelburg and presently, if he looked away off to the left, he will have seen, at a distance of two or three miles, the little town of Veere. Both are old towns and highly picturesque. So indeed Durer recorded them to be when he visited them in the cold December of 1520. "Middelburg," he said, "is a good town, a fine place for sketching. It has a beautiful town hall with a fine tower. There is much art shown in all things here." All he has to say about Veere, is that "it is a fine little town where the ships from all lands." The object of Durer's unfortunate winter journey to the islands of Zeeland was not, however, to see towers and town halls, but to satisfy his insatiable curiosity about natural history. He wanted to make a drawing of a whale that had been stranded in those parts. Such curiosity in the case of men like Durer and Leonardo is the first indication we possess of the approach of the age of science. The whale had been washed away before Durer's arrival, so the drawing was never made, but a chill that he caught on this journey laid the foundations of the illness which eventually carried him off. The town hall of Middelburg and its fine tower were new buildings when he saw them. The town hall and tower of Veere were some forty years older, having been built about 1470 by A. Kockermans the elder, though the statues by the facade were not added till after Durer's visit. Unfortunately the surviving traces of his sketchbook contain no drawings of these places. There is, indeed, on one page the complicated top of some tower, unnamed, the highest member of which is like that of Veere, but the rest is different. Durer was evidently entertained by these fantastic steeples and several of them appear in his sketches. In the nature of things, however, such light wooden structures as crowned the towers of the low countries were not as durable as the stone substructures. Some have perished by fire, others have lost their open-work decorations, others have had to be repaired in various degrees, and repair has generally meant simplification. The tower of Veere, however, was apparently never very elaborate, and probably remains much as it is originally built. Four-square and plain below, the stone portion is completed with a clock chamber, strengthened at the corners. Then comes a balustraded bell chamber, with a bulbous spire for roof to it. Usually slender and graceful proportions. Little imitation dormer windows were a common decorative detail on these bulbs, but on Veere spire they are reduced to the roofs of them only. These and the Gothic crochets higher up are the only medieval elements surviving in this tower.

The town hall below contains a treasure worth going to see—an admirable classification of "sights" which we owe to the common sense of Doctor Johnson. How useful a guide-book to Europe, confined to the things "worth going to see," would be when peace returns, hardly to be looked for in the days of any but the young. The treasure at Veere is a magnificent goblet, richly enameled and chased, which the townfolk caused to be made for, and presented to, the Emperor Maximilian.

How they managed to have both the prestige of giving it and the solid satisfaction of keeping it is not recorded in any books to which I have access. At all events, there it remains—a very handsome example of a fine period of art in the low countries. Veere also possesses a fourteenth century church, once in ruins but now repaired; also some remarkable old houses, a fountain of 1551 and other agreeable remains. On the whole a traveler on landing in Holland might well spend a night at Middelburg, where he can hire cycle or motor and make in a single day a circuit of "entertaining little places, which preserve the charms of old Holland more completely than the larger and more famous cities where modern life has compelled much external modernization."

ELABORATE EVASION.

"Are the fish biting now?" asked the stranger. "Yes," replied the boy. "But you ain't allowed to catch 'em."

"Do you mean to say you don't fish?" "I don't exactly fish. But if a fish comes along and bites at me I do my best to defend myself."

Landmark Restored. An old Long Island landmark which was used as a paper mill almost a century ago and later was a favorite haunt of William Cullen Bryant is to be restored by the poet's son-in-law, Harold Godwin. The original was blown down about five years ago. The new mill, which will generate electricity for Roslyn park, recently purchased by the town of Hempstead.

Nature and decide by its own standards whether or not a certain structure is of value to a plant.

Mean Old Thing. "That fellow Tompkins is a pretty slick proposition."

"What has he done now?"

"He buys all his eggs at a department store and has them put on his wife's charge account, and then when the first of the month comes around he calls her down for running up such extravagant bills."

A Safe Dare. Bishop Moreland said that a nagged married man who does not seek divorce is a true hero—but well dare anyone of them to bear a hero's name.

THE CATHEDRAL, MAASTRICHT

MONTELBAANSTOREN, AMSTERDAM

AMERSFOORT

arrival, so the drawing was never made, but a chill that he caught on this journey laid the foundations of the illness which eventually carried him off.

The town hall of Middelburg and its fine tower were new buildings when he saw them.

The town hall and tower of Veere were some forty years older, having been built about 1470 by A. Kockermans the elder, though the statues by the facade were not added till after Durer's visit.

Unfortunately the surviving traces of his sketchbook contain no drawings of these places.

There is, indeed, on one page the complicated top of some tower, unnamed, the highest member of which is like that of Veere, but the rest is different.

Durer was evidently entertained by these fantastic steeples and several of them appear in his sketches.

In the nature of things, however, such light wooden structures as crowned the towers of the low countries were not as durable as the stone substructures.

Some have perished by fire, others have lost their open-work decorations, others have had to be repaired in various degrees, and repair has generally meant simplification.

The tower of Veere, however, was apparently never very elaborate, and probably remains much as it is originally built.

Four-square and plain below, the stone portion is completed with a clock chamber, strengthened at the corners.

Then comes a balustraded bell chamber, with a bulbous spire for roof to it.

Usually slender and graceful proportions. Little imitation dormer windows were a common decorative detail on these bulbs, but on Veere spire they are reduced to the roofs of them only.

These and the Gothic crochets higher up are the only medieval elements surviving in this tower.

The town hall below contains a treasure worth going to see—an admirable classification of "sights" which we owe to the common sense of Doctor Johnson.

How useful a guide-book to Europe, confined to the things "worth going to see," would be when peace returns, hardly to be looked for in the days of any but the young.

The treasure at Veere is a magnificent goblet, richly enameled and chased, which the townfolk caused to be made for, and presented to, the Emperor Maximilian.

How they managed to have both the prestige of giving it and the solid satisfaction of keeping it is not recorded in any books to which I have access.

At all events, there it remains—a very handsome example of a fine period of art in the low countries.

Veere also possesses a fourteenth century church, once in ruins but now repaired; also some remarkable old houses, a fountain of 1551 and other agreeable remains.

On the whole a traveler on landing in Holland might well spend a night at Middelburg, where he can hire cycle or motor and make in a single day a circuit of "entertaining little places, which preserve the charms of old Holland more completely than the larger and more famous cities where modern life has compelled much external modernization."

ELABORATE EVASION.

"Are the fish biting now?" asked the stranger.

"Yes," replied the boy. "But you ain't allowed to catch 'em."

"Do you mean to say you don't fish?"

"I don't exactly fish. But if a fish comes along and bites at me I do my best to defend myself."

Landmark Restored. An old Long Island landmark which was used as a paper mill almost a century ago and later was a favorite haunt of William Cullen Bryant is to be restored by the poet's son-in-law, Harold Godwin.

The original was blown down about five years ago. The new mill, which will generate electricity for Roslyn park, recently purchased by the town of Hempstead.

Nature and decide by its own standards whether or not a certain structure is of value to a plant.

Mean Old Thing. "That fellow Tompkins is a pretty slick proposition."

"What has he done now?"

"He buys all his eggs at a department store and has them put on his wife's charge account, and then when the first of the month comes around he calls her down for running up such extravagant bills."

A Safe Dare. Bishop Moreland said that a nagged married man who does not seek divorce is a true hero—but well dare anyone of them to bear a hero's name.

Whitefish, Mont.—A live deer was caught in the waters of Lake Ronan recently by Messrs. Worthy, Friend and John Sullivan, who were spending the day fishing. The deer, when first seen, was swimming in the lake and the party immediately gave chase in a rowboat. The deer was overtaken and caught.

A Safe Dare. Bishop Moreland said that a nagged married man who does not seek divorce is a true hero—but well dare anyone of them to bear a hero's name.

Whitefish, Mont.—A live deer was caught in the waters of Lake Ronan recently by Messrs. Worthy, Friend and John Sullivan, who were spending the day fishing. The deer, when first seen, was swimming in the lake and the party immediately gave chase in a rowboat. The deer was overtaken and caught.

A Safe Dare. Bishop Moreland said that a nagged married man who does not seek divorce is a true hero—but well dare anyone of them to bear a hero's name.

Whitefish, Mont.—A live deer was caught in the waters of Lake Ronan recently by Messrs. Worthy, Friend and John Sullivan, who were spending the day fishing. The deer, when first seen, was swimming in the lake and the party immediately gave chase in a rowboat. The deer was overtaken and caught.

A Safe Dare. Bishop Moreland said that a nagged married man who does not seek divorce is a true hero—but well dare anyone of them to bear a hero's name.

Whitefish, Mont.—A live deer was caught in the waters of Lake Ronan recently by Messrs. Worthy, Friend and John Sullivan, who were spending the day fishing. The deer, when first seen, was swimming in the lake and the party immediately gave chase in a rowboat. The deer was overtaken and caught.

A Safe Dare. Bishop Moreland said that a nagged married man who does not seek divorce is a true hero—but well dare anyone of them to bear a hero's name.

Whitefish, Mont.—A live deer was caught in the waters of Lake Ronan recently by Messrs. Worthy, Friend and John Sullivan, who were spending the day fishing. The deer, when first seen, was swimming in the lake and the party immediately gave chase in a rowboat. The deer was overtaken and caught.

A Safe Dare. Bishop Moreland said that a nagged married man who does not seek divorce is a true hero—but well dare anyone of them to bear a hero's name.

Whitefish, Mont.—A live deer was caught in the waters of Lake Ronan recently by Messrs. Worthy, Friend and John Sullivan, who were spending the day fishing. The deer, when first seen, was swimming in the lake and the party immediately gave chase in a rowboat. The deer was overtaken and caught.

A Safe Dare. Bishop Moreland said that a nagged married man who does not seek divorce is a true hero—but well dare anyone of them to bear a hero's name.

Whitefish, Mont.—A live deer was caught in the waters of Lake Ronan recently by Messrs. Worthy, Friend and John Sullivan, who were spending the day fishing. The deer, when first seen, was swimming in the lake and the party immediately gave chase in a rowboat. The deer was overtaken and caught.

A Safe Dare. Bishop Moreland said that a nagged married man who does not seek divorce is a true hero—but well dare anyone of them to bear a hero's name.

Whitefish, Mont.—A live deer was caught in the waters of Lake Ronan recently by Messrs. Worthy, Friend and John Sullivan, who were spending the day fishing. The deer, when first seen, was swimming in the lake and the party immediately

THE THOUSANDTH WOMAN OF ERNEST W. HORNING

Author of 'The Amateur Cracksmen', 'Raffles', etc.

ILLUSTRATIONS BY O. IRWIN MYERS

CHAPTER I.

A Small World.

Cazale sat up suddenly that his head hit the woodwork over the upper berth. His own voice still rang in his startled ears. He wondered how much he had said, and how far it could have carried above the throb of the liner's screws and the mighty pounding of the water against her plates. And then he remembered how he had been left behind at Naples, and rejoined the Kaiser Fritz at Genoa, only to find that he no longer had a cabin to himself.

A snail assured Cazale that he was neither alone at the moment nor yet the only one awake; he pulled back the awning curtain, and there on the settee sat a man with a strong blue chin and the quizzical solemnity of an animated sphinx.

It was his cabin companion, an American named Hilton Toye, and Cazale addressed him with nervous familiarity.

"I say! Have I been talking in my sleep?"

"Why, yes!" replied Hilton Toye, and broke into a smile that made a human being of him.

Cazale forced a responsive grin. "What did I say?" he asked, with an amused curiosity at variance with his shivering hand and shivering forehead.

Toye took him in from crumpled to finger-tips, with something deep behind his kindly smile. "I judge," said he, "you were dreaming of some drama you've been seeing ashore, Mr. Cazale."

"Dreaming!" said Cazale, wiping his face. "It was a nightmare! I must have turned in too soon after dinner. But I should like to know what I said."

"I can tell you word for word. You said, 'Hilton Craven—dead!' and then you said, 'Dead—dead—four! Four!' If you'd got to have it both ways to make sure."

"It's true," said Cazale, shuddering. "I saw him lying dead in my dream. Hilton Toye took a gold watch from his waistcoat pocket. 'Thirteen minutes to one in the morning,' he said, 'and now it's September eighteenth. Take a note of that, Mr. Cazale. It may be another case of second sight for your psychical research society.'"

"I don't care if it is," Cazale said, smoking furiously.

"Meaning it was no great friend you dreamed was dead?"

"No friend at all, dead or alive!"

"I'm kind of wondering," said Toye, watching him closely. "You had by way of being a friend of mine. I know a Hilton Craven over in Kingston way, in a big house."

"Called Upstairs?"

"Yes, sir! That's the man. Little world, isn't it?"

The man in the upper berth had to hold on to his curtain closely. The man tilted back on the settee, all attention all the time, more than ever an effective foil to him. Without the kindly smile that went as quickly as it came, Hilton Toye was somber, subtle and menacing. Cazale, on the other hand, was of sanguine complexion and impetuous looks. He wanted a rich bronze about the middle of the face, but it broke off across his forehead like the coloring of a meerschaum pipe. Both men were in their early prime, and each stood roughly for his race and type: the traveled American who knows the world, and the elemental Britisher who has made some one loose end of it his own.

"I thought of my Hilton Craven," continued Toye, "as soon as ever you came out with yours. But it seemed a kind of ordinary name. I might have known it was the same if I'd recollected the name of his firm. Isn't it Craven & Cazale, the stockbrokers, down in Tottenham Yard?"

"That's it," said Cazale bitterly. "But there have been none of the firm since my father died ten years ago."

"But you're Hilton Craven's old partner's son?"

"I'm his only son."

"Then no wonder you dream about Hilton Craven," cried Toye, "and no wonder it wouldn't break your heart if your dream came true."

"It wouldn't!" said Cazale through his teeth. "He wasn't a white man to me or mine—whatever you may have found him."

"I had a little place near his one summer. I know only what I heard down there."

"What did you hear?" asked Cazale.

"I've been away ten years, ever since the crash that ruined everybody but the man at the bottom of the whole thing. It would be a kindness to tell me what you heard."

"Well, I guess you've said it yourself right now. That man seems to have beguiled everybody all around except himself; that's how I make it out," said Hilton Toye.

"He did worse," said Cazale through his teeth. "He killed my poor father, he banished me to the wilds of Australia; and he sent a better man than himself to prison for fourteen years!"

Toye opened his dark eyes for once.

"What do you mean?"

"I mean that you're going to marry her, if you haven't yet."

Cazale laughed, but the shadow had returned. "No, I left that to my pal," he said. "He did that all right!"

"Then I advise you to go and do likewise," rejoined his new friend with a gentleness impossible to take amiss. "I shouldn't wonder, now, if there's some girl you left behind you."

Cazale shook his head. "None who would look on herself in that light," he interrupted. It was all he said.

"That's so? No, I never heard that," said he.

"You hear it now. He did all that, indirectly, and I didn't realize it at the time. I was too young, and the whole thing laid me out too flat; but I know it now, and I've known it long enough. It was worse than a crash. It was a scandal. That was what finished us off, all but Henry Craven. There'd been a kind of swindle—special investments recommended by the firm, bogus certificates and all the rest of it. We were all to blame, of course. My poor father ought never to have been a poet. Even I—I was only a youngster in the office, but I ought to have known what was going on. But Henry Craven didn't know. He was in it up to the neck, though, a fellow called Scruton did the actual job. Scruton got fourteen years—and Craven got our old house on the river."

"And feathered it pretty well!" said Toye, nodding. "Yes, I did hear that. And I can tell you they don't think any better of him, in the neighborhood, for going to live right there. But how did he stop the other man's mouth, and how do you know?"

"Never mind how I know," said Cazale. "Scruton was a friend of mine, though an older man; he was good to me, though he was a wrong 'un himself. He paid for it—paid for two—that I can say! But he was engaged to Ethel Craven at the time, was going to be taken into partnership on their marriage, and you can put two and two together for yourself."

"Did she wait for him?"

"About as long as you'd expect of the breed! She was her father's daughter. I wonder you didn't come across her and her husband!"

"I didn't see so much of the Craven crowd," replied Hilton Toye. "I wasn't stuck on them either. Say, Cazale, wouldn't it be that old man when Scruton comes out, would you?"

But Cazale showed that he could hold his tongue when he liked, and his grim look was not so legible as some that had come and gone before. This one stuck until Toye produced a big flask from his grip, and the talk shifted to less painful ground. It was the last night in the Bay of Biscay, and Cazale told how he had been in it a fortnight on his way out by sailing-vessel. He even told it with considerable humor, and hit off sundry passengers of ten years ago as though they had been aboard the German boat that night and Toye drew him out about the bush until the shadows passed for minutes from the red-brick face with the white-brick forehead.

"I remember thinking I would dig for gold," said Cazale. "That's all I knew about Australia. But you can have adventures of sorts if you go far enough up-country for 'em; it still pays to know how to use your feet out there. I remember once at a bush where they flung up such filthy chops that I said I'd fight the cook if I had."

"Say—Have I Been Talking in My Sleep?"

They'd send him up; and he blomed if it wasn't a fellow I'd been at school with and worshipped as no end of a swell at games! Potts his name was, old Venus Potts, the best looking chap in the school among other things; and there he was, cooking carrion at twenty-five bob a week! Instead of fighting we joined forces, got a burgling job on a good station, then a better one over shearing, and after that I wormed my way in as book-keeper, and my pal became one of the head overseers. Now we're our own bosses with a share in the show, and the owner comes up only once a year to see how things are looking."

"I should wonder, now, if there's some girl you left behind you."

Cazale shook his head. "None who would look on herself in that light," he interrupted. It was all he said.

"That's so? No, I never heard that," said he.

"You hear it now. He did all that, indirectly, and I didn't realize it at the time. I was too young, and the whole thing laid me out too flat; but I know it now, and I've known it long enough. It was worse than a crash. It was a scandal. That was what finished us off, all but Henry Craven. There'd been a kind of swindle—special investments recommended by the firm, bogus certificates and all the rest of it. We were all to blame, of course. My poor father ought never to have been a poet. Even I—I was only a youngster in the office, but I ought to have known what was going on. But Henry Craven didn't know. He was in it up to the neck, though, a fellow called Scruton did the actual job. Scruton got fourteen years—and Craven got our old house on the river."

"And feathered it pretty well!" said Toye, nodding. "Yes, I did hear that. And I can tell you they don't think any better of him, in the neighborhood, for going to live right there. But how did he stop the other man's mouth, and how do you know?"

"Never mind how I know," said Cazale. "Scruton was a friend of mine, though an older man; he was good to me, though he was a wrong 'un himself. He paid for it—paid for two—that I can say! But he was engaged to Ethel Craven at the time, was going to be taken into partnership on their marriage, and you can put two and two together for yourself."

"Did she wait for him?"

"About as long as you'd expect of the breed! She was her father's daughter. I wonder you didn't come across her and her husband!"

"I didn't see so much of the Craven crowd," replied Hilton Toye. "I wasn't stuck on them either. Say, Cazale, wouldn't it be that old man when Scruton comes out, would you?"

But Cazale showed that he could hold his tongue when he liked, and his grim look was not so legible as some that had come and gone before. This one stuck until Toye produced a big flask from his grip, and the talk shifted to less painful ground. It was the last night in the Bay of Biscay, and Cazale told how he had been in it a fortnight on his way out by sailing-vessel. He even told it with considerable humor, and hit off sundry passengers of ten years ago as though they had been aboard the German boat that night and Toye drew him out about the bush until the shadows passed for minutes from the red-brick face with the white-brick forehead.

"I remember thinking I would dig for gold," said Cazale. "That's all I knew about Australia. But you can have adventures of sorts if you go far enough up-country for 'em; it still pays to know how to use your feet out there. I remember once at a bush where they flung up such filthy chops that I said I'd fight the cook if I had."

"Say—Have I Been Talking in My Sleep?"

They'd send him up; and he blomed if it wasn't a fellow I'd been at school with and worshipped as no end of a swell at games! Potts his name was, old Venus Potts, the best looking chap in the school among other things; and there he was, cooking carrion at twenty-five bob a week! Instead of fighting we joined forces, got a burgling job on a good station, then a better one over shearing, and after that I wormed my way in as book-keeper, and my pal became one of the head overseers. Now we're our own bosses with a share in the show, and the owner comes up only once a year to see how things are looking."

"I should wonder, now, if there's some girl you left behind you."

Cazale shook his head. "None who would look on herself in that light," he interrupted. It was all he said.

"That's so? No, I never heard that," said he.

"You hear it now. He did all that, indirectly, and I didn't realize it at the time. I was too young, and the whole thing laid me out too flat; but I know it now, and I've known it long enough. It was worse than a crash. It was a scandal. That was what finished us off, all but Henry Craven. There'd been a kind of swindle—special investments recommended by the firm, bogus certificates and all the rest of it. We were all to blame, of course. My poor father ought never to have been a poet. Even I—I was only a youngster in the office, but I ought to have known what was going on. But Henry Craven didn't know. He was in it up to the neck, though, a fellow called Scruton did the actual job. Scruton got fourteen years—and Craven got our old house on the river."

"And feathered it pretty well!" said Toye, nodding. "Yes, I did hear that. And I can tell you they don't think any better of him, in the neighborhood, for going to live right there. But how did he stop the other man's mouth, and how do you know?"

"Never mind how I know," said Cazale. "Scruton was a friend of mine, though an older man; he was good to me, though he was a wrong 'un himself. He paid for it—paid for two—that I can say! But he was engaged to Ethel Craven at the time, was going to be taken into partnership on their marriage, and you can put two and two together for yourself."

"Did she wait for him?"

"About as long as you'd expect of the breed! She was her father's daughter. I wonder you didn't come across her and her husband!"

"I didn't see so much of the Craven crowd," replied Hilton Toye. "I wasn't stuck on them either. Say, Cazale, wouldn't it be that old man when Scruton comes out, would you?"

But Cazale showed that he could hold his tongue when he liked, and his grim look was not so legible as some that had come and gone before. This one stuck until Toye produced a big flask from his grip, and the talk shifted to less painful ground. It was the last night in the Bay of Biscay, and Cazale told how he had been in it a fortnight on his way out by sailing-vessel. He even told it with considerable humor, and hit off sundry passengers of ten years ago as though they had been aboard the German boat that night and Toye drew him out about the bush until the shadows passed for minutes from the red-brick face with the white-brick forehead.

"I remember thinking I would dig for gold," said Cazale. "That's all I knew about Australia. But you can have adventures of sorts if you go far enough up-country for 'em; it still pays to know how to use your feet out there. I remember once at a bush where they flung up such filthy chops that I said I'd fight the cook if I had."

"Say—Have I Been Talking in My Sleep?"

They'd send him up; and he blomed if it wasn't a fellow I'd been at school with and worshipped as no end of a swell at games! Potts his name was, old Venus Potts, the best looking chap in the school among other things; and there he was, cooking carrion at twenty-five bob a week! Instead of fighting we joined forces, got a burgling job on a good station, then a better one over shearing, and after that I wormed my way in as book-keeper, and my pal became one of the head overseers. Now we're our own bosses with a share in the show, and the owner comes up only once a year to see how things are looking."

"I should wonder, now, if there's some girl you left behind you."

Cazale shook his head. "None who would look on herself in that light," he interrupted. It was all he said.

"That's so? No, I never heard that," said he.

"You hear it now. He did all that, indirectly, and I didn't realize it at the time. I was too young, and the whole thing laid me out too flat; but I know it now, and I've known it long enough. It was worse than a crash. It was a scandal. That was what finished us off, all but Henry Craven. There'd been a kind of swindle—special investments recommended by the firm, bogus certificates and all the rest of it. We were all to blame, of course. My poor father ought never to have been a poet. Even I—I was only a youngster in the office, but I ought to have known what was going on. But Henry Craven didn't know. He was in it up to the neck, though, a fellow called Scruton did the actual job. Scruton got fourteen years—and Craven got our old house on the river."

"And feathered it pretty well!" said Toye, nodding. "Yes, I did hear that. And I can tell you they don't think any better of him, in the neighborhood, for going to live right there. But how did he stop the other man's mouth, and how do you know?"

"Never mind how I know," said Cazale. "Scruton was a friend of mine, though an older man; he was good to me, though he was a wrong 'un himself. He paid for it—paid for two—that I can say! But he was engaged to Ethel Craven at the time, was going to be taken into partnership on their marriage, and you can put two and two together for yourself."

"Did she wait for him?"

"About as long as you'd expect of the breed! She was her father's daughter. I wonder you didn't come across her and her husband!"

"I didn't see so much of the Craven crowd," replied Hilton Toye. "I wasn't stuck on them either. Say, Cazale, wouldn't it be that old man when Scruton comes out, would you?"

But Cazale showed that he could hold his tongue when he liked, and his grim look was not so legible as some that had come and gone before. This one stuck until Toye produced a big flask from his grip, and the talk shifted to less painful ground. It was the last night in the Bay of Biscay, and Cazale told how he had been in it a fortnight on his way out by sailing-vessel. He even told it with considerable humor, and hit off sundry passengers of ten years ago as though they had been aboard the German boat that night and Toye drew him out about the bush until the shadows passed for minutes from the red-brick face with the white-brick forehead.

"I remember thinking I would dig for gold," said Cazale. "That's all I knew about Australia. But you can have adventures of sorts if you go far enough up-country for 'em; it still pays to know how to use your feet out there. I remember once at a bush where they flung up such filthy chops that I said I'd fight the cook if I had."

"Say—Have I Been Talking in My Sleep?"

They'd send him up; and he blomed if it wasn't a fellow I'd been at school with and worshipped as no end of a swell at games! Potts his name was, old Venus Potts, the best looking chap in the school among other things; and there he was, cooking carrion at twenty-five bob a week! Instead of fighting we joined forces, got a burgling job on a good station, then a better one over shearing, and after that I wormed my way in as book-keeper, and my pal became one of the head overseers. Now we're our own bosses with a share in the show, and the owner comes up only once a year to see how things are looking."

"I should wonder, now, if there's some girl you left behind you."

Cazale shook his head. "None who would look on herself in that light," he interrupted. It was all he said.

"That's so? No, I never heard that," said he.

"You hear it now. He did all that, indirectly, and I didn't realize it at the time. I was too young, and the whole thing laid me out too flat; but I know it now, and I've known it long enough. It was worse than a crash. It was a scandal. That was what finished us off, all but Henry Craven. There'd been a kind of swindle—special investments recommended by the firm, bogus certificates and all the rest of it. We were all to blame, of course. My poor father ought never to have been a poet. Even I—I was only a youngster in the office, but I ought to have known what was going on. But Henry Craven didn't know. He was in it up to the neck, though, a fellow called Scruton did the actual job. Scruton got fourteen years—and Craven got our old house on the river."

"And feathered it pretty well!" said Toye, nodding. "Yes, I did hear that. And I can tell you they don't think any better of him, in the neighborhood, for going to live right there. But how did he stop the other man's mouth, and how do you know?"

"Never mind how I know," said Cazale. "Scruton was a friend of mine, though an older man; he was good to me, though he was a wrong 'un himself. He paid for it—paid for two—that I can say! But he was engaged to Ethel Craven at the time, was going to be taken into partnership on their marriage, and you can put two and two together for yourself."

"Did she wait for him?"

"About as long as you'd expect of the breed! She was her father's daughter. I wonder you didn't come across her and her husband!"

"I didn't see so much of the Craven crowd," replied Hilton Toye. "I wasn't stuck on them either. Say, Cazale, wouldn't it be that old man when Scruton comes out, would you?"

But Cazale showed that he could hold his tongue when he liked, and his grim look was not so legible as some that had come and gone before. This one stuck until Toye produced a big flask from his grip, and the talk shifted to less painful ground. It was the last night in the Bay of Biscay, and Cazale told how he had been in it a fortnight on his way out by sailing-vessel. He even told it with considerable humor, and hit off sundry passengers of ten years ago as though they had been aboard the German boat that night and Toye drew him out about the bush until the shadows passed for minutes from the red-brick face with the white-brick forehead.

"I remember thinking I would dig for gold," said Cazale. "That's all I knew about Australia. But you can have adventures of sorts if you go far enough up-country for 'em; it still pays to know how to use your feet out there. I remember once at a bush where they flung up such filthy chops that I said I'd fight the cook if I had."

"Say—Have I Been Talking in My Sleep?"

They'd send him up; and he blomed if it wasn't a fellow I'd been at school with and worshipped as no end of a swell at games! Potts his name was, old Venus Potts, the best looking chap in the school among other things; and there he was, cooking carrion at twenty-five bob a week! Instead of fighting we joined forces, got a burgling job on a good station, then a better one over shearing, and after that I wormed my way in as book-keeper, and my pal became one of the head overseers. Now we're our own bosses with a share in the show, and the owner comes up only once a year to see how things are looking."

"I should wonder, now, if there's some girl you left behind you."

Cazale shook his head. "None who would look on herself in that light," he interrupted. It was all he said.

"That's so? No, I never heard that," said he.

"You hear it now. He did all that, indirectly, and I didn't realize it at the time. I was too young, and the whole thing laid me out too flat; but I know it now, and I've known it long enough. It was worse than a crash. It was a scandal. That was what finished us off, all but Henry Craven. There'd been a kind of swindle—special investments recommended by the firm, bogus certificates and all the rest of it. We were all to blame, of course. My poor father ought never to have been a poet. Even I—I was only a youngster in the office, but I ought to have known what was going on. But Henry Craven didn't know. He was in it up to the neck, though, a fellow called Scruton did the actual job. Scruton got fourteen years—and Craven got our old house on the river."

"And feathered it pretty well!" said Toye, nodding. "Yes, I did hear that. And I can tell you they don't think any better of him, in the neighborhood, for going to live right there. But how did he stop the other man's mouth, and how do you know?"

"Never mind how I know," said Cazale. "Scruton was a friend of mine, though an older man; he was good to me, though he was a wrong 'un himself. He paid for it—paid for two—that I can say! But he was engaged to Ethel Craven at the time, was going to be taken into partnership on their marriage, and you can put two and two together for yourself."

"Did she wait for him?"

"About as long as you'd expect of the breed! She was her father's daughter. I wonder you didn't come across her and her husband!"

"I didn't see so much of the Craven crowd," replied Hilton Toye. "I wasn't stuck on them either. Say, Cazale, wouldn't it be that old man when Scruton comes out, would you?"

But Cazale showed that he could hold his tongue when he liked, and his grim look was not so legible as some that had come and gone before. This one stuck until Toye produced a big flask from his grip, and the talk shifted to less painful ground. It was the last night in the Bay of Biscay, and Cazale told how he had been in it a fortnight on his way out by sailing-vessel. He even told it with considerable humor, and hit off sundry passengers of ten years ago as though they had been aboard the German boat that night and Toye drew him out about the bush until the shadows passed for minutes from the red-brick face with the white-brick forehead.

"I remember thinking I would dig for gold," said Cazale. "That's all I knew about Australia. But you can have adventures of sorts if you go far enough up-country for 'em; it still pays to know how to use your feet out there. I remember once at a bush where they flung up such filthy chops that I said I'd fight the cook if I had."

"Say—Have I Been Talking in My Sleep?"

They'd send him up; and he blomed if it wasn't a fellow I'd been at school with and worshipped as no end of a swell at games! Potts his name was, old Venus Potts, the best looking chap in the school among other things; and there he was, cooking carrion at twenty-five bob a week! Instead of fighting we joined forces, got a burgling job on a good station, then a better one over shearing, and after that I wormed my way in as book-keeper, and my pal became one of the head overseers. Now we're our own bosses with a share in the show, and the owner comes up only once a year to see how things are looking."

"I should wonder, now, if there's some girl you left behind you."

Cazale shook his head. "None who would look on herself in that light," he interrupted. It was all he said.

"That's so? No, I never heard that," said he.

"You hear it now. He did all that, indirectly, and I didn't realize it at the time. I was too young, and the whole thing laid me out too flat; but I know it now, and I've known it long enough. It was worse than a crash. It was a scandal. That was what finished us off, all but Henry Craven. There'd been a kind of swindle—special investments recommended by the firm, bogus certificates and all the rest of it. We were all to blame, of course. My poor father ought never to have been a poet. Even I—I was only a youngster in the office, but I ought to have known what was going on. But Henry Craven didn't know. He was in it up to the neck, though, a fellow called Scruton did the actual job. Scruton got fourteen years—and Craven got our old house on the river."

"And feathered it pretty well!" said Toye, nodding. "Yes, I did hear that. And I can tell you they don't think any better of him, in the neighborhood, for going to live right there. But how did he stop the other man's mouth, and how do you know?"

"Never mind how I know," said Cazale. "Scruton was a friend of mine, though an older man; he was good to me, though he was a wrong 'un himself. He paid for it—paid for two—that I can say! But he was engaged to Ethel Craven at the time, was going to be taken into partnership on their marriage, and you can put two and two together for yourself."

"Did she wait for him?"

"About as long as you'd expect of the breed! She was her father's daughter. I wonder you didn't come across her and her husband!"

"I didn't see so much of the Craven crowd," replied Hilton Toye. "I wasn't stuck on them either. Say, Cazale, wouldn't it be that old man when Scruton comes out, would you?"

But Cazale showed that he could hold his tongue when he liked, and his grim look was not so legible as some that had come and gone before. This one stuck until Toye produced a big flask from his grip, and the talk shifted to less painful ground. It was the last night in the Bay of Biscay, and Cazale told how he had been in it a fortnight on his way out by sailing-vessel. He even told it with considerable humor, and hit off sundry passengers of ten years ago as though they had been aboard the German boat that night and Toye drew him out about the bush until the shadows passed for minutes from the red-brick face with the white-brick forehead.

"I remember thinking I would dig for gold," said Cazale. "That's all I knew about Australia. But you can have adventures of sorts if you go far enough up-country for 'em; it still pays to know how to use your feet out there. I remember once at a bush where they flung up such filthy chops that I said I'd fight the cook if I had."

"Say—Have I Been Talking in My Sleep?"

They'd send him up; and he blomed if it wasn't a fellow I'd been at school with and worshipped as no end of a swell at games! Potts his name was, old Venus Potts, the best looking chap in the school among other things; and there he was, cooking carrion at twenty-five bob a week! Instead of fighting we joined forces, got a burgling job on a good station, then a better one over shearing, and after that I wormed my way in as book-keeper, and my pal became one of the head overseers. Now we're our own bosses with a share in the show, and the owner comes up only once a year to see how things are looking."

"I should wonder, now, if there's some girl you left behind you."

Cazale shook his head. "None who would look on herself in that light," he interrupted. It was all he said.

"That's so? No, I never heard that," said he.

"You hear it now. He did all that, indirectly, and I didn't realize it at the time. I was too young, and the whole thing laid me out too flat; but I know it now, and I've known it long enough. It was worse than a crash. It was a scandal. That was what finished us off, all but Henry Craven. There'd been a kind of swindle—special investments recommended by the firm, bogus certificates and all the rest of it. We were all to blame, of course. My poor father ought never to have been a poet. Even I—I was only a youngster in the office, but I ought to have known what was going on. But Henry Craven didn't know. He was in it up to the neck, though, a fellow called Scruton did the actual job. Scruton got fourteen years—and Craven got our old house on the river."

"And feathered it pretty well!" said Toye, nodding. "Yes, I did hear that. And I can tell you they don't think any better of him, in the neighborhood, for going to live right there. But how did he stop the other man's mouth, and how do you know?"

"Never mind how I know," said Cazale. "Scruton was a friend of mine, though an older man; he was good to me, though he was a wrong 'un himself. He paid for it—paid for two—that I can say! But he was engaged to Ethel Craven at the time, was going to be taken into partnership on their marriage, and you can put two and two together for yourself."

</

WILSON IS SLURRED MAY ARREST JOHN D.

AMBASSADOR DUMBA CALLS THE U. S. CHIEF EXECUTIVE "SELF-WILLED."

PAPEN SAYS YANKEES IDIOTIC

Letters Found on James Archibald, Correspondent, Made Public in England—German Military Attache Criticizes Americans.

London, Sept. 23.—The papers taken from War Correspondent James F. J. Archibald by the British authorities, on which was based the request of the United States government for the recall of Doctor Dumba, the Austrian ambassador at Washington, were made public in the press.

There is a letter from Captain von Papen, military attache of the German embassy in Washington, written to his wife and entrusted to the accommodation of Archibald. In it von Papen speaks of "these idiotic Yankees."

There is a copy of a letter written by Count von Bernstorff to Secretary Lansing, but it is frankly an official German reply to the allegations regarding German plots in the United States.

The dossier as made public in the house of commons comprises twenty-one pages, closely printed. Included in it are the letter from Ambassador Dumba to Baron Buelen, the Austro-Hungarian minister of foreign affairs.

In one of these, not hitherto made public, Doctor Dumba refers to the "discouraging attitude" of President Wilson in respect to Austria's demands that the United States prohibit the exportation of munitions to the allies.

Doctor Dumba says the president's position is that America is in a serious crisis which will depend on neutral foreign countries for all its war material and "at no price and in no case will Mr. Wilson allow this source to dry up."

"For this reason," Doctor Dumba says, "I am of opinion that a return to the question . . . will not only be useless, but having regard to the self-willed temperament of the president, harmful."

It is also Doctor Dumba's view that the president can control congress to do his bidding and that recourse to the various states of the Union would be futile.

NEWS FROM FAR AND NEAR

Brownsville, Tex., Sept. 20.—At least twenty-two Carranzista soldiers are believed to have been killed on Friday by American troops in two battles along the Rio Grande. There were no American casualties.

Both battles were started by the Carranzistas, who fired on American troops. One took place before Matamoros, the Mexican town across the Rio Grande, three miles from here, and the other at Los Ebanos, fifty miles north and west of Brownsville.

As a result of the attack by Carranzistas on American troops serious international complications are feared.

Chicago, Sept. 21.—Mrs. Malvina Drummond, formerly Mrs. Marshall Field II, is dead in England. Mrs. Drummond died on her estate, Cadland, near Southampton, on Saturday.

In addition to Marshall Field III Mrs. Drummond is survived by two other children—Henry and Gwendolyn. The two boys are said to be the richest in the United States.

London, Sept. 21.—The Canadian aviator, Hay, has been killed while flying on the Northumberland coast.

Bombay, Sept. 21.—Eighty thousand persons have been rendered homeless by floods in the Gangetic valley since August 29, and 1,800 dwellings have collapsed, according to dispatches from Lucknow. Forty-five persons have been killed.

BULGAR ARMY IS MOBILIZED

Bucharest Says Troops Will Preserve Neutrality—Germans Use Big Guns Against Belgrade.

Washington, Sept. 23.—Mobilization of all military forces in Bulgaria, for the purpose of armed neutrality, has been ordered by the Bulgarian government. Official announcement of this order was communicated on Tuesday by his government to Mr. Panaretov, Bulgaria's minister.

One hundred thousand Bulgarian reservists in the United States have been notified of the order through consuls and will join the colors immediately.

Odd Fellows Elect Grand Sir.

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 23.—Judge J. B. A. Robertson of Oklahoma City, Okla., was elected in this city on Tuesday afternoon grand sire of the sovereign grand lodge, Independent Order of Odd Fellows.

German Silk Stops Bullets.

Amsterdam, Sept. 23.—Silk and velvet are now being utilized by the Germans for making sandbags for the trenches in Belgium, according to the correspondent at Roulers of the Telegraph.

Minneapolis Wins Pennant.

Chicago, Sept. 23.—With a stretch drive that rivaled that of the Boston Braves last year, Minneapolis ended the 1915 season at the top of the American association. St. Paul finished second in the pennant chase.

Drummond Funeral Deferred.

London, Sept. 22.—The funeral of Mrs. Malvina Drummond, who died on Saturday, will be deferred until the arrival of her son, Marshall Field III, who with his wife, sailed from New York on the Ruer St. Louis.

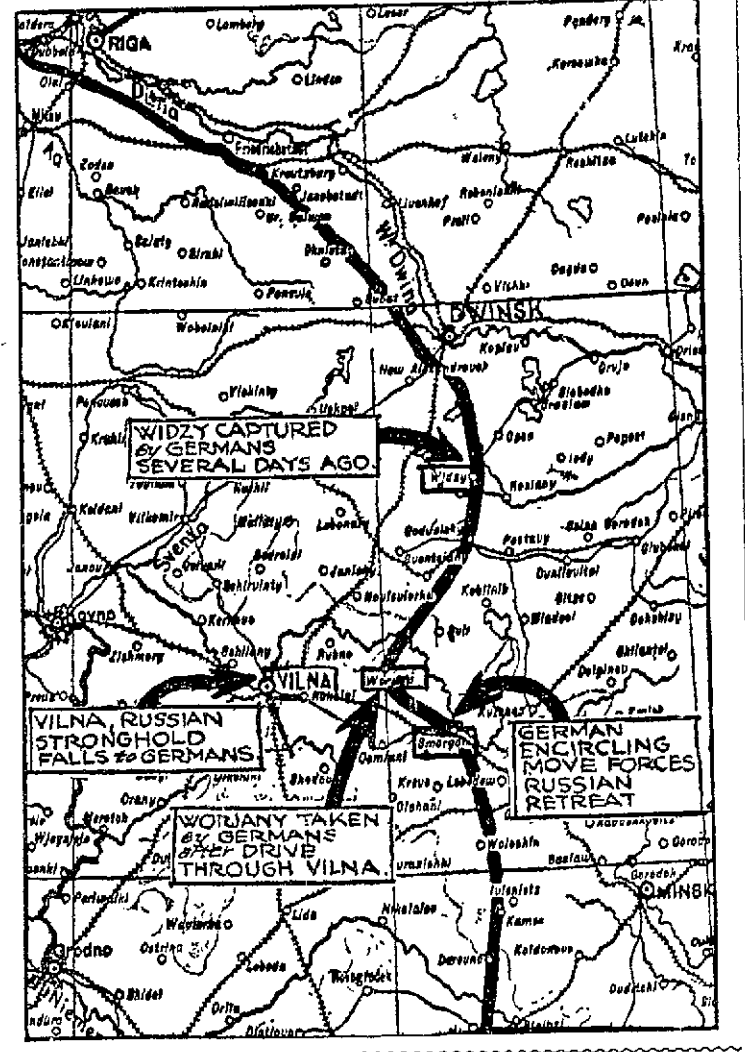

Military Train Blown Up.

Laredo, Tex., Sept. 20.—Ninety soldiers were killed when a Mexican military train was wrecked near Saltillo Wednesday, according to reports received at Laredo. The train was believed to have been blown up.

Defeat Austrian Flyers.

Paris, Sept. 20.—The ministry of marine announced the defeat of an Austrian aerial squadron above the Adriatic by French aviators. The Austrians were supported by small warships, but were forced to retreat.

BATTLE LINES AROUND VILNA

U. S. HITS SEA POLICY CITY OF VILNA TAKEN

WILSON AND LANSING COM- PLETE NOTE TO ENGLAND.

Call Ship Seizures Illegal and Acts Unfriendly—Denounced as Unjustified by World Law.

Washington, Sept. 20.—President Wilson and Secretary of State Lansing conferred at length on Friday on the completed note of this government to Great Britain and on the phases of the controversy with Germany over the sinking of the Arabic.

The points of the new note to Great Britain, as obtained from officials who have had part in putting it into present form, are:

That as the United States has repeatedly and consistently denied specifically every one of the justifications set up by Sir Edward Grey, the British minister for foreign affairs, and Lord Crewe, his assistant, this government cannot fail to regard the persistent oppression of American commerce as unfriendly.

That Great Britain acted illegally when she took cases of seizure and detention out of the domain of diplomacy and made them merely matters for the British prize courts.

That the argument by Great Britain for such action is indefensible, because it is based on the order in council, which is itself an illegal policy.

That the establishment of a blockade under the order in council which pretends to include neutral ports, is not justified by international law.

That the contention of Great Britain that cargoes may be seized and detained on suspicion alone, without any assertion of reasonable proof, is absolutely untenable under any form of recognized law of nations.

That the United States has heretofore given Great Britain notice that it would not tolerate acts such as in the "packers" case, which were based on the illegal withdrawal of questions of seizure and detention from the category of diplomatic questions.

The United States has in fact filed its caveat, putting Great Britain on notice.

It is stated that there is in the note no suggestion of the ultimatum of a demand for a definite answer from Great Britain within any specified time.

DELAY ACTION ON MEXICO

Mediators Agree Some Faction Must Be Recognized—Aspirants Must Prove Capability.

New York, Sept. 21.—The Pan-American conference on Mexican affairs announced at the conclusion of its meeting here on Saturday that each of the diplomatic representatives who had been in attendance on the conference had been given notice that the time has now come to extend recognition to a government in Mexico.

The faction to be recognized was not decided on.

They decided that the de facto government aspiring to recognition must possess "the material and moral capacity necessary to protect the lives of nationals and foreigners."

ILLINOIS BANK IS CLOSED

Private Institution of Fuller & Son at Winslow, Ill., Fails to Open—Cashier Missing.

Winslow, Ill., Sept. 22.—The private bank of Fuller & Son, with deposits of about $128,000, failed to open on Monday. J. B. Fuller, cashier of the bank, has been absent from Winslow since last Tuesday, when he left ostensibly to visit A. L. Noel, his business associate, who conducts the Winslow Metal Furniture company of Manitowish.

Fuller is said to have invested large sums in ventures engineered by Noel.

The entire family fortune of the Fullers—until recently the wealthiest in Stephenson county—went into the bank. His two invalid sisters are penniless if the fears of depositors are justified.

THIRTEEN F-4 VICTIMS ARRIVE

San Francisco, Sept. 22.—The U. S. S. Supply arrived Monday afternoon from Honolulu, having on board the bodies of 13 of the crew of the submarine F-4, which sank in Honolulu harbor.

Longshoremen Strike Off.

New York, Sept. 22.—The 700 striking longshoremen who have been trying to win the freight of the United Fruit company have agreed to end the strike and will return to work at once.

New Aviation Record.

Washington, Sept. 21.—A new American airplane record for duration for pilot alone is held by Lieut. Walter R. Taltierro of the army. He made a mark of 9 hours and 48 minutes sustained flight at San Diego.

Burman Lowers Record.

Providence, R. I., Sept. 21.—Bob Burman in a Peugeot car twice lowered the world's record for one mile on a speedway here by driving a mile in 16 1/2 seconds following with a mile in 45 7/100 seconds.

Mexicans Die of Starvation.

Mexico City, Sept. 20.—Two hundred and forty persons died of starvation here, it is feared that the death rate will increase, as the American Red Cross has been compelled to abandon its relief work for lack of funds.

Says Orduña Tried to Escape.

Amsterdam, Sept. 20.—The German foreign office handed Ambassador Gerard a note which asserted that the attack by submarine on the liner Orduña was made only because that steamer was trying to escape.

EX-TREASURER IS SHOT BY ACCIDENT

S. A. PETERSON RECEIVES CON- TENTS OF OWN SHOTGUN IN STOMACH.

DIES BEFORE DOCTOR COMES

Rice Lake Man Long Prominent in Politics and Held Many Positions of Trust—Born Feb. 28, 1850.

Rice Lake.—Sewell A. Peterson, former state treasurer and one of the leading pioneer citizens of this section of the state, is dead as the result of the accidental discharge of a shotgun while hunting six miles from town.

There were no witnesses to the tragedy. Mr. Peterson's son Raymond, and a companion, who were some distance away, hastened to the spot when they heard the shot to find Mr. Peterson mortally wounded, the charge having penetrated the stomach. A physician was summoned but death had ensued before his arrival.

Mr. Peterson was born Feb. 28, 1850, at Soler, Norway, came to Wisconsin in 1864, received his education in the common schools and at a business college in La Crosse. He resided in Dunn county until 1887, when he removed to Rice Lake.

He was town treasurer of Sand Creek, Dunn county, in 1874 and 1875; register of deeds in Dunn county from January, 1876, to January, 1882; alderman of Menomonie in 1886 and 1887; city clerk of Rice Lake from 1888 to 1890; city treasurer in 1891, mayor in 1892 and 1894 and member of assembly in 1893.

While he was in Menomonie he was first lieutenant of Co. H Third Infantry, Wisconsin national guard. He was elected state treasurer in 1894, receiving 197,742 votes, against John Hummer, Democrat, who received 137,775, and was re-elected in 1896, receiving 265,808 votes against 167,626 for William P. Pierstorff, Democrat.

Besides his son Raymond, he leaves two daughters, Hazel and Ruth.

URGES AID FOR SCHOOLS

Supt. Cary Addresses Supervisors on Getting Results in Education.

Madison.—A two days' conference of supervising teachers of the state with the staff of the state superintendent's office, was held here. State Supt. Cary said that they should not work in a meddlesome way, but should attempt to and the teachers to render, better service to the pupils and create a healthy atmosphere in the neighborhood in favor of better schools.

"About 2,000 inexperienced teachers enter the rural schools every year," said Mr. Cary. "If you only try to aid the teachers you will have accomplished but little. But if you build up a sentiment in the communities in favor of better schools your work will be lasting and beneficial to the people of the state."

PEABODY STATE ARCHITECT

Madison Man Appointed by State Engineer Mack at a Salary of $4,000 a Year.

Madison.—Arthur Peabody, who for ten years has been architect of the University of Wisconsin, was appointed by State Engineer J. G. D. Mack as assistant chief engineer of the state department of engineering, with title of state architect, at a salary of $4,000 a year.

A. R. Hirst was appointed by Engineer Mack as assistant chief engineer of the state department of engineering, with title of state highway engineer.

Gov. Philipp appointed Warren P. Knowles of River Falls as county judge of Pierce county to succeed Judge Allen P. Wells, resigned.

PICKS 15 POUND CABBAGE

Beaver Dam.—Mrs. Joseph Leech picked a cabbage from her garden that weighed fifteen pounds after the outer leaves had been stripped off and only twenty-eight heads were used to fill a large sauerkraut barrel.

OPPOSE WAR LOAN

Wausau.—The Marathon County Bankers' association has passed a resolution as being opposed to making of large loans to the foreign countries for war purposes.

WAR VETERAN DIES

New Richmond.—Oscar Hemenway, a resident of the town of Star Prairie and city of New Richmond since 1883, is dead, following a lingering illness the result of paralysis. He served during the civil war in the Tenth Vermont infantry.

PLAN PICKLE STATION

Wausau.—S. S. Dingee of Wausau, who operates many pickle stations in this locality, has announced that he will build one at Merrill.

P. A. McDONALD RESIGNS

Baraboo.—P. A. McDonald has resigned his position as superintendent of Devils Lake state park and will go to St. Croix Falls, where he has accepted a similar position. F. G. Wilson has been appointed in Mr. McDonald's place.

NEW BANK AT ZACHOW

New London.—A new state bank is to be opened soon at Zachow. The contract for the new building has been let to Regling Brothers of Shawano.

CITY TO ENTERTAIN FARMERS

Shawano.—The third annual Booster day will be held on Saturday, Oct. 30. Farmers will be entertained by the business men, given a free dinner and free moving picture shows in the afternoon.

VALUATION IS INCREASED

Fond du Lac.—The assessed valuation of Fond du Lac was boosted nearly $2,000,000 this year by the new commission government. In 1914 the valuation was $13,448,755, and this year it was raised to $15,123,405.

NEW PASTOR ARRIVES

Neenah.—The Rev. Hubert A. Wilson of Danbury, Conn., has arrived here to assume the duties of rector of St. Thomas' Episcopal church of Neenah and Menasha.

VENISON DINNERS BARRED THIS YEAR

SEVERAL IMPORTANT CHANGES MADE IN GAME LAW BY LEGISLATORS.

HUNTERS ARE DISPLEASED

Stringent Measures Were Found Necessary to Prevent Fraudulent Sale of Game—No More Steak Dinners.

Madison.—Several changes not heretofore made plain, have been made in the new game laws, the most important of which probably is the serving of wild meats. According to the new law the meat of any deer, wild bird, or trout other than lake trout, cannot be served at any club, hotel, restaurant or camp at any time, while other wild animal may be served only during the open season.

The law is not looked upon with favor by a large number of deer hunters who go into the woods, and upon their return usually have a large piece of meat prepared at some club and invite their friends for the feast.

The object of the law is to prevent the fraudulent sale of game. There has been a law in force for several years covering this point, but many hunters got around it by saying they gave the meat away and at the same time accepting money in an indirect way. Now, though, they cannot even give it away without being liable.

The law as it now reads is as follows: No keeper, manager, or steward of any restaurant, club, hotel, boarding house, logging camp, or mining camp shall sell, barter, serve, or give or cause to be sold, bartered, served or given to guests or boarders thereof, the meat of any deer, wild bird, or trout of any variety other than lake trout, at any time; or the meat of any other wild animal during the closed season thereof.

SHEBOYGAN COUNTY LEADS

$3,000,000 Received for Dairy Farm Products During Year—Has 40,000 Milk Cows.

Sheboygan.—That Sheboygan county still manufactures more American cheese than any other county in the United States and is one of the leading dairy counties in the country is shown from the statistics prepared by County Clerk Charles W. Fischer from the reports of the city, village and town assessors for 1914.

Although several of the assessors did not make a complete report, the statistics just compiled show that practically $3,000,000 was received for the products of the dairy farms of Sheboygan county during the year.

There are 118 cheese factories in the county, valued at $369,335, and which 5,151 farmers contributing the milk of 37,304 cows.

There are also three creameries in the county valued at $11,500 and with 252 patrons and 1,330 cows contributing 7,861,180 pounds of milk from which 685,978 pounds of butter was produced and which sold for $248,632.88.

The statistics show that there are nearly 40,000 milk cows in the county valued at practically $2,000,000, with 14,247 other cattle valued at $380,513. The 12,234 horses are valued at $1,309,324.

TO RECEIVE WARM WELCOME

Preparations Are Under Way for the Reception of Bishop Paul Rhode on Arrival Here.

Green Bay.—Elaborate preparations are under way for the reception of Bishop Paul Peter Rhode of Chicago when he arrives here on Sept. 29 to enter upon his duties as bishop of the Catholic diocese of Green Bay. A special train will convey a party of several hundred representative Catholics to Oshkosh, the boundary of the diocese, to meet the bishop.

The demonstration which will attend the reception of the new bishop will be one of the largest religious gatherings ever held in this state. It is said that over five thousand members of the Catholic societies will march in the parade which will be held.

Bishop Rhode will be met by the procession when he arrives in this city. City and county officials, many church dignitaries and nearly all of the priests of the diocese will be in the parade and the supply company of the Second Infantry will act as papal guard before the bishop's carriage.

LAND BRINGS GOOD PRICES

Farm Property in Sheboygan County Continues to Rise as Shown in Recent Deals.

Sheboygan.—The value of farm property in Sheboygan county continues to rise, as is shown by five real estate deals just filed.

Mrs. Nellie Mentink sold forty-two acres in the town of Holland to John H. Harmelink for $11,480, or $273.33 per acre.

G. H. Harmelink sold thirty acres in the town of Holland to J. H. Testroote for $6,480, or $216 per acre.

William Pannier sold five acres in the town of Sherman to M. B. Schwalbe for $1,500 and five acres to Oscar Jung for $1,500, or $300 per acre.

John Brost sold thirty acres in the town of Plymouth to Abram DeMunck for $3,000, or $300 per acre.

WILL ASK GOVERNMENT AID

Manitowish.—The Citizens' association will send representatives to the Great Lakes conference at Detroit the latter part of October to ask that organization's support in this city's demand for government aid in the upkeep of the inner harbor.

DRAGGED GUN THROUGH FENCE

Grand Rapids.—Leon Fritz, 12 years old, was accidentally shot in the legs while hunting near Nekoma. The young man was dragging a gun through a fence.

KILLED IN POWDER EXPLOSION

Stevens Point.—Elvire Morgan, a former Portage county boy, is dead from injuries sustained in an explosion in a Du Pont powder mill at Mosleys Junction, Va., several weeks ago.

VETERANS PLAN REUNION

Baraboo.—Plans have been completed for the annual reunion of the Twelfth and Nineteenth regiments which will be held in this city on Oct. 7 and 8.

WILSON IS SLURRED MAY ARREST JOHN D.

AMBASSADOR DUMBA CALLS THE U. S. CHIEF EXECUTIVE "SELF-WILLED."

PAPEN SAYS YANKEES IDIOTIC

Letters Found on James Archibald, Correspondent, Made Public in England—German Military Attache Criticizes Americans.

London, Sept. 23.—The papers taken from War Correspondent James F. J. Archibald by the British authorities, on which was based the request of the United States government for the recall of Doctor Dumba, the Austrian ambassador at Washington, were made public in part.

In the letters from Doctor Dumba that diplomat's candid opinion of the president and of American sentiment is set forth.

There is a letter from Captain von Papen, military attache of the German embassy in Washington, written to his wife and entrusted to the accommodation of Archibald. In it von Papen speaks of "those little 'Yankees'."

There is a letter from a German official, Count von Harnstein, to Secretary Lansing, but it is frankly an official German reply to the allegations regarding German plots in the United States.

The dossier as made public in the house of commons comprises twenty-two pages, closely printed, and included in it are the letters from Ambassador Dumba to Baron Furber, the Austro-Hungarian minister of foreign affairs.

In one of these, not hitherto made public, Doctor Dumba refers to the "discouraging attitude" of President Wilson in respect to Austria's demands that the United States prohibit the exportation of munitions to the allies.

Doctor Dumba says the president's position is that America in a serious crisis would depend on neutral foreign countries for all its war material and "at no price and in no case will Mr. Wilson allow this source to dry up."

"For this reason," Doctor Dumba says, "I am of opinion that a return to the question of arms will not only be useless, but having regard to the self-willed temperament of the president, harmful."

It is also Doctor Dumba's view that the president can control congress to do his bidding and that resources to the various states of the Union would be futile.

NEWS FROM FAR AND NEAR

Brownsville, Tex., Sept. 20.—At least twenty-two Carranzista soldiers are believed to have been killed on Friday by American troops in two battles along the Rio Grande. There were no American casualties.

The battles were started by the Carranzistas, who fired on American troops. One took place before Mata-moras, the Mexican town across the Rio Grande, three miles from here, and the other at Los Hornos, fifty miles north and west of Brownsville.

As a result of the attack by Carranzistas on American troops serious international complications are feared.

Chicago, Sept. 21.—Mrs. Mildred Drummond, formerly Mrs. Marshall Field III, is dead in England. Mrs. Drummond died on her estate, Cadland, near Southampton, on Saturday.

In addition to Marshall Field III Mrs. Drummond is survived by two children—Henry and Carolyn. Two boys are said to be the richest in the United States.

London, Sept. 21.—The Canadian aviator, May, has been killed while flying on the Northumberland coast.

Bombay, Sept. 21.—Eighty thousand persons have been rendered homeless by floods in the Ganges valley since August 23, and 1,800 dwellings have collapsed, according to dispatches from Lucknow. Forty-five persons have been killed.

BULGAR ARMY IS MOBILIZED

Bucharest Says Troops Will Preserve Neutrality—Germans Use Big Guns Against Belgrade.

Washington, Sept. 23.—Mobilization of all military forces in Bulgaria, for the purpose of armed neutrality, has been ordered by the Bulgarian government.

This order was communicated to Mr. Panaretov, Bulgaria's minister. One hundred thousand Bulgarian reservists in the United States have been notified of the order through consuls and will join the colors immediately.

German Silk Stops Bullets.

Amsterdam, Sept. 23.—Silk and velvet are now being utilized by the Germans for making sandbags for the trenches in Belgium, according to the correspondent at Roulers of the Telegraph.

Minneapolis Wins Pennant.

Chicago, Sept. 23.—With a stretch drive that rivaled that of the Boston Red Sox last year, Minneapolis ended the 1915 season at the top of the American association. St. Paul finished second in the pennant chase.

Drummond Funeral Deferred.

London, Sept. 22.—The funeral of Mrs. Mildred Drummond, who died on Saturday, will be deferred until the arrival of her son, Marshall Field III, who with his wife, sailed from New York on the liner St. Louis.

Military Train Blown Up.

Laredo, Sept. 20.—Ninety soldiers were killed when a Mexican military train was wrecked near Saltillo Wednesday, according to reports received at Laredo. The train is believed to have been blown up.

Defeat Austrian Flyers.

Paris, Sept. 20.—The ministry of marine announced the defeat of an Austrian aerial squadron above the Adriatic by French aviators. The Austrians were supported by small warships, but were forced to retreat.

MINERS DISCUSS PLAN TO HAVE HIM HELD FOR LUDLOW MASSACRE.

PAPEN SAYS YANKEES IDIOTIC

Letters Found on James Archibald, Correspondent, Made Public in England—German Military Attache Criticizes Americans.

London, Sept. 23.—The papers taken from War Correspondent James F. J. Archibald by the British authorities, on which was based the request of the United States government for the recall of Doctor Dumba, the Austrian ambassador at Washington, were made public in part.

In the letters from Doctor Dumba that diplomat's candid opinion of the president and of American sentiment is set forth.

There is a letter from Captain von Papen, military attache of the German embassy in Washington, written to his wife and entrusted to the accommodation of Archibald. In it von Papen speaks of "those little 'Yankees'."

There is a letter from a German official, Count von Harnstein, to Secretary Lansing, but it is frankly an official German reply to the allegations regarding German plots in the United States.

The dossier as made public in the house of commons comprises twenty-two pages, closely printed, and included in it are the letters from Ambassador Dumba to Baron Furber, the Austro-Hungarian minister of foreign affairs.

In one of these, not hitherto made public, Doctor Dumba refers to the "discouraging attitude" of President Wilson in respect to Austria's demands that the United States prohibit the exportation of munitions to the allies.

Doctor Dumba says the president's position is that America in a serious crisis would depend on neutral foreign countries for all its war material and "at no price and in no case will Mr. Wilson allow this source to dry up."

"For this reason," Doctor Dumba says, "I am of opinion that a return to the question of arms will not only be useless, but having regard to the self-willed temperament of the president, harmful."

It is also Doctor Dumba's view that the president can control congress to do his bidding and that resources to the various states of the Union would be futile.

NEWS FROM FAR AND NEAR

Brownsville, Tex., Sept. 20.—At least twenty-two Carranzista soldiers are believed to have been killed on Friday by American troops in two battles along the Rio Grande. There were no American casualties.

The battles were started by the Carranzistas, who fired on American troops. One took place before Mata-moras, the Mexican town across the Rio Grande, three miles from here, and the other at Los Hornos, fifty miles north and west of Brownsville.

As a result of the attack by Carranzistas on American troops serious international complications are feared.

Chicago, Sept. 21.—Mrs. Mildred Drummond, formerly Mrs. Marshall Field III, is dead in England. Mrs. Drummond died on her estate, Cadland, near Southampton, on Saturday.

In addition to Marshall Field III Mrs. Drummond is survived by two children—Henry and Carolyn. Two boys are said to be the richest in the United States.

London, Sept. 21.—The Canadian aviator, May, has been killed while flying on the Northumberland coast.

Bombay, Sept. 21.—Eighty thousand persons have been rendered homeless by floods in the Ganges valley since August 23, and 1,800 dwellings have collapsed, according to dispatches from Lucknow. Forty-five persons have been killed.

BULGAR ARMY IS MOBILIZED

Bucharest Says Troops Will Preserve Neutrality—Germans Use Big Guns Against Belgrade.

Washington, Sept. 23.—Mobilization of all military forces in Bulgaria, for the purpose of armed neutrality, has been ordered by the Bulgarian government.

This order was communicated to Mr. Panaretov, Bulgaria's minister. One hundred thousand Bulgarian reservists in the United States have been notified of the order through consuls and will join the colors immediately.

German Silk Stops Bullets.

Amsterdam, Sept. 23.—Silk and velvet are now being utilized by the Germans for making sandbags for the trenches in Belgium, according to the correspondent at Roulers of the Telegraph.

Minneapolis Wins Pennant.

Chicago, Sept. 23.—With a stretch drive that rivaled that of the Boston Red Sox last year, Minneapolis ended the 1915 season at the top of the American association. St. Paul finished second in the pennant chase.

Drummond Funeral Deferred.

London, Sept. 22.—The funeral of Mrs. Mildred Drummond, who died on Saturday, will be deferred until the arrival of her son, Marshall Field III, who with his wife, sailed from New York on the liner St. Louis.

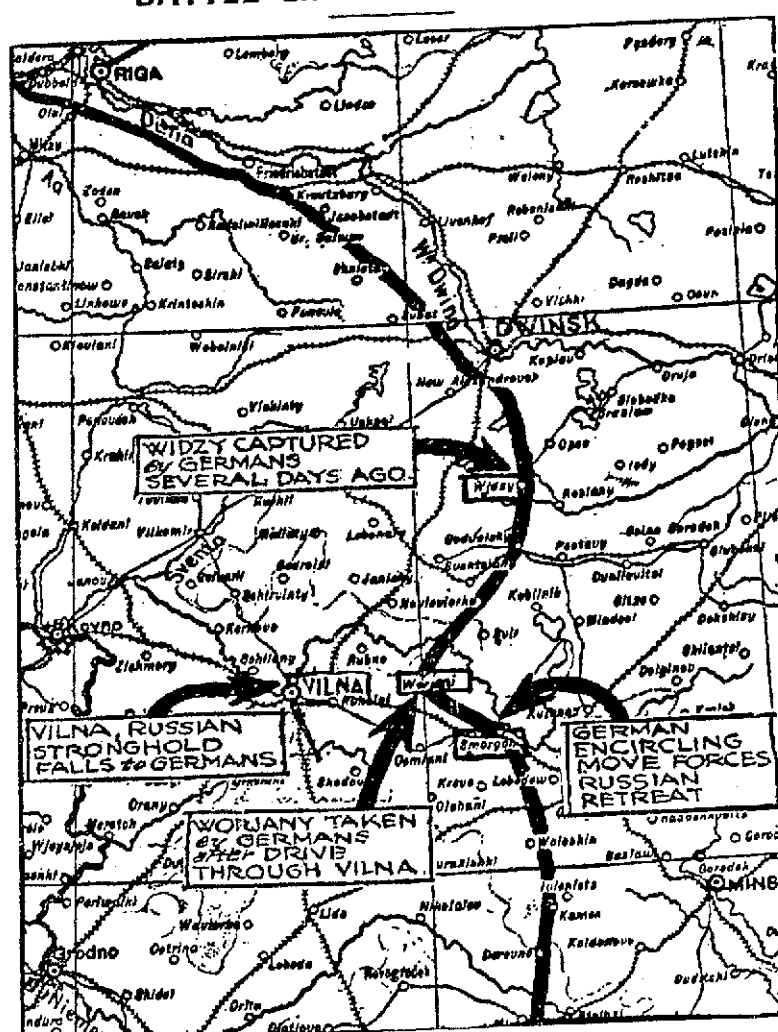

Military Train Blown Up.

Laredo, Sept. 20.—Ninety soldiers were killed when a Mexican military train was wrecked near Saltillo Wednesday, according to reports received at Laredo. The train is believed to have been blown up.

Defeat Austrian Flyers.

Paris, Sept. 20.—The ministry of marine announced the defeat of an Austrian aerial squadron above the Adriatic by French aviators. The Austrians were supported by small warships, but were forced to retreat.

BATTLE LINES AROUND VILNA

U. S. HITS SEA POLICY CITY OF VILNA TAKEN

WILSON AND LANSING COM- PLETE NOTE TO ENGLAND.

Call Ship Seizures Illegal and Acts Unfriendly—Denounced as Un- justified by World Law.

Washington, Sept. 20.—President Wilson and Secretary of State Lansing conferred at length on Friday on the completed note to this government to Great Britain and on the phases of the new note to Great Britain, as obtained from officials who have had part in putting it into present form, are:

That as the United States has repeatedly and consistently denied specifically every one of the justifications set up by Sir Edward Grey, the British minister for foreign affairs, and Lord Curzon, his assistant, this government cannot fail to regard the persistent oppression of American commerce as unfriendly.

That Great Britain acted illegally when she took cases of seizure and detention out of the domain of diplomacy and made them merely matters for the British prize courts.

That the argument by Great Britain for such action is indefensible, because it is based on the order in council, which is itself an illegal policy.

That the establishment of a blockade under the order in council which pretends to include in Russia is not justified by international law.

That the contention of Great Britain that cargoes may be seized and detained on suspicion alone, without any assertion of reasonable proof, is absolutely untenable under any form of recognized law of nations.

That the United States has heretofore to Great Britain notice that it would not tolerate acts such as in the packers' case, which were based on the illegal withdrawal of questions of seizure and detention from the category of diplomatic questions.

That the United States has in the past, putting Great Britain on notice.

It is stated that there is in the note no suggestion of the ultimatum of a demand for a definite answer from Great Britain within any specified time.

DELAY ACTION ON MEXICO

Mediators Agree Some Faction Must Be Recognized—Aspirants Must Prove Capability.

New York, Sept. 21.—The Pan-American conference on Mexican affairs announced at the conclusion of its meeting here on Saturday that the diplomatic representatives would recommend to their government that in the judgment the time has now come to extend recognition to a government in Mexico.

The faction to be recognized was not decided on.

They decided that the de facto government aspiring to recognition must possess "the material and moral capacity necessary to protect the lives of nationals and foreigners."

British Aeroplane Shot Down.

Berlin, Sept. 23.—A British aeroplane has been shot to earth west of St. Quentin by a German aviator. It was officially announced here. The English pilot was killed and the observer made a prisoner.

British Sentence Spies.

London, Sept. 23.—Two spies—a man and a woman—received sentence in London. The man was sentenced to death, while the woman, of German origin, was condemned to ten years penal servitude.

Canal Tied Up by Slide.

Washington, Sept. 22.—Advices received by the war department from the Canal Zone declare that the slide of last Friday, which blocked the Panama canal, is one of the worst in its history.

Doctor Blake Heads Hospital.

Paris, Sept. 22.—Dr. Joseph Blake resigned on Monday afternoon as chief surgeon of the American ambulance at Neuilly to become chief of the general British base hospital at his oranges.

Anthony Comstock Is Ill.

New York, Sept. 21.—Anthony Comstock is seriously ill at his home at Summit, N. J. The veteran vice crusader is, however, confident that it is feared that his seventy-two years will make it difficult for him to rally.

Austrians Defeat Italians.

Amsterdam, Sept. 21.—After a fierce struggle, Austrians on the Carnic and Italian Alps have captured the Italian positions over a front nearly two and a half miles long, according to dispatches received from Vienna.

Says Orduña Tried to Escape.

Amsterdam, Sept. 20.—The German foreign office, in a note, which asserted that Orduña was captured by the liner Orduña, was made only because the steamer was trying to escape.

Robbed Priest's Home.

Rhineland.—Jack Bandheiden and Louis Manbeck of Eagle River pleaded guilty to robbing the summer home of the Rev. Father Saile of Antigo.

Valuation Is Increased.

Fond du Lac.—The assessed valuation of Fond du Lac was boosted nearly by $2,000,000 this year by the new commission government. In 1914 the valuation was $13,448,755, and this year it was raised to $15,123,405.

New Pastor Arrives.

Neenah.—The Rev. Hubert A. Wilson of Danbury, Conn., has arrived here to assume the duties of rector of St. Thomas' Episcopal church of Neenah and Menasha.

Child Loses Three Fingers.

Grand Rapids.—While playing in an old quarry, Clarence Boetcher, 13 years old, had three fingers blown off with dynamite.

Arrested on Murder Charge.

Eagle River.—Sheriff Frank Hall and deputies arrested John Zychanski, aged 23, at his brother's place near Pickedick Lake. He is wanted at Cleveland, O., for shooting and killing Louis Balik.

Robbed Priest's Home.

Rhineland.—Jack Bandheiden and Louis Manbeck of Eagle River pleaded guilty to robbing the summer home of the Rev. Father Saile of Antigo.

Valuation Is Increased.

Fond du Lac.—The assessed valuation of Fond du Lac was boosted nearly by $2,000,000 this year by the new commission government. In 1914 the valuation was $13,448,755, and this year it was raised to $15,123,405.

New Pastor Arrives.

Neenah.—The Rev. Hubert A. Wilson of Danbury, Conn., has arrived here to assume the duties of rector of St. Thomas' Episcopal church of Neenah and Menasha.

Child Loses Three Fingers.

Grand Rapids.—While playing in an old quarry, Clarence Boetcher, 13 years old, had three fingers blown off with dynamite.

Arrested on Murder Charge.

Eagle River.—Sheriff Frank Hall and deputies arrested John Zychanski, aged 23, at his brother's place near Pickedick Lake. He is wanted at Cleveland, O., for shooting and killing Louis Balik.

Robbed Priest's Home.

Rhineland.—Jack Bandheiden and Louis Manbeck of Eagle River pleaded guilty to robbing the summer home of the Rev. Father Saile of Antigo.

Valuation Is Increased.

Fond du Lac.—The assessed valuation of Fond du Lac was boosted nearly by $2,000,000 this year by the new commission government. In 1914 the valuation was $13,448,755, and this year it was raised to $15,123,405.

New Pastor Arrives.

Neenah.—The Rev. Hubert A. Wilson of Danbury, Conn., has arrived here to assume the duties of rector of St. Thomas' Episcopal church of Neenah and Menasha.

Child Loses Three Fingers.

Grand Rapids.—While playing in an old quarry, Clarence Boetcher, 13 years old, had three fingers blown off with dynamite.

Arrested on Murder Charge.

Eagle River.—Sheriff Frank Hall and deputies arrested John Zychanski, aged 23, at his brother's place near Pickedick Lake. He is wanted at Cleveland, O., for shooting and killing Louis Balik.

Robbed Priest's Home.

Rhineland.—Jack Bandheiden and Louis Manbeck of Eagle River pleaded guilty to robbing the summer home of the Rev. Father Saile of Antigo.

Valuation Is Increased.

Fond du Lac.—The assessed valuation of Fond du Lac was boosted nearly by $2,000,000 this year by the new commission government. In 1914 the valuation was $13,448,755, and this year it was raised to $15,123,405.

New Pastor Arrives.

Neenah.—The Rev. Hubert A. Wilson of Danbury, Conn., has arrived here to assume the duties of rector of St. Thomas' Episcopal church of Neenah and Menasha.

Child Loses Three Fingers.

Grand Rapids.—While playing in an old quarry, Clarence Boetcher, 13 years old, had three fingers blown off with dynamite.

Arrested on Murder Charge.

Eagle River.—Sheriff Frank Hall and deputies arrested John Zychanski, aged 23, at his brother's place near Pickedick Lake. He is wanted at Cleveland, O., for shooting and killing Louis Balik.

EX-TREASURER IS SHOT BY ACCIDENT

S. A. PETERSON RECEIVES CONTENTS OF OWN SHOTGUN IN STOMACH.

DIES BEFORE DOCTOR COMES

Rice Lake Man Long Prominent in Politics and Held Many Positions of Trust—Born Feb. 28, 1850.

Rice Lake.—Sewell A. Peterson, former state treasurer and one of the leading pioneer citizens of this section of the state, is dead as the result of the accidental discharge of a shotgun while hunting six miles from town.

There were no witnesses to the tragedy. Mr. Peterson's son, Raymond, and a companion, who were some distance away, hastened to the spot when they heard the shot and found Mr. Peterson mortally wounded, the charge having penetrated the stomach. A physician was summoned but death had ensued before his arrival.

Mr. Peterson was born Feb. 28, 1850, at Soler, Norway, came to Wisconsin in 1864, received his education in the common schools and at a business college at Janesville. He resided in Dunn county until 1887, when he removed to Rice Lake.

He was town treasurer of Sand Creek, Dunn county, in 1874 and 1875; register of deeds in Dunn county from January, 1876, to January, 1882; alderman of Janesville in 1886 and 1887; city clerk of Rice Lake from 1888 to 1890; city treasurer in 1891; mayor in 1892 and 1893, and member of assembly in 1893.

While he was in Menominee he was first lieutenant of Co. H Third Infantry, Wisconsin national guard. He was elected state treasurer in 1894, receiving 157,742 votes, against John Hunner, Democrat, who received 137,775, and was re-elected in 1899, receiving 265,808 votes against 167,626 for William P. Pierst, Democrat.

Besides his son Raymond, he leaves two daughters, Hazel and Ruth.

URGES AID FOR SCHOOLS

Supt. Cary Addresses Supervisors on Getting Results in Education.

Madison.—A two days' conference of supervising teachers of the state with the staff of the state superintendent's office, was held here. State Superintendent Cary said that they should not work in a meddlesome way, but should attempt to do the teachers' work in the neighborhood in favor of better schools.

"About 2,000 inexperienced teachers enter the rural schools every year," said Mr. Cary. "If you only try to do the teachers' work you will have accomplished but little. But if you build up a sentiment in the communities in favor of better schools your work will be lasting and beneficial to the people of the state."

PEABODY STATE ARCHITECT

Madison Man Appointed by State Engineer Mack at a Salary of $4,000 a Year.

Madison.—Arthur Peabody, who for ten years has been architect of the University of Wisconsin, was appointed by State Engineer J. G. D. Mack as assistant chief engineer of the state department of engineering, with title of state architect, at a salary of $4,000 a year.

A. R. Hirst was appointed by Engineer Mack as assistant chief engineer of the state department of engineering, with title of state highway engineer.

Gov. Philipp appointed Warren P. Knowles of River Falls as county judge of Pierce county to succeed Judge Allen P. Wells, resigned.

Baby Burned by Stove Ring.

La Crosse.—While Norman, the 2-year-old son of Attorney O. K. Dahle of Caledonia, was playing near the kitchen stove, a lid consisting of several rings in each other, slid from the stove and in falling, the largest one fell on the child's shoulders, completely encircling his head. Before Mrs. Dahle could come to the child's assistance the little one was terribly burned.

Halts Dinner Bucket Brigade.

Neenah.—The central safety first committee from the mills of the Kimberly-Clark paper company in this city has issued a notice forbidding the carrying of children of dinner baskets into the companies mills untended by an adult.

Child Loses Three Fingers.

Grand Rapids.—While playing in an old quarry, Clarence Boetcher, 13 years old, had three fingers blown off with dynamite.

Arrested on Murder Charge.

Eagle River.—Sheriff Frank Hall and deputies arrested John Zychanski, aged 23, at his brother's place near Pickedick Lake. He is wanted at Cleveland, O., for shooting and killing Louis Balik.

Robbed Priest's Home.

Rhineland.—Jack Bandheiden and Louis Manbeck of Eagle River pleaded guilty to robbing the summer home of the Rev. Father Saile of Antigo.

Valuation Is Increased.

Fond du Lac.—The assessed valuation of Fond du Lac was boosted nearly by $2,000,000 this year by the new commission government. In 1914 the valuation was $13,448,755, and this year it was raised to $15,123,405.

New Pastor Arrives.

Neenah.—The Rev. Hubert A. Wilson of Danbury, Conn., has arrived here to assume the duties of rector of St. Thomas' Episcopal church of Neenah and Menasha.

Child Loses Three Fingers.

Grand Rapids.—While playing in an old quarry, Clarence Boetcher, 13 years old, had three fingers blown off with dynamite.

Arrested on Murder Charge.

Eagle River.—Sheriff Frank Hall and deputies arrested John Zychanski, aged 23, at his brother's place near Pickedick Lake. He is wanted at Cleveland, O., for shooting and killing Louis Balik.

Robbed Priest's Home.

Rhineland.—Jack Bandheiden and Louis Manbeck of Eagle River pleaded guilty to robbing the summer home of the Rev. Father Saile of Antigo.

Valuation Is Increased.

Fond du Lac.—The assessed valuation of Fond du Lac was boosted nearly by $2,000,000 this year by the new commission government. In 1914 the valuation was $13,448,755, and this year it was raised to $15,123,405.

LOCAL ITEMS.
Mrs. M. J. Feavel has returned from a visit at Madison.
Owen Love and Wm. Slattery were Green Bay visitors on Sunday.
F. S. Bauer of the Sunny Side farm has purchased a Kriit touring car.
Mrs. Pauline Prockpelt and daughter Celia are visiting in Milwaukee this week.
Miss Ruth Livernash of Wausau visited at the F. J. Johnson home several days the past week.
Simon Stellmachor has sold his farm in the town of Sigel to Frank Cornwell of Beaver Dam.
Dugle and Laramie, proprietors of the Dixon Hotel barber shop have recently installed three new chairs in their place of business. The chairs are finished in white enamel, and present a very neat appearance.
GEO. L. WILLIAMS
ATTORNEY AT LAW
Office in Wood Block, over postoffice. Telephone No. 91. Grand Rapids, Wisconsin.
A. J. CROWNS
Attorney at Law
MacKinnon Block. Phone 836. Grand Rapids, Ws.
DRS. FAIRFIELD, BARTRAN & CO.
CLINIC BUILDING
GREEN BAY, WISCONSIN
DR. W. E. FAIRFIELD
DR. W. H. BARTRAN
Surgeons
DR. C. W. WALKER
Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat
DR. R. L. CONLEY
DR. W. E. LEAPER
Internists
E. WHITE
Pathologist.
DR. S. E. COTTRILL
Veterinarian
Personal Attention Given All Work.
In old Garrison Barn on Third Ave. North. Residence phone 595. Office phone 588.
GOGGINS & BRAZEAU
ATTORNEYS AT LAW
Office in the MacKinnon Block on the West Side, Grand Rapids, Wisconsin. Telephone No. 194.
J. J. JEFFREY
LAWYER
Loans and Collections. Commercial and Probate Law. Office across from Church's Drug store.
Personal Attention Given All Work. Office phone 251. Residence 186.
J. R. RAGAN
Licensed Embalmer and Undertaker.
House phone No. 69, Store 313. Spaulding's Building, East Side. John Erner, Residence phone No. 435.
DR. J. K. GOODRICH,
OSTEOPATHIC PHYSICIAN
Practice west of Bank of Grand Rapids. Office hours: 9-12, 2-5, 7-9.
W. T. LYLE
Licensed Embalmer and Funeral Director.
Lady Attendant in need.
Office phone 885. Res. phone 886. Night Phone 886. Day Phone 885. Store on west side.
D. D. CONWAY
ATTORNEY AT LAW
Loans, and Collections. We have $2,000 which will be loaned at a low rate of interest. Office over First National Bank, East Side, Grand Rapids, Wisconsin. Telephone 338.
R. MOORE
Photographer.
Opposite Wood County National Bank 25 years behind the times. Send your "Snap shots" and get professional service.
E. WHEELAN
ATTORNEY AT LAW
Office in Daily Block, East Side. Telephone No. 43. Grand Rapids.
RO. W. BAKER & SON
UNDERTAKERS AND LICENSED EMBALMERS
20th Second Street, East Side Grand Rapids, Wis. Business phone 401, night calls, 492.
Melvin Ruckle, M. D.
Practice Limited To
EYE, EAR, NOSE AND THROAT
Diseases fitted correctly. Eye and Ear Surgeon, Riverview Hospital. Office Wood County Bank Building. Telephone No. 254.
WARD N. POMAINVILLE
Fire Insurance
Abstracts.—Real Estate.—Loans.
MacKinnon Bldg. Grand Rapids, Wis.
Piano Forte Instructions
Primary and Advanced Students
ENROLL NOW
all Term Starts Sept. 7 to 27
RAYMOND VICKERS
of Gustave L. Becker, New York City
MODERN METHODS
"Thorough and Reliable"
one 148 Address 541 Lincoln St.
COAL AND WOOD
The Best Grades at Reasonable Prices.
CALL US UP AT
Phone 416 or 5
SSERT BROTHERS
WOOD AND COAL YARDS

—Ross Thursday, Friday and Saturday at Ready-to-Wear Parlors, 201 Fourth Ave. S.
Alice, the little daughter of Mrs. O. T. Houg is ill with scarlet fever.
Miss Alma Bissig has returned from a visit at the Andrew Bissig home in Berlin.
August Bantz, one of the prosperous farmers of Sigel, was a pleasant caller at the office of the city on Thursday.
Hon. W. D. Connor of Marshfield was in the city on Thursday to attend the funeral of Mrs. E. P. Gleason.
Mr. and Mrs. Guy Nash of Stevens Point were in the city on Thursday to attend the funeral of Mrs. E. P. Gleason.
Wm. and son of the town of Scripps was a pleasant caller at the Tribune office on Saturday while in the city on business.
James Jensen was in Milwaukee several days the past week trying to find out why they are not able to get any shipments on Ford cars.
Officer Berg of the West Side is enjoying a week's vacation which he is spending at his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Erick Berg, in the town of Sigel.
Bob Cody, of Janesville, former telegraph operator at the St. Paul depot is spending a week in this city a guest of Miss Ella Wittenberg.
Peter Krause left on Monday for Iowa, near which place he has purchased a farm. His farm is located about four miles east of Iowa on R. D. No. 3.
At special election held at Madison last week the proposition to increase the saloon license from $200 to $500 was defeated by a vote of 84 in favor to 104 against.
George McMillan left on Friday for Berlin where he was to be joined by one of his old comrades, and from there will proceed to Washington to attend the G. A. R. encampment.
Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Perch of Carnegie, Penn., are spending two weeks visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Klappa at Biron and the Lucas and Mike Perch homes in the town of Sigel.
Mrs. Andrew Socha entertained at a "Variety Shower" at her home on the west side on Friday evening in honor of Miss Edith Negowski, who is to be married in October to Allie Stewart.
—Friends, we stake our reputation on Barker's Remedy for Coughs, Colds, Catarrh and Rheumatism, for the reason that it's the best on earth and nothing better can we offer you. Johnson & Hill Co.
E. C. Vallin, one of the progressive farmers of the town of Rudolph was among the pleasant callers at this office on Friday. Mr. Vallin reports that things are not as wet as would be expected out his way in spite of the frequent rains.
Mr. and Mrs. Clark Lyon left on Friday for the east, expecting to take in the G. A. R. encampment at Washington, D. C., visiting Niagara Falls and other points of interest. They will probably be gone a couple of weeks.
Mr. and Mrs. Herman Smith are remodeling their home on the east side. Among the improvements will be a modern heating plant. The family are occupying the Baruch residence while the improvements are being made.
Nels Larsen, one of the solid farmers of the town of Sigel, favored this office with a pleasant call on Saturday. Mr. Larsen informed us that his crops were good this year with the exception of potatoes, which were rotting from the excessive wet weather.
The Stevens Point lodge of Elks have made arrangements with the Miller Draper, to give a minstrel show on the evening of October 25 and 26th. This same company are staging minstrels for the Minneapolis and St. Paul Elks.
The wonderful, 8 part, Feature Photo play, "The Arabian", will be presented at the Daily Theatre, Monday and Tuesday.
W. E. Wheelan, who has been spending several weeks in the north to escape his annual attack of hay fever, returned to this city on Saturday. Mr. Wheelan spent a part of his time at St. Paul, Minn., and at other points and reports that he is feeling fine.
Rev. Wm. Nommensen was in Marshfield on Sunday to attend the dedication of the new parsonage of Immanuel's Lutheran church and also the thirty-fifth anniversary of Rev. Theodor Sten. Rev. Nommensen delivered an address in English at the evening service.
A free lecture will be given at the new Church Edifice of the Christian Scientists. The lecture will be given by Wm. R. Rutherford, of Denver, of the Board of Christian Science Lecturers. The occasion will be on Sunday afternoon, October 2nd and all are cordially invited.
Therry Case, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Case, departed on Friday for Bemidji, Minn., where he accompanied home his cousin, Willie Lappan, who has been a guest at the Case home for the past three weeks. From there Therry goes to Huron, S. D., and other points, where he will visit for several weeks.
Joseph Bissig of City Point was in the city on Thursday looking after some business matters. Mr. Bissig reported that they had harvested their entire crop of cranberries, and their were about 1,500 barrels which was fully up to what the estimate had been earlier in the season.
A new law was passed by the legislature, allowing the county to board people at the county home. At Merrill the past week, Fred Gallatin, an old resident of Lincoln county made application to Judge Porter and was allowed to go to the home, paying his board. Up to the present time there have been no applications from Wood County.
Nellsville voted for a $500 saloon license last week, $500 license getting a majority over $200 license of 21 votes. The election was devoid of any particular excitement or interest and but 243 votes were cast. Of this number high license received 182 and low license received 161. This new license takes effect next July.
Mrs. Edward Bodette entertained a number of her friends and neighbors at her home on Washington Ave. on Thursday evening, in honor of her mother, Mrs. Wm. Lake, and sister, Miss Emma Lake of Kewaunee. The evening was pleasantly spent at auction bridge after which refreshments were served. Mrs. Wm. Burell carried off the honors at cards and those present spent a most delightful evening.
A successful Mission Festival was held in the Scandinavian Moravian church last Sunday. Good sized audiences assembled both morning and evening. The Rev. E. F. Holmich of Sturgeon Bay delivered English sermons on both occasions. At the morning service the Revs. Chr. Madson and H. B. Johnson spoke in Scandinavian. Having this week, from Monday until Thursday the Rev. E. F. Holmich is delivering Bible expository lectures.
—Coming to Daly's Theatre, Monday and Tuesday, The Christian, 8 part photo play.

Mrs. L. A. DeGuere has returned from a trip to Appleton.
A. J. Cowell is spending several days fishing at Bear Lake.
Mrs. George Olson visited in Wausau on Sunday and Monday.
Chas. Matthews visited with his parents in Green Bay on Sunday.
George Looch departed on Friday for Chicago to spend two weeks.
Mrs. Chas. Frost of Everett, Wash. is a guest at the Grant Babcock home.
Mrs. W. T. Nobles has been confined to her bed for several days by sickness.
Dr. Kieckhefer spent Sunday at Wausau where he had gone on professional business.
Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Panter of Wausau visited with relatives in this city on Sunday.
Walter Wink, of Tomahawk, broke a leg in football practice in this city on Saturday.
Mrs. A. L. Ridgman has gone to River City, Minn., for a two weeks' visit with her brother.
Wm. Peters, ex-county treasurer, was in the city on Tuesday to attend the doings about town.
Miss Louise Noetzel visited at the home of her sister, Mrs. Kuserow at New London on Sunday.
Harry Thomas of Sherry was in the city on Tuesday on business. He made the trip in his auto.
Mrs. Otto Heimsick will spend the winter with her mother at Glidden, who is in very poor health.
Mr. and Mrs. John Martin and family returned on Sunday from an auto trip of several days to Appleton.
Dr. W. M. Ruckie spent several days the past week in Chicago looking after some business matters.
Dr. Anthony Looze has returned to St. Louis after a weeks visit with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. Looze.
Mr. and Mrs. Warren Fisher returned to Wausau on Sunday and spent the day at the E. A. Hannan home.
Arthur Raymond and sister Laura drove over from Arnott on Sunday in their auto and spent the day with friends here.
Mrs. J. B. Mull has returned from Bushnell, Ill., where she was called three weeks ago by the illness of her mother.
—Special showing of Coats, Suits and Hats at Ready-to-Wear Parlors on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, 201 4th Ave. S.
James B. Hastings of Kellner was among the brief callers at the Tribune office on Tuesday while in the city taking in the festivities.
A. J. Freund is expected to arrive home from Appleton this week where he has been for three weeks, having submitted to a surgical operation.
Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Canning, who returned on Monday evening in honor of Mrs. Wm. Lake and daughter, Miss Emma, of Kewaunee.
Louis Peyrussa and L. A. Berdall returned on Saturday night from Minneapolis where they have been employed for some time by L. A. DeGuere.
Miss Anna Sandman, bookkeeper at the Stevens Point Journal office, has returned to her duties after two weeks' visit in the city with her parents.
Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Lyle, accompanied by Mrs. Earl Kiska of the town of Seneca, have returned from an auto trip to Ripon, Berlin and Green Lake.
Mr. and Mrs. Anton Prost of Babcock drove up in their auto on Sunday and spent the day with their daughter and son who are attending school in the city.
M. A. Leahy left on Saturday for Washington, D. C., where he will attend the G. A. R. encampment and also visit with his son, Lieut. Commander Leahy, who is now stationed at Washington.
Judge Byron Park of Stevens Point in company with L. M. Nash and E. J. Wood of this city and Conductor Gid Little of New Lisbon are spending several days at the Gid Little resort north of Tomahawk hunting partridges.
E. J. Weinbauer has been engaged by the city as inspector to look after the cement work that will go into the west side pavement. Mr. Weinbauer has had considerable experience in cement work, having been employed by the Bossert company.
George Huntington, of Bishop, Cal., is in the city visiting his brother, H. Huntington and other old time friends. Mr. Huntington has charge of an electrical plant out in California and expects to return there after about a week more in this section.
The farm belonging to Mrs. Frank Freda was on Monday sold to Frank Kus of Milwaukee. Mrs. Freda took in part payment some Milwaukee property. Mr. Kus has taken possession of the farm, which is located in the town of Seneca.
Merrill News.—The engagement has been announced of Miss Elizabeth Plantz of Wausau to Mr. George Fay of Milwaukee. Miss Plantz is well known in this city where she was employed for some time as stenographer for the Heineman Lumber Co.
Joe Cepress, who has been in the employ of Link & Verle for a number of years past, has purchased the eighty acre farm from his father-in-law, Carl Shagen, near Auburndale, and expects to move his family on to the same this week and go to farming. Mr. Cepress has purchased a team and a number of good cows the past week and will take them with him.
The Good Roads committee of the Merchants and Manufacturers association received their new tractor during the past week and it has been tried on a limited extent in pulling a drag on the city streets. It is expected that a great deal of work will be accomplished by the new implement.
Martin Kromstedt, one of the pioneer settlers of the town of Sigel, died at his home on Saturday morning. He was 75 years of age and had been a resident of Sigel since 1884. He leaves a large number of relatives to mourn his death. The funeral was held on Monday from the Swedish Bethna church in the town of Sigel and interment was made in Forest Hill Cemetery.
Mr. and Mrs. John Raymore of Rudolph are moving to the city this week and will make their home with the latter's mother, Mrs. Helmtz. Mr. Raymore, who was born and raised in Rudolph, where he has been in business for many years, was obliged to sell out his business some time ago, owing to his health and they are moving here with the hope that Mr. Raymore's health will improve.
The J. T. Welch family have packed up their household goods this week and shipped them to Marshfield where Mrs. Welch will take care of her sister, Mrs. Chas. Vagstad, this winter. Miss Verna has gone to Whitewater to attend the Normal and Lloyd will remain in this city and visit with Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Ragan, while Mr. Welch is expecting a position out of the city in the near future.

BIRTHS
A son to Mr. and Mrs. Carl Johnson, west side.
A daughter to Mr. and Mrs. John Brennan, Jr.
A son to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Halvorsen on Monday at Madison.
A son to Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Pantner on Friday.
—The Christian, Monday and Tuesday at Dalys.
Sept. 25
State of Wisconsin, Wood County, In Probate.
In the matter of the estate of Matt Schulte, late of the town of Rudolph, in said county of Wood, deceased, having been duly granted to Hannah Schulte by this court:
IT IS ORDERED, That the time from the date hereof until and including the 8th day of February, A. D. 1916, be and the same is hereby fixed as the time within which all creditors of the said Matt Schulte, deceased, shall present their claims for examination and allowance.
IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, That all claims and demands of all persons against the said Matt Schulte, deceased, be examined and adjusted before this court, at its Court Room in the Court House in the city of Grand Rapids, in said county, on the 12th day of February, 1916, and all creditors are hereby notified thereof.
IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, That notice of the time and place at which said claims and demands will be examined and adjusted as aforesaid, and of the time allowed for said creditors to present their claims and demands, be given by publishing a copy of this order and notice, for four consecutive weeks, once in each week, in the Grand Rapids Tribune, a newspaper published in said county, before the day fixed for said hearing.
Dated this 14th day of September, 1915.
By the Court, W. J. Conway, County Judge.
J. J. Jeffrey, Atty. for Executor.

"QUICK MEAL"
POLISHED STEEL RANGES
All Inner Flues are Porcelain Enameled
Over 15,000 now in use in Wood County
An Ornament for the Tidy House Wife
Durability and cleanliness are the special features of "Quick Meal" Stoves, with high closet, reservoir, pouch feed, and white enameled splash back.
The "Quick Meal" reservoir never sweats.
It cannot interfere with baking, as it has no dampers to interfere with the operating of the fire. Made with 16, 18 or 20-inch oven.
NASH HARDWARE CO.
West Side
Grand Rapids, Wisconsin

DRESS UP WEEK
We announce a seven day style show
BEGINNING SATURDAY OCT. 2nd
You young men and older men of youthful tastes, you're the ones in particular we invite to attend, you'll barely be able to believe that such handsome carefully made and truly wonderful clothes could be conceived at our popular
$10, $15 & $20 Prices
But if you will attend our style show the last day of this and all of next week, we'll show them to you and prove what we say. The fabrics are of the finest and liveliest ever constructed. There's a new coat of three buttons, buttoned high with short wide labels, single and double breasted vests--in fact all the newest ideas.
For Dress Up Week We Will Feature in Particular
All the newest shades and styles in hats. Ask to see our $3 Roswelle Hats. Every hat is guaranteed.
Most beautiful line of Shirts. High coloring are shown very strong this season.
Some of our customers began by "looking at our neckties". Try it yourself.
Saturday and all next week our store will be fully displayed with every thing that goes in the line of "Dress Up."
Come Saturday---the Big Day
BRAUER BROS. Clothes Shop

WASHINGTON OVERCOAT
© 1915, The L. S. Brown & Co. Ltd. London & N.Y.
OLYMPIAD SUIT
© 1915, The L. S. Brown & Co. Ltd. London & N.Y.

LOCAL ITEMS.

Mrs. M. J. Feavel has returned from a visit at Madison.

Owen Love and Wm. Slattery were Green Bay visitors on Sunday.

F. S. Bauer of the Sunny Side farm has purchased a Kriit touring car.

Mrs. Pauline Prockpitz and daughter Cella are visiting in Milwaukee this week.

Miss Ruth Livernash of Wausau visited at the F. J. Johnson home several days the past week.

Simon Stellmacher has sold his farm in the town of Sigel to Frank Cornwell of Beaver Dam.

Bogle and Laramie, proprietors of the Dixon Hotel barber shop have recently installed three new chairs in their place of business. The chairs are finished in white enamel, and present a very neat appearance.

GEO. L. WILLIAMS
ATTORNEY AT LAW
Office in Wood Block, over postoffice, Telephone No. 91. Grand Rapids, Wisconsin.

A. J. CROWNS
Attorney at Law
MacKinnon Block. Phone 836. Grand Rapids, Wis.

DRS. FAIRFIELD, BRATRAN & CO.
CLINIC BUILDING
GREEN BAY, WISCONSIN
DR. W. E. FAIRFIELD
DR. W. H. BRATRAN
Surgons
DR. C. W. WALKER
Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat
DR. R. L. COWLES
DR. W. E. LAFAPER
Internists
E. WHITE
Pathologist.

DR. S. E. COTTRILL
Veterinarian
Personal Attention Given All Work.
In old Garrison Barn on Third Ave. North. Residence phone 595. Office phone 388.

GOGGINS & BRAZEAU
ATTORNEYS AT LAW
Office in the MacKinnon Block on the West Side, Grand Rapids, Wisconsin. Telephone No. 104.

J. J. JEFFREY
LAWYER
Loans and Collections. Commercial and Probate Law. Office across from Church's Drug store.
Personal Attention Given All Work. Office phone 251. Residence 186.

J. R. RAGAN
Licensed Embalmer and Undertaker.
House phone No. 65, Store 312. Sparrow's Building, East Side. John Erwin. Residence phone No. 435.

DR. J. K. GOODRICH,
OSTEOPATHIC PHYSICIAN
Furnace west of Bank of Grand Rapids. Office hours: 9-12, 2-6, 7-9.

N. T. LYLE
Licensed Embalmer and Funeral Director.
Lady Attendant in vestment.
Office phone 885. Res. phone 886. Night Phone 886. Day Phone 886. Store on west side.

D. D. CONWAY
ATTORNEY AT LAW
Law, Loans, and Collections. We have 2,000 which will be loaned at a low rate of interest. Office over First National Bank, East Side, Grand Rapids, Wisconsin. Telephone 338.

J. R. MOORE
Photographer.
Opposite Wood County National Bank, 25 years behind the camera. It's not a day behind the times. Send your "Snap shots" and get professional service.

J. E. WHEELAN
ATTORNEY AT LAW
Office in Daily Block, East Side. Telephone No. 443. Grand Rapids.

EO. W. BAKER & SON
EMBALMERS
10th Second Street, East Side Grand Rapids, Wis. Business phone 401, night calls, 402.

Melvin Ruckle, M. D.
Practice Limited To EYE, EAR, NOSE AND THROAT
Examinations fitted correctly. Eye and Ear, Green, Riverview Hospital. Office Wood County Bank Building. Telephone No. 254.

WARD N. POMAINVILLE
Fire Insurance
Contracts. Real Estate. Loans.
MacKinnon Bldg. Grand Rapids, Wis.

Piano Forte Instructions
Primary and Advanced Students
ENROLL NOW
Call Them Starts Sept. 7 to 27

AYMOND VICKERS
Modern Methods
"Thorough and Reliable"
Phone 148 Address 541 Lincoln St.

COAL AND WOOD
The Best Grades at Reasonable Prices.
CALL US UP AT Phone 416 or 5

SSERT BROTHERS
WOOD AND COAL YARDS

—(Kress Thursday, Friday and Saturday at Ready-to-Wear Parlors, 201 Fourth Ave. S.)

Alfred, the little daughter of Mrs. O. T. Hough, is ill with scarlet fever.

Miss Alma Bissig has returned from a visit at the Andrew Bissig home in Berlin.

August Bantz, one of the prosperous farmers of Sigel, was a pleasant caller at this office on Friday.

Hon. W. D. Connor of Marshfield was in the city on Thursday to attend the funeral of Mrs. E. P. Gleason.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Nash of Stevens Point were in the city on Thursday to attend the funeral of Mrs. E. P. Gleason.

Wm. And son of the town of Saratoga was a pleasant caller at the Tribune office on Saturday while in the city on business.

James Jensen was in Milwaukee several days the past week trying to find out why they are not able to get any shipments of Ford cars.

Officer Berg of the West Side is enjoying a week's vacation which he is spending at his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Erick Berg, in the town of Sigel.

Bob Cody, of Janesville, former telegraph operator at the St. Paul depot is spending a week in the city a guest of Miss Ella W. Johnson.

Peter Krause left on Monday for Iowa, near which place he has purchased a farm. His farm is located about four miles east of Iowa on R. D. No. 3.

At a special election held at Mosinee last week the proposition to increase the saloon license from $200 to $500 was defeated by a vote of 820 in favor to 104 against.

George McMillan left on Friday for Berlin where he was to be joined by one of his old comrades, and from there will proceed to Washington to attend the G. A. R. encampment.

Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Perch of Carnegie, Penn., are spending two weeks visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Klappa at Blron and the Lucas and Mike Perch homes in the town of Sigel.

Mrs. Andrew Socha entertained at a "Variety Show" at her home on the west side on Friday evening in honor of Miss Edith Negolski, who is to be married in October to Albin Stewart.

Friends, we stake our reputation on Barker's, Kennedy for Coughs, Colds, Catarrh and Rheumatism, for the reason that it's the best on earth and nothing better can we offer you. Johnson & Hill Co.

E. C. Vallin, one of the progressive farmers of the town of Sigel, was among the pleasant callers at this office on Friday. Mr. Vallin reports that things are not as wet as would be expected out his way in spite of the frequent rains.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Lyon left on Friday for the east, expecting to take in the G. A. R. encampment at Washington, D. C., visiting Niagara Falls and other points of interest. They will probably be gone a couple of weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Smith are remodeling their home on the east side. Among the improvements will be a modern heating plant. The family are occupying the Durach residence while the improvements are being made.

Nels Larsen, one of the solid farmers of the town of Sigel, favored this office with a pleasant call on Saturday. Mr. Larsen informed us that his crops were good this year with the exception of potatoes, which were rotting from the excessive wet weather.

The Stevens Point lodge of Elks have made arrangements with the Miller Draper, Bennett Mastro Co. of New York to put on a minstrel show on the evening of October 25 and 26th. This same company are staging minstrels for the Minneapolis and St. Paul Elks.

"The wonderful 8 part, Feature Photo play, 'The Hustler', will be presented at the Daily Theatre, Monday and Tuesday.

W. K. Wheelan, who has been spending several weeks in the north to escape his annual attack of hay fever, returned to this city on Saturday. Mr. Wheelan spent a part of his time at Saint Ste. Marie and at other points and reports that he is feeling fine.

Rev. Wm. Nommensen was in Marshfield on Sunday to attend the dedication of the new parsonage of Emmanuel's Lutheran church and also the thirty-fifth anniversary of Rev. Thom as pastor. Rev. Nommensen delivered an address in English at the evening service.

A free lecture will be given at the new Church of the Holy Christian Scientists. The lecture will be given by Wm. R. Rutherford, of Denver, of the Board of Christian Science Lectureship. The occasion will be Sunday afternoon, October 3rd and all are cordially invited.

Therry Case, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Case, departed on Friday for Denfeld, Minn., where he accompanied home his cousin, Willie Lappan, who has been a guest at the Case home for the past three weeks. From there Therry goes to Huron, S. D., and other points, where he will visit for several weeks.

Joseph Bissig of City Point was in the city on Thursday looking after some business matters. Mr. Bissig reports that he had harvested their entire crop of cranberries, and they were about 1,500 barrels, which was fully up to what the estimate had been earlier in the season.

A new law was passed by the legislature, allowing a bounty to be paid people at the county home. At Merrill the past week, Fred Gallatin, an old resident of Lincoln county made application to Judge Porter and was allowed to go to the home, paying his board to the present time. There have been no applications from Wood county.

Nellsville voted for a $500 saloon license last week, $500 license getting a majority over $200 license of 21 votes. The election was devoid of any particular excitement or interest, but 243 votes were cast. Of this number high license received 182 and low license received 161. The new license will take effect next July.

Mrs. Edward Bodette entertained a number of her friends and neighbors at her home on Washington Ave. on Thursday evening, in honor of her mother, Mrs. Wm. Lake, and sister, Miss Emma Lake. The evening was pleasantly spent at auction bridge after which refreshments were served. Mrs. A. L. Fontaines and Mrs. Wm. Burchell carried off the honors at cards and those present spent a most delightful evening.

A successful Mission Festival was held in the Scandinavian Moravian church last Sunday. Good sized audiences assembled both morning and evening. The Rev. E. F. Helmich of Sturgeon Bay delivered English sermons on both occasions. At the morning service the Revs. Chr. Madson and H. B. Johnson spoke in Scandinavian. Having this week, from Monday until Friday, next July, E. F. Helmich is delivering Bible expository lectures.

—Coming to Daly's Theatre, Monday and Tuesday, The Christian, 3 part photo play.

Mrs. L. A. DeGuerre has returned from a trip to Appleton.

A. J. Cowell is spending several days fishing at Bear Lake.

Mrs. George Olson visited in Wausau on Sunday and Monday.

Chas. Matthews visited with his parents in Green Bay on Sunday.

George Loock departed on Friday for Chicago to spend two weeks with Mrs. Chas. Frost of Everett, Wash. as a guest at the Grant Backus home.

Mrs. W. T. Nobles has been confined to her bed for several days with sickness.

Dr. Kickbush spent Sunday at Wausau where he had gone on professional business.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Panter of Wausau visited with relatives in this city on Sunday.

Walter Wolke, of Tomahawk, broke a leg in football practice in that city on Saturday.

Mrs. A. L. Ridgman has gone to Rush City, Minn., for a two weeks' visit with her brother.

Wm. Lester, ex-city treasurer, was in the city on Tuesday to attend the doings about town.

Miss Louise Noetzel visited at the home of her sister, Mrs. Kussorow at New London on Sunday.

Harry Thomas of Sherry was in the city on Tuesday on business. He made the trip in his auto.

Miss Otto Heinske will spend the winter with her mother at Glidden, who is in very poor health.

Mr. and Mrs. John Martin and family returned on Sunday from an auto trip of several days to Appleton.

Dr. W. M. Ruckle spent several days the past week in Chicago looking after some business matters.

Dr. Anthony Looze has returned to St. Louis after a weeks' visit with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. Looze.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Fisher autoed to Waupaca on Sunday and spent the day at the E. A. Hannon home.

Arthur Raymond and sister Laura drove over from Arnot on Sunday in their auto and spent the day with friends here.

Mrs. J. B. Mull has returned from Bushnell, Ill., where she was called three weeks ago by the illness of her mother.

—Special showing of Coats, Suits and Fur at Ready-to-Wear Parlors, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, 201 4th Ave. S.

James B. Hastings of Kellner was among the brief callers at the Tribune office on Tuesday while in the city taking in the festivities.

A. J. Freund is expected to arrive here from Appleton this week where he has been for three weeks, having submitted to a surgical operation.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Canning entertained on Monday evening in honor of Mrs. Wm. Lake and daughter, Miss Emma, of Kwaunee.

Louis Peyrouse and L. A. Berdall returned on Saturday night from Rhineland where they have been employed for some time by L. A. DeGuerre.

Miss Anna Sandman, bookkeeper at the Stevens Point Journal office, has returned to her duties after a two weeks' visit in the city with her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Lyle, accompanied by Mrs. Carl Kisla of the town of Seneca, have returned from an auto trip to Ripon, Berlin and Green Lake.

Mrs. Mrs. Anton Brost of Babcock drove up in their auto on Sunday and spent the day with their daughter and son who are attending school in the city.

M. A. Leahy left on Saturday for Washington, D. C., where he will attend the G. A. R. encampment and also visit with his son, Lieut. Commander Leahy, who is now stationed at Washington.

Judge Byron Park of Stevens Point in company with L. M. Nash and E. J. Wood of this city and Conductor Gid Little of New Lisbon are spending several days at the Gid Little resort north of Tomahawk hunting partridges.

E. J. Weinbauer has been engaged by the city as inspector to look after the cement work that will be done on the west side pavement. Mr. Weinbauer has had considerable experience in cement work, having been employed by the Bossert company.

George Huntington, of Bishop, Cal., is in the city visiting his brother, Dr. M. Huntington and other old friends. Mr. Huntington has charge of an electrical plant out in California and expects to return there after about a week more in this section.

The farm belonging to Mrs. Frank Preuss was on Monday sold to Frank Kus of Milwaukee. Mrs. Preuss is taking in part payment some Milwaukee property. Mr. Kus has taken possession of the farm, which is located in the town of Seneca.

Merrill News.—The engagement has been announced of Miss Elizabeth Plantz of Wausau to Mr. George Fay of Milwaukee. Miss Plantz is well known in this city where she was employed for some time as stenographer for the Heinemann Lumber Co.

Jon Cepress, who has been in the employ of Link & Werle for a number of years past, has purchased the eighty acre farm from his father-in-law, Carl Singer, near Auburndale, and expects to move his family on the same this week and go to farming. Mr. Cepress has purchased a team and a number of good cows the past week and will take them with him.

The Good Roads committee of the Merchants and Manufacturers' association received their new tractor during the past week, and it has been tried to a limited extent in pulling a drag on the city streets. It is said to work in fine shape, and it is expected that a great deal of work will be accomplished by the new implement.

At Kronstadt, one of the pioneer settlers of the town of Sigel, died at his home on Saturday morning. Deceased was 75 years of age and had been a resident of Sigel since 1844. He leaves a large number of relatives to mourn his death. The funeral was held on Monday from the Swedish Betnia church in the town of Sigel and interment was made in Forest Hill Cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. John Rayome of Rudolph are moving to the city this week and will take their home with the latter's mother, Mrs. Helma. Mr. Rayome, who was born and raised in Rudolph, where he has been in business for many years, was obliged to sell his business some time ago, owing to his health and they are moving here with the hope that Mr. Rayome's health will improve.

The J. T. Welch family have packed up their household goods this week and shipped them to Marshfield where Mrs. Welch will take care of her sister, Mrs. Chas. Vaughan this winter. Miss Verna has gone to Whitewater to attend the Normal and Lloyd will remain in this city and stay with Mrs. J. T. Rayome while Mr. Welch is expecting a position out of the city in the near future.

BIRTHS

A son to Mr. and Mrs. Carl Johnson, west side.

A daughter to Mr. and Mrs. John Brennan, Jr.

A son to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Halvorsen on Monday at Madison.

A son to Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Panter on Friday.

—The Christian, Monday and Tuesday at Dalys.

Sept. 20 Oct. 20
State of Wisconsin, Wood County, In Probate.
In the matter of the Estate of Matt Schiltz, late of the town of Rudolph, in said county of Wood, deceased, having been duly granted to Hannah Schiltz by this court.

IT IS ORDERED, That the time from the date hereof until and including the 8th day of February, A. D. 1915, be and the same is hereby fixed as the time within which all creditors of the said Matt Schiltz, deceased, shall present their claims for examination and allowance.

AND IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, That all claims and demands of all persons against the said Matt Schiltz, deceased, be examined and adjusted before this court, at its Court Room in the Court House in the City of Grand Rapids, in said County, at the regular term thereof appointed to be held on the third Tuesday of February, 1915, and all creditors are hereby notified thereof.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, That notice of the time and place at which said claims and demands will be examined and adjusted as aforesaid, and of the time above limited for said creditors to present their claims and demands be given by publishing a copy of this order and notice, for four consecutive weeks, once in each week, in the Grand Rapids Tribune, a newspaper published in said county, before the day fixed for said hearing.

Dated this 14th day of September, 1915.
By the Court, W. J. Conway, County Judge.
J. J. Jeffrey, Atty. for Executor.

Sept. 15 Sept. 29
Wood County Court, in Probate.
In the matter of the estate of Catherine Hamm, deceased.
On reading and filing the application of John Hollander, executor of the Last Will and Testament of Catherine Hamm, dec'd., representing among other things that she has fully administered the said estate, praying that a time and place be fixed for examining and allowing her account of her administration, and that the residue of the said estate be assigned to such persons as are by law entitled to the same.

IT IS ORDERED, That said application be heard before this court, at a term thereof to be held at the probate office, in the city of Grand Rapids, on the 15th day of October, 1915, at 10 o'clock a. m.

AND IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, That notice of the time and place of examining and allowing said account and of assigning the residue of said estate, be given to all persons interested, by publication of a copy of this order for three successive weeks, in the Grand Rapids Tribune, a newspaper published in said county, before the day fixed for said hearing.

Dated this 14th day of Sept., 1915.
By the Court, W. J. Conway, County Judge.
J. J. Jeffrey Public Administrator.

Sept. 15 Sept. 29
Wood County Court, in Probate.
In the matter of the estate of Frank Freda, deceased.
On reading and filing the application of Joseph F. Chapple, representing among other things that he has fully administered the said estate, and praying that a time and place be fixed for examining and allowing his account of his administration, and that the residue of the said estate be assigned to such persons as are entitled to the same.

IT IS ORDERED, That said application be heard before this court, at a regular term thereof to be held at the probate office, in the city of Grand Rapids, on the 15th day of October, 1915, at 10 o'clock a. m.

AND IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, That notice of the time and place of examining and allowing said account and of assigning the residue of said estate, be given to all persons interested, by publication of a copy of this order, for three successive weeks, in the Grand Rapids Tribune, a newspaper published in said county, before the day fixed for said hearing.

Dated this 14th day of September, 1915.
By the Court, W. J. Conway, County Judge.
A. J. Crowns, Atty. for Estate.

Sept. 15 Sept. 29
Wood County Court, in Probate.
In the matter of the estate of Fred Ruesch, deceased.
On reading and filing the application of Katherine Ruesch, Executor of the Last Will and Testament of Fred Ruesch, deceased, representing among other things that she has fully administered the said estate, praying that a time and place be fixed for examining and allowing her account of her administration, and that the residue of the said estate be assigned to such persons as are by law entitled to the same.

IT IS ORDERED, That said application be heard before this court, at a term thereof to be held at the probate office, in the city of Grand Rapids, on the 15th day of October, 1915, at 10 o'clock a. m.

AND IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, That notice of the time and place of examining and allowing said account and of assigning the residue of said estate, be given to all persons interested, by publication of a copy of this order for three successive weeks, in the Grand Rapids Tribune, a newspaper published in said county, before the day fixed for said hearing.

Dated this 14th day of September, 1915.
By the Court, W. J. Conway, County Judge.
J. J. Jeffrey, Atty. for Executor.

Sept. 22 Oct. 27
State of Wisconsin, In Circuit Court for Wood County, Summons.
William H. Schmitt, Plaintiff, vs. Charles E. Briere, Defendant.
The State of Wisconsin To The Said Defendant:
You are hereby summoned to appear within twenty days after service of this summons, exclusive of day of service, and defend the above entitled action, in the Court Room in the Court House in the City of Grand Rapids, Wisconsin, at the regular term of said court, to be held on the 27th day of October, A. D. 1915, at 10 o'clock A. M.

AND IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, That notice of the time and place appointed for hearing said application be given to all persons interested by publishing a copy of this order for three weeks successively in the Grand Rapids Tribune, a newspaper published in said county, previous to the time appointed for said hearing.

By the Court, W. J. Conway, County Judge.
J. J. Jeffrey, Public Administrator.

Sept. 15 Sept. 29
State of Wisconsin, Wood County Court, In Probate.
In the matter of the estate of Emma E. Johnson, deceased.
On this 14th day of September, A. D. 1915, upon reading and filing the petition of Edward Johnson stating that Emma E. Johnson, of the County of Wood, died intestate, on or about the 5th day of December, 1914, and praying that Edward Johnson be appointed administrator of the estate of said deceased.

IT IS ORDERED, That said application be heard before me, at the Probate office in the City of Grand Rapids on the 15th day of October, A. D. 1915, at 10 o'clock A. M.

AND IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, That notice of the time and place appointed for hearing said application be given to all persons interested by publishing a copy of this order for three weeks successively in the Grand Rapids Tribune, a newspaper published in said county, previous to the time appointed for said hearing.

By the Court, W. J. Conway, County Judge.
J. J. Jeffrey, Public Administrator.

Sept. 15 Sept. 29
State of Wisconsin, Wood County Court, In Probate.
In the matter of the estate of Wilhelm Plunkal, deceased.
On this 14th day of September, A. D. 1915, upon reading and filing the petition of J. J. Jeffrey, Public Administrator stating that Wilhelm Plunkal of the County of Wood, died intestate, on or about the 24th day of February, 1915, and praying that some suitable person be appointed administrator of the estate of said deceased.

IT IS ORDERED, That said application be heard before me, at the probate office in the city of Grand Rapids on the 15th day of October, A. D. 1915, at 10 o'clock A. M.

AND IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, That notice of the time and place appointed for hearing said application be given to all persons interested by publishing a copy of this order for three weeks successively in the Grand Rapids Tribune, a newspaper published in said county, previous to the time appointed for said hearing.

By the Court, W. J. Conway, County Judge.
J. J. Jeffrey, Public Administrator.

Sept. 15 Sept. 29
State of Wisconsin, In Circuit Court for Wood County, Summons.
Michael McDonald, Plaintiff, vs. Felix Berard, Defendant, First National Bank, A Wisconsin Corporation, Garnishee, Summons.
The State of Wisconsin, To Said Defendant:
You are hereby summoned to appear within twenty (20) days after service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service, and defend the above entitled action in the court aforesaid; and in case of your failure so to do judgment will be rendered against you according to the demand of the complaint.

Chas. E. Briere, Plaintiff's Atty.
P. O. Address: Grand Rapids, Wood County, Wisconsin.

State of Wisconsin, Wood County Court, In Probate.
In the matter of the last Will and Testament of Frank Lupa, deceased, late of Town of Sigel, County of Wood, State of Wisconsin, has been filed in this office.

AND WHEREAS, Application has been made by Cella Lupa praying that the same be proven and admitted to probate, according to the laws of this State, and that letters testamentary be granted thereon according to law.

IT IS ORDERED, That said application be heard before this Court, at a regular term thereof, to be held at the Probate Office in the City of Grand Rapids, on the 20th day of October, A. D. 1915, at 10 o'clock A. M.

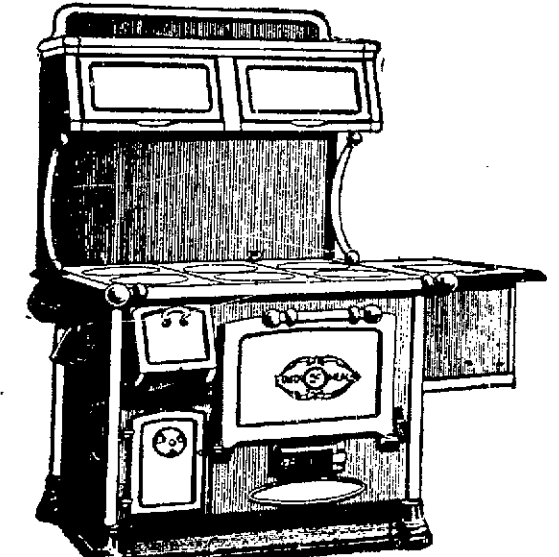

AND IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, That notice of the time and place appointed for hearing said application be given to all persons interested, by publishing a copy of this order for three weeks successively, in the Grand Rapids Tribune, a newspaper printed and published in said County, previous to said hearing.

Dated September 28th, 1915.
By the Court, W. J. Conway, County Judge.
Chas. E. Briere, Atty. for Petitioner.

"QUICK MEAL"

POLISHED STEEL RANGES

All Inner Flues are Porcelain Enameled

Over 15,000 now in use in Wood County

Ask Anyone using a "Quick Meal" how it cooks.

An Ornament for the Tidy House Wife

Durability and cleanliness are the special features of "Quick Meal" Stoves, with high closet, reservoir, pouch feed, and white enameled splash back.

The "Quick Meal" reservoir never sweats.

It cannot interfere with baking, as it has no dampers to interfere with the operating of the fire. Made with 16, 18 or 20-inch oven.

NASH HARDWARE CO.

West Side
Grand Rapids, Wisconsin

DRESS UP WEEK

We announce a seven day style show

BEGINNING SATURDAY OCT. 2nd

You young men and older men of youthful tastes, you're the ones in particular we invite to attend, you'll barely be able to believe that such handsome carefully made and trully wonderful clothes could be conceived at our popular

$10, $15 & $20 Prices

But if you will attend our style show the last day of this and all of next week, we'll show them to you and prove what we say. The fabrics are of the finest and liveliest ever constructed. There's a new coat of three buttons, buttoned high with short wide labels, single and double breasted vests--in fact all the newest ideas.

WASHINGTON OVERCOAT

For Dress Up Week We Will Feature in Particular

All the newest shades and styles in Most beautiful line of Shirts. Some of our customers began by hats. Ask to see our $3 Roswell High coloring are shown very "looking at our neckties". Try it Hats. Every hat is guaranteed. strong this season.

Saturday and all next week our store will be fully displayed with every thing that goes in the line of "Dress Up." Come Saturday---the Big Day

BRAUER BROS.

Clothes Shop

The Best Grades at Reasonable Prices.

CALL US UP AT Phone 416 or 5

SSERT BROTHERS
WOOD AND COAL YARDS

A Business Opportunity

Every person in the world is at some time confronted with an opportunity to go into business for himself--merchandise, farming, law or something.

If he doesn't take advantage of the opportunity it is usually for lack of ready money.

Our Savings Department has given many people their start and would be glad to serve YOU.

Call and talk it over.

First National Bank,
Grand Rapids, Wis.

"The bank that does things for you."

Joe Cepress, who has been in the employ of Link & Werle for a number of years past, has purchased the eighty acre farm from his father-in-law, Carl Singer, near Auburndale, and expects to move his family on the same this week and go to farming. Mr. Cepress has purchased a team and a number of good cows the past week and will take them with him.

The Good Roads committee of the Merchants and Manufacturers' association received their new tractor during the past week, and it has been tried to a limited extent in pulling a drag on the city streets. It is said to work in fine shape, and it is expected that a great deal of work will be accomplished by the new implement.

At Kronstadt, one of the pioneer settlers of the town of Sigel, died at his home on Saturday morning. Deceased was 75 years of age and had been a resident of Sigel since 1844. He leaves a large number of relatives to mourn his death. The funeral was held on Monday from the Swedish Betnia church in the town of Sigel and interment was made in Forest Hill Cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. John Rayome of Rudolph are moving to the city this week and will take their home with the latter's mother, Mrs. Helma. Mr. Rayome, who was born and raised in Rudolph, where he has been in business for many years, was obliged to sell his business some time ago, owing to his health and they are moving here with the hope that Mr. Rayome's health will improve.

The J. T. Welch family have packed up their household goods this week and shipped them to Marshfield where Mrs. Welch will take care of her sister, Mrs. Chas. Vaughan this winter. Miss Verna has gone to Whitewater to attend the Normal and Lloyd will remain in this city and stay with Mrs. J. T. Rayome while Mr. Welch is expecting a position out of the city in the near future.